Frosh Cars Banned From Parking Lots

Widesweeping changes in student-faculty parking regulations on the K-State campus are now in effect. Major changes include restriction of all freshmen and other students living in close-in campus housing from parking on campus, payment of a $2 fee for parking permits, and addition of a system of monetary fines for traffic violations.

The new regulations were drawn up in the Kansas attorney general's office for the state supported schools. Although the K-State changes were put in effect September 1 the Board of Regents still must give final approval.

A Traffic and Security office, located in room 105 of the power plant, has been established for the first time at the College and Roger Ward has been appointed as a full-time campus officer. Another change is the reservation of an additional row in the Union parking lot for faculty and staff.

All motor vehicles operated by students on campus streets or parked in the lot west of the stadium must be registered in the traffic office within 48 hours of driving on the campus and identified with current permits. Those wishing to park in campus parking areas other than the lot west of the stadium between 7 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and until 1 p.m. on Saturday must be registered and also purchase a parking permit from the office.

Freshmen and also students living in Northwest, Southeast, and Van Zile dormitories and Hilltop courts are no longer permitted to park on campus.

A system of fines ranging from $2 to $16 has been set up, after students felt that the former probation and suspension from school arrangement, were not suitable traffic penalties. Under the new system the first ticket for disobeying regulations is a warning. The second ticket requires a $2 fine which is doubled for each of the next three violations. Along with the $16 fine for the fifth ticket the vehicle may be towed away at the owner's expense. The previous record was 247 pledged in 1955, while only 222 pledged last year. A tenth sorority, Clovia, does not participate in Fall rush.

Alpha Delta Pi had the largest sorority pledge class with 33

Greeks Add 611 Pledges During Rush Activities

A record number of women, 250, pledged K-State's nine sororities during rush week, while 361 of the 400 men being rushed by the 21 fraternities pledged.

The addition of a new sorority, Gamma Phi Beta, permitted more coeds to pledge than ever before. Mary Frances White, adviser to Panhellenic council, said. The previous record was 247 pledged in 1955, while only 222 pledged last year. A tenth sorority, Clovia, does not participate in Fall rush.

pledges, followed by Kappa Delta with 31 and Kappa Kappa Gamma with 29.

Although the number of fraternity pledges was smaller than last year's 397, for the second year in a row more than 90 per cent of those going through rush week pledged, said V. D. Foltz, faculty adviser to fraternities. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was high with a pledge class of 38, followed by Pi Kappa Alpha with 28 and Sigma Phi Epsilon with 27.

Positions Available On Yearbook Staff

Students interested in working on the 1958 Royal Purple should see Marcia Boyd, editor, K 103c, or Marcia Sowers, business manager, K 103b. Vacancies are available on both the business and editorial staffs. One hour of college credit is given.

New Associate Dean Begins Duties

No big changes are planned in the program for women students this fall, according to Dr. Margaret Noble Lahey, K-State's new associate dean of students. "I think in most cases any changes in student program should be decided by student opinion," she said.

Replacing the title of dean of women by the title associate dean of students is merely following a pattern which is pretty well established throughout the country, Dr. Lahey said. However, she explained that most of her responsibility will be with the women students.

Dr. Lahey, 37, was dean of women at Colorado State college from 1953 until 1956, when she resigned to continue graduate work in educational psychology at the University of Minnesota, where she received her Ph.D.

The new K-State associate dean of students was reared at Minneapolis, Minn. She received her B.S. in English at the University of Minnesota in 1941.

She has worked as an English librarian, as an assistant to a media director for an advertising agency, and has served from 1944 to 1946 with the supply corps of the United States Navy at Philadelphia.

From 1947 to 1950 Dr. Lahey was program director for the student activities center at Washington State college. She was a counselor and part-time instructor at the University of Minnesota College of Education from 1950 to 1953 while working on her masters degree.

Mill Razing Might Start This Week

Razing of the gutted skeleton of K-State's flour mill which was destroyed by fire August 25 will begin today if weather conditions remain good, according to K-State business manager Daniel Beatty.

The north, east, and west walls of the flour mill will be torn down and debris will be cleared by a contractor for $13,160. The south wall will be left until it is determined whether the rest of east Waters will be torn down or not.

According to Beatty, a committee consisting of acting president Arthur D. Weber, acting

Acting President 'Dad' Weber Offers Greetings, Best Wishes

At the outset, I should like to convey to students, faculty, and employees President James A. McCain's warmest greetings and best wishes. He is looking forward to late October when he will be back on campus to share his experiences as an Eisenhower fellow with us. All of you, I know, would want to join with me in wishing for him and his family the most pleasant of experiences as they complete their European tour, and a safe trip home.

For myself, it is a pleasure indeed to greet K-State students, old and new, and to wish for each of you continued success and much happiness in all that you undertake this academic year. Please be assured of my interest in your activities and problems and of my desire to be helpful whenever possible.

—Dr. Arthur D. Weber, acting President.

SGA President Scott Anticipates Growth, Improvement for K-State

AS WE RETURN to college, or in the case of new students, begin our college careers, doubtless we are full of anticipation of a year of growth and improvement both for ourselves and for Kansas State college.

This will be a year of change and improvement in many areas. One noticeable change is that of traffic regulations. In view of the facts, I feel the new regulations will help remedy the problems brought on by an increasing number of cars.

Of major concern to students is the KSC-KSU name change. The realization of this possibility will be due largely to the response on the part of you students. Student Council will be responsible for this only to the extent that Student Council members are your elected members—elected to represent your wishes. It is your obligation as a student and representative of Kansas State college to inform yourself and make the decision concerning the change that will be of most benefit to you.

THE PRIDE of all K-Staters, of course, is our athletic teams. We are anticipating great things from the Purple and White, and here's predicting many victories—including victories against the University of Kansas.

It is my wish that each of you will take an interest in your student government. Student government should be part of the total educational experience of every student. Many committee applications are now being taken. Come up to the Student Governing association office in the activities center in the Union, and discuss your ideas concerning student government.

Good luck to you all, and may K-State live up to your expectations and may you live up to K-State's expectations.—Neil Scott.

Collegian Staff Says 'Welcome,' Looks for an Eventful Semester

WELL, HERE WE GO again. Another nine months of opportunity is upon us. To first semester freshmen and transfer students as well as to KSC veterans the Collegian staff wishes to extend a hearty welcome.

To K-State's over-worked, under-paid faculty and staff, we extend a hearty challenge. With some 7,000 students at K-State, the faculty will be taxed to the limit.

As a student-manned publication, the Collegian will do its best to represent and protect K-Staters. If you should disagree with our purported support or protection, we invite you to pen your criticism to us in care of the editor, Kedzie hall. Please hold your temper to 250 words or less and keep those words in good taste. We reserve the right to edit letters to the editor to conform to Collegian style.

The Collegian is a laboratory, as much as a physics or chemistry lab. Therefore, there will doubtless be errors and a certain amount of trial and error. But bear with us, or better yet, inform us of our mistakes.

TJ ENROLLMENT is not large—and—there can't be a reporter at every meeting. If your organization elects new officers or your roommate gets pinned, drop in and leave us a note.

The Collegian goes to press at approximately noon every Monday through Friday. Papers will be delivered to pickup points in West Waters, Anderson, Seaton, and Calvin halls.

ALTHOUGH THE COLLEGIAN stands for backing freshmen as well as upperclassmen, with the ban on frosh parking, maybe graying seniors can find places to park their cars.

While we're on a parking kick, we've noticed the faculty has routed their bread and butter (students that is) from another row in the Union parking lot, and that parking privileges cost $2. I hated to pay cash for the right to park across the street from Nichols, but the campus patrol was selling the permits so I thought I'd better buy one.

The Union parking lot has received its annual coat of oil which does nothing more than harden the sides of holes and give them enough strength to bend wheel rims.

Cigarettes in the Union have gone up to 26 cents giving you four pennies to rattle around in your pocket or purse. However, the quality of Union coffee remains the same. . . .

THE COLLEGIAN is the only newspaper on the campus and since you've already paid the subscription fee along with the enrollment fee, you may feel the Collegian will present a one-sided account of the news. I will herewith guarantee the Collegian is a mouthpiece for no organization or faction.

The Collegian is independent of everyone but the students. We are one of the very few uncensored college daily newspapers left in the U.S. and we owe allegiance to no one but our subscribers—the students.

So, barring the possibility of the Physical Plant converting our newsroom into a parking lot for pre-war faculty automobiles, expect the Collegian to at least come out this semester.—Roger Myers.

World News Briefs

U.S., Red China Agree To Admit Newsmen

By UNITED PRESS

Geneva, Switzerland—The United States and Red China agreed today to admit newsmen to each other's country on a reciprocal basis to promote mutual understanding, Communist Chinese authorities announced here.

The announcement was made at a special press briefing called by the Communist Chinese delegation following today's 70th session of the prolonged Sino-American talks, which began in Geneva August 1, 1955.

Reading from a prepared text, a Red Chinese spokesman said: "Ambassador Wang Ping-Nan, on behalf of the government of the People's Republic of China, and Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, on behalf of the government of the United States, agreed to announce that the government of the People's Republic of China and the government of the U.S. agreed to give permission on an equal basis for correspondents of the other side to enter their respective countries for news coverage in order to promote mutual understanding between the peoples of China and the United States."

Telegraphic Tabloids

By UNITED PRESS

Burbank, Calif.—Oscar Hovland attributes his loss of $50 to inflation.

Hovland lost his wallet with $85 on a bus 12 years ago but when the wallet was found on a bus yesterday it contained only $35.

Chicago—A lamp post sitting smack in the middle of railroad tracks that lead nowhere caused quite a bit of mystery.

Railroad officials finally explained that the lamp post would be removed and the tracks connected to another line before trains start running.

West Point, Miss.—James Anderson, 22, is persona non grata in West Point, and all because of his efforts to promote trade.

Anderson was fined $500 and ordered out of town after being convicted of holding a policeman at pistol-point while offering him $500 down and $100 a week to allow bootlegging in one part of town.

Hoffa in as Teamsters' Boss, U.P. Poll Shows

Washington—Rivals of teamster chieftain James R. Hoffa in the race for Teamsters union president have only scattered backing from barred Negroes from Central high.

A poll of a dozen major centers of teamster strength indicated that Hoffa, tough-talking midwest vice-president of the Union, has more than twice as many delegate votes lined up than all three of his rivals together.

Arkansas Governor Faubus To Meet Ike

Newport, R.I.—President Eisenhower today set a dramatic stage in this staid social resort—a meeting with Gov. Orval E. Faubus that could end Arkansas integration controversy.

Faubus asked the vacation White House to set up a meeting with the President and the men around Eisenhower were more than happy to comply.

Faubus was expected to meet the President here at the Newport Navy base late Friday or Saturday morning.

Members of the White House staff had thought for several days that there would be a "break" in the Arkansas school impasse, a development which might give the governor "room" in the federal-state conflict over whether Negroes should be admitted to Central high school in Little Rock. Thus far National guardsmen have barred Negroes from central high.

Mill Razing To Start Soon

dean of agriculture Glenn Beck, superintendent R. F. Gingrich, and state architect John Brink, plus another architect and a construction engineer, will meet after the mill is razed to recommend action to be taken with the remainder of the burned building.

"If it is decided to rebuild the interior," Beatty said, "a roof will have to be constructed to protect it." The other alternative the committee can recommend to the Board of Regents is to raze the rest of the building and rebuild from scratch, according to Beatty.

The fire destroyed five classrooms and eight instructional laboratories which will necessitate rescheduling of 123 classes and labs to other parts of the campus. The fire destroyed 47 offices, two reading rooms, and 15 vaults and storage rooms.

"We can take care of the immediate demand for labs and classrooms through temporary facilities in the old livestock pavilion and Willard Hall," Dr. John Shellenberger, head of Flour and Feed Milling Industries, said. "But immediate plans will have to be made to replace the equipment lost or we will not be able to continue our program properly."

When asked to estimate the loss, Shellenberger said, "We could go through our inventory to find the cost of the equipment, but the figure reached would be below the actual cost because of the installation expenses."

Dr. Floyd Smith, an agronomy professor, denied that 50 years of agronomy research records were lost in the flames. "But personal research was lost by personnel working on master's and doctor's degrees," he said.

6,790 Staters Expected

With 6,506 students enrolled at the end of the regular period yesterday and 300 late enrollees expected, the fall semester's enrollment should reach 6,790, according to Ellsworth M. Gerritz, director of admissions and registrar.

"Of the 325 pre-enrollees who haven't come yet, we expect 250-275 to come late," he said. These, together with other late students who are not pre-enrolled, should total 300. However, late students will have to pay an additional fee.

This year's enrollment is up somewhat from last fall's final figure of 6,526 students, he said.

According to Robert A. Anderson, assistant director of admissions, 3,835 students took advantage of pre-enrollment. Of these, 2,520 were returning students and 1,315 were freshmen or transfer students.

Working with Sports

Jay Workman

Well, we've all been welcomed back to school, etc., and the K-State football season opens in eight days in Laramie, Wyoming. A new staff is being broken in on the sports page for the fall semester and we are writing this column for the first time.

The column will be our own opinion. It will include ideas and facts not included in the straight news stories found elsewhere on the page. We hope to publish one column a week for the remainder of the semester.

Any suggestions or criticisms are welcome and can be mailed to the Sports Editor, Kansas State Collegian, Manhattan, or brought to the sports desk in the Kedzie hall newsroom.

The second team may have Joe Vader and George Laddish at ends, Harold Riechers and Ralph Lambing at tackles, Bob Schmidt and Ralph Peluso at guards, Dean Skaer at center, Dick Allen and George Whitney at halfbacks, Keith Wilson at quarterback, and Ray Glaze at fullback.

The Cats drop to one-a-day workouts today with the start of classes. They will run a full-scale scrimmage in Memorial Stadium Saturday behind locked gates.

K-State will get a cross-sampling of football's best-known offenses this year. They are to face some form of the T-formation in six games, meet the single wing once, and the "multiple offense" three times.

Cardinals Closing in On Braves

By UNITED PRESS

Dig those crazy Cardinals! They're going full speed ahead with pennant plans of their own even though Milwaukee already has the official okay to print its World Series tickets.

The way the Cards are rolling now, the Braves may have to burn those ducats, just as they did a year ago.

Freddie Hutchinson's resurgent Redbirds have won seven of their last eight and Milwaukee's lead over them has now shrunk to 4 1/2 games. What's more, the Braves begin a three-game series with Brooklyn tonight and the third-place Dodgers still nurse faint pennant hopes of their own.

The Cardinals really did a job on the Phillies last night in crushing them, 14-6, for their fourth victory in a row. They routed ex-teammate Harvey Haddix with a six-run rally in the third inning and then scored six more runs in the fourth.

Del Ennis chipped in with his 22nd and 23rd homers of the campaign and Wally Moon belted his 21st. Between them, Ennis and Moon have slammed seven homers in the last three games. Herm Wehmeier was the winner although he was relieved in the eighth inning.

Frosh Grid Work Starts

Freshmen men interested in going out for the freshman football team should check out equipment in east stadium as soon as possible. Practice gets underway at 8:30 this afternoon.

Head coach Bus Mertes, said, "anyone that wants to try out is more than welcome."

The Cat frosh have games scheduled with KU and Nebraska.

Fall Intramurals To Start October 3

Intramurals for the fall semester will begin with touch football on October 3, followed by tennis, horseshoes, and handball, which start October 7. Golf starts October 12.

Director of Intramurals Frank Myers has called a meeting of all intramural managers for next Monday at 7 p.m. on the third floor of Ahearn gymnasium.

Other sports offered in the intramural program are basketball, free throw, badminton, volleyball, table tennis, tennis, horseshoes, handball, softball, and outdoor track.

Call Out for Thinclads

Men who would like to go out for the varsity or freshman cross country team should see assistant track coach Herman Wilson as soon as possible.

Freshmen interested in other track and field events should check with Wilson before the 23rd.

*Wildcats Face Tough Season With Strong First Team

K-State's football squad shows a strong first unit but a lack of reserve power after two weeks of two-a-day drills.

Only about 50 gridders are working out for the Wildcats, one of the smallest groups in several years. This smallness is one of Coach Bus Mertes' biggest problems.

"We will be ready for our opener with Wyoming," Mertes said, "we have to be!"

End Joe Vader and halfbacks Ron Beshk and George Whitney were singled out by the head coach as looking promising for their play on the number two unit.

Eighteen lettermen are returning for the Wildcats this year, nine of them started in 1956. Tackles and center are the thinnest spots in the line, while there is a shortage of experience in all of the backfield positions.

"I have never known any ball club with as much spirit and enthusiasm as this one has," Mertes said. "We have a crying need for more scrimmage but hesitate to tear loose with hour-long sessions of contact when an injury in a key spot could seriously cripple us for the season opener a week from Saturday."

The personable head coach carries a .350 mark into his third year at K-State. A .500 season this year would assure him of the best coaching record at K-State since 1939.

The Cats travel to Laramie to open the season against the Wyoming Cowboys on September 21. The Cowboys have 21 lettermen but need to fill the holes left by the loss of eight starters from last year's team. They will use a multiple offense similar to Michigan State's.

Wyoming had a 10-0 season in '56, handing K-State a 27-15 setback to give the Cowpokes a 3-1 edge in the series which began in 1952.

Tough Season—Cats Hopeful

and Band Day, September 28. BYU will be depending on sophomores as a total of 24 are listed on the 47-man roster, which means that more than half the team candidates have yet to play in a varsity contest.

In the second home game the Cats meet Nebraska, on Parents Day. Bill Jennings, assistant a year ago, has been elevated to head coach.

"We are going to have to depend largely upon about 20 players," Jennings said, "we could be badly handicapped unless our lads come through in good physical condition."

K-State edged the Huskers last year, 10-7, for the seventh Cat win in a 41-game series.

The Wildcats take a long road trip to the College of Pacific for their fourth game.

The COP Tigers have a great running back in Dick Bass and a good passing attack with a big, fast line. The biggest fault is lack of experience in the forward wall.

Back in town for Homecoming, the Cats take on the Colorado Buffaloes. The Buffs have a solid backfield but a line that doesn't show much promise. They will use the same multiple offense that last year sent them to the Orange Bowl.

Last year CU trounced K-State, 34-0, to take an 8-4 margin in the all-time series between the two schools. All of K-States wins have come at Manhattan, the last a 28-14 decision in 1953.

Iowa State has a new head coach in Jim Myers from UCLA. The Cyclones will use the single wing offense, and in the words of sports publicist Harry Burrell, will be "leaner, meaner, thinner, smaller and not too fast."

K-State grabbed a 32-6 win over the Cyclones last year to run the Wildcat victories to four in a row. That still leaves the Cats far short of the even-Stephen mark—with 14 wins in 40 games.

Oklahoma—no comment.

After our last home game (Oklahoma) the Cats travel to Lawrence to tangle with the Jayhawks. The Hawks hope for their best season since Chuck Mather took over in 1954 even though they face the stiffest schedule a Kansas team has ever undertaken.

The Wildcat-Jayhawk series is the oldest of all K-State has, dating from 1902 and including 54 games. K-State has won 17; KU, 34; 3 have been ties. K-State had won three in a row ahead of last year's Hawk 20-15 triumph.

Missouri is the last Big Eight game for the Cats. A new coach, Frank Broyles, has seven returning regulars with a strong line and fullback Hank Kuhmann leading the backfield. Quarterback and center positions are the most inexperienced.

Michigan State closes out the Wildcat season for 1957. Spartan problems are filling tailback, center, and tackle posts and recovering from last year's injuries. Probably the outstanding Michigan State gridiron will be Walt Kowalczyk, hard running halfback.

The Cats have one tie against three defeats in the Michigan State series, but scored more points against them last year than any other team, although losing, 38-17.

Freshman Talent Show to Open Union Season

A freshman talent show tomorrow night and the Union jamboree and open house Saturday night will highlight the starting of the fall semester at the K-State Union.

The freshman talent show will start at 8:15 in the College auditorium. Freshman talent selected at an audition last night will participate.

The Union open house and jamboree will start at 7 p.m. Saturday. Following at 9 there will be a dance featuring Matt Bettton. At 10:30 there will be a special intermission. The "Four Deltas" and other campus talent will entertain during the intermission.

The Union Program committee will have displays throughout the building depicting various programs and activities planned for the semester.

Campus organizations and clubs will have booths in the grand ballroom on the second floor. Groups wishing to participate can sign for a booth until 5 p.m. tomorrow.

During the Jamboree the Campus Talent committee will be signing up campus talent to be used during the year. The Jazz club, a new union committee, will hold a recorded jam session in the dive. The games committee will be giving free games passes to students in the games areas.

The Union Movies committee will present a special cinemascopic picture "The Student Prince." The film will be shown Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings at 7:30.

New committees formed and activities planned by the Union are the Jazz club, an informal discussion hour sponsored by the Coffee Hour committee, and a film forum featuring 16 of the world's outstanding films. The film forum will be sponsored by the Movies committee, the modern language dept., and the English department. The films will be shown in the afternoon for students who must attend a certain number of the films as part of the course. Tickets for evening performances will be available by subscription only.

New additions in the Union are the new cinemascopic screen and special lenses for the projector in the little theater and a soundproof ceiling in the bowling alley. "The alleys have been completely resurfaced making the union bowling alley one of the outstanding alleys in this region," according to Bob Alexander, Program Director of the Union.

Big news for the future is the tentative booking of Stan Kenton for a concert and dance December 6.

An activities calendar and the union movie schedule will be available soon listing the activities and movies for the semester.

Assemblies Slate Top Notch Orators

A former Scotland Yard superintendent, a syndicated newspaper columnist, an outstanding woman educator, and two Pulitzer Prize winning historians, will be among the K-State assembly speakers this year.

The first assembly, September 18, will be the traditional semester opener and welcome speech by the college president.

Robert Fabian, the Scotland Yard sleuth, appears February 10; Stewart Alsop, the columnist, on March 17; Sister Mary Madeleva, president of Saint Mary's College, South Bend, Ind., on February 17; Bruce Catton, whose "A Stillness at Appomattox" won the Pulitzer prize for history in 1954, on October 11; and Arthur Schlesinger Jr., whose "The Age of Jackson" won a Pulitzer prize in history, will speak January 14.

A. L. Pugsley, dean of administration, released information on all but three of the programs. No plans for Open House assembly in March and the Home Economics Hospitality Day assembly in April have been made. The other question mark on the schedule was made by the death of Peter Reuchen, TV's $64,000 Question" winner. The colorful Frenchmen, known to the American public as an explorer, geographer, author, sailor, and trader was to have given a lecture called "The Seven Seas" on October 21.

Rueben Hill, an authority on marriage and family relations, will speak on October 3.

Bruce Catton, writer and lecturer, will talk to K-State students about the Civil War on October 11.

On October 29, the Student Governing Association will give the students an opportunity to air some of their grips during their annual open forum program.

The School of Agriculture will bring Dr. John H. Davis to the K-State campus on November 13 in coordination with Ag Week. Dr. Davis will speak on a topic of general interest to the entire college.

A program in a lighter vein is planned for November 18, when Lotte Goslar's Pantomime Circus will present "For Humans Only." This is Lotte Goslar's first tour of the United States. She has confined her entertaining to the European cities in the past.

The Music department will present the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" at the Holiday assembly December 20. This program is a tradition on the K-State campus.

Historian Arthur Schlesinger Jr., who spoke here several years ago, is returning to lecture on "The Challenge of the Future," for the last assembly of the Fall semester.

In conjunction with Religious Emphasis Week, Sister Mary Madeleva, who is president of Saint Mary's College, South Bend, Indiana, will speak on February 17 on "Poetry and Philosophy."

Stewart Alsop, one of the foremost contemporary writers of our day, will give a lecture called "Looking Forward" on March 17.

Miss Football—KS Style

Program Head Alexander Secedes from K-State Union

By SUE GOSS

Resignation of Bob Alexander as program director of the Student Union effective September 30 has been announced by Loren Kottner, Union director.

Alexander, who has been program director since September, 1955, will be replaced by Oliver White, 26-year-old Californian who was a communications and public policy graduate of the University of California in 1953.

White has worked as regional coordinator with promotional campaigns for the "City of Hope," a free medical center in California which secures financial support through fund-raising plans.

He was also a retail representative in the advertising department of Life magazine in Houston, Texas, and has been executive manager of the Oakland, Calif., Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Alexander was employed by the Student Union six months before the opening of the new building, and was responsible for organization of the Program Council, which replaced the social and recreational group in charge of campus activities.

Praised by Kottner as a "most valuable assistant," Alexander will go to a job as Union Director and Assistant Business Manager of the Guy S. Millberry Union at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

The Union which Alexander will be in charge of is to be completed in June, 1958, and is a three-million-dollar structure. It will be the fourth of its kind, that of one connected with a medical center, in the United States.

Since Alexander's employment at the Union, committees on Program Council have almost doubled, being increased from seven to thirteen, not including the Y-Orpheum committee.

White will be on campus for the Union Open House and Jamboree Saturday and will work with Alexander for two weeks in familiarizing himself with his new duties.

On the University of California campus, White was a member of the Activities Honorary honor society, one of the 50 outstanding men graduates in the class, chosen permanent men's secretary for the class of 1953 and a member of Phi Tau social fraternity.

In commenting on the California exchange," Kottner said,

"We regret losing Bob at this time, as he has done an excellent job in setting up and directing the Program Department of the Union. His contribution to the K-State Union will be long remembered."

French Dancing Stars First on KS Artist Series

Janine Charrat and her "Ballet of France" open the Manhattan Artist Series October 29. Three additional concerts, scheduled throughout the school term, complete the series.

The French dance star will tour America this season for the first time with her company of fourteen dancers. She has been a guest choreographer with all of the principal ballet organizations in Europe and has directed her own dance company since 1952.

The Paginina String Quartet, playing quartet masterworks, makes an appearance November 20. Members of the group are Henri Temianka, first violin; Gustave Rosseels, second violin; Charles Foidart, viola; and Lucien Laparte, cello. The group has appeared throughout Europe, Canada, and the United States.

Leonard DePaul's Opera Gala will present excerpts from three American operas February 14. The 55-member company includes a full orchestra and a chorus with three Negro soloists. Excerpts from "Porgy and Bess," "Carmen Jones," and "Four Saints in Three Acts," are to be presented. All three have had a successful run on Broadway.

Concluding the concert series is Mildred Miller, New York Metropolitan mezzo-soprano, who makes her appearance March 13. She has made frequent guest appearances on "The Telephone Hour" and "The Voice of Firestone." Last season Miss Miller was featured on the NBC-TV color spectacular, "Festival of Music."

The concerts are sponsored by the Department of Music and the Student Council.

SC Committees Have Openings For the Taking

Applications for openings on five Student council committees can be picked up in the Student Union activities center starting today, according to Neil Scott, Zoo Sr., Student Body president.

"Anyone can apply," Scott emphasized. Applicants will be interviewed before the Student Council makes appointments.

There are openings for two members on the Committee Coordinating staff, seven members on the Student Activities board, three members on the Traffic Control board, two members on the Athletic council, and five members on the Traffic Appeals board, Scott said.

The Traffic Control board establishes campus traffic rules and regulations.

The Athletic council formulates and administers all policies of the Athletic department concerning the conduct of the inter-collegiate athletics.

Satisfaction, Not Salary Guides K-State Careers

"Liking for a particular type of work" guides more K-State freshmen men in their career choice than any other factor.

At least that's what the K-State Counseling center found when they asked freshmen men to rate the relative importance of 12 "vocational values" in their choice of a career.

"Salary" was the second most important consideration to K-Staters, with "security" ranking third. Least important in career choice was "variety," and "demand" and "usefulness" were other factors rating low.

"While these findings summarize the group trends, there is a tremendous amount of individual variability," comments Donald Hoyt, member of the K-State Counseling staff. "This emphasizes the need to provide different kinds of counseling information to the different kinds of students seeking that information."

West Lot May Partially Solve K-State Parking Woes

A PARTIAL SOLUTION to K-State's vexing parking problem is now under construction. The first steel and concrete answer to several semesters of blank stares and indecision is rising just north of West Stadium.

A walkway to connect the parking lot west of Memorial stadium has been started and when completed will make the thought of walking from the stadium to school much more palatable.

Up until now, we hope, students have refrained from using the West Stadium lot because to do so would have meant a half-mile trudge around the Field house. A relatively straight line between the two points might even entice more way-off-campus drivers to try the West Stadium lot before going to the merry-go-round known as the Union parking lot.

The bridge will be of steel and concrete. It will be six feet wide and stretch from just north of West Stadium to the Southeast corner of the Field house. No completion date has yet been set. Some $6,000 has been set aside for the project.

AS FOR ANY parking space on campus, Acting President Weber has said that "all parking improvements are in sight." The Campus Development committee turned down a request earlier this summer for parking space for faculty near Thompson hall. This denial forced the requisition of an additional row in the Union lot for faculty.

This "concession" to the faculty is one which was made actually for the good of the students. In order to keep the teaching standards high and avoid faculty losses to industry, some sort of fringe benefits must be offered to offset the lower salaries. Giving the instructors a parking place close to their offices does give some consolation.

But you ask why give the faculty a whole row in the most desirable parking lot on the campus? This summer the Traffic Control board made an exhaustive survey and found that more teachers were officed in the south part of the campus than on the north end.

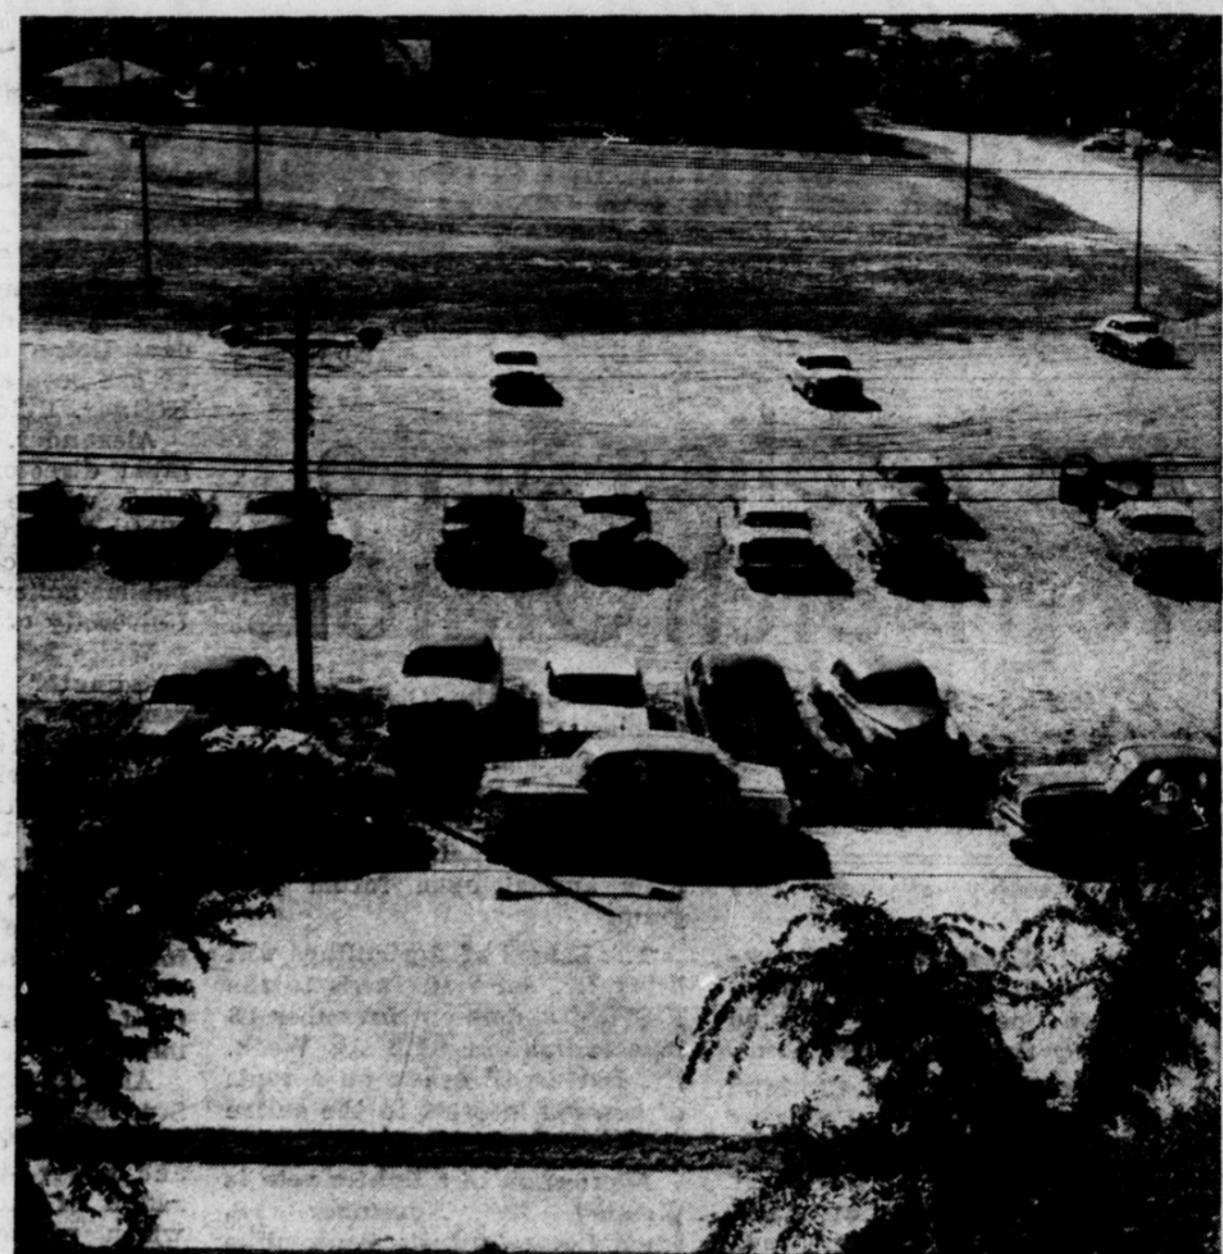

Originally all parking space on campus was reserved for the faculty exclusively. Since that time—over a decade ago—the number of student-driven vehicles has risen tremendously and literally pushed the teacher on the bus.

HOWEVER, the give-and-take policy (involving the cession of the Union parking lot to the students for several years, then giving it back to faculty-staff members) seems unfair.

Case Bonebreak, Physical Plant supervisor, estimates some 2,000 vehicles have been registered for use on campus. With the Campus Development committee's logical refusal to grant any space on campus for either students or faculty, the situation will become worse before it becomes better. But why penalize the students for a decision that wasn't theirs? Let the kids keep what they have and blame the mess on progress.

But take heart, our friends down the Kaw have no on-campus parking facilities at all and most other Big Eight schools have less than K-State.

Incidentally, if you have to do some speeding, you might do some of it on the campus. Part of the fines from speeding go toward maintainance of the present parking lots.—Roger Myers.

IF ONLY SOMEBODY KNEW about this lot! At least, it almost seems that nobody knows about it. This picture was taken in the middle of yesterday afternoon—and as you can see, the lot is relatively bare of automobiles, both faculty and student. Completion of the footbridge which will make the lot a shorter walking distance from the main part of the campus, should go a long way toward easing the parking problem at K-State.

Banding of Syrian and Egyptian Armies Gives Israelis More Cause for Worry

By UNITED PRESS

A tighter welding of the Syrian and Egyptian armies gave Israel a new case of the jitters today.

Two days of talks between Syrian and Egyptian military leaders in Cairo resulted last night in binding their two armies even closer under a joint command controlled by Egypt.

The leftist commander of the Syrian army, Gen. Afif Bizri, said before returning to Damascus that his army and that of Egypt were "one army, with one command and one strategy."

Israel sources in Jerusalem said there was no doubt in their minds what that strategy is—to wipe Israel off the map.

But authoritative western sources said the pro-western Arab nations of Lebanon and Jordan—both neighbors of Syria—were considerably concerned that Egypt's military support of Syria might be aimed at them too.

Reports from Beirut said 12 persons were killed on the Syrian-Lebanese border yesterday in a clash between armed Syrian civilians and Lebanese gendarmes.

King Hussein arrived home from his vacation in Spain late yesterday to confer with government officials in Amman who have shown mounting concern over the communist threat from Syria.

Even before his arrival, officials had tightened security measures both internally and along the borders with Syria and Israel.

In Damascus, a Syrian military spokesman charged that Israel troops occupied the village of Altawafik in the demilitarized frontier zone between Israel and Syria yesterday.

In Washington, U.S. officials said today the United States is not willing now to give Israel new ironclad guarantees against Arab aggression.

They said all middle eastern nations and Russia already understand what action the United States would take under the Eisenhower doctrine and previous U.S. policy statements.

American newsmen to visit each other's countries despite U.S. rejection of Red China's proposal for a reciprocal exchange of correspondents.

Communist China proposed yesterday at Geneva, Switzerland, that the United States and Red China agree to swap newsmen "on an equal and reciprocal basis." The state department immediately turned thumbs down on the proposal.

U.S. officials said however the United States was merely spiking any idea of a man-for-man swap that might imply recognition of the Peiping regime. Any such agreement likely would bring the wrath of pro-Nationalist China congressmen down on the State department.

Game Condition Practice On Cat Menu Tomorrow

Long passes keynoted the scrimmage of the Wildcat grid squad last night. The No. 1 team scored the only touchdown on a two yard plunge by halfback Ben Grosse following a pass from Dick Corbin to Jim Luzinski good for 60 yards.

Tomorrow a game condition scrimmage is slated for the team behind locked doors in Memorial Stadium in preparation for next weeks opener with Wyoming. This should be the all-important practice for those who want to make the starting eleven for the Wyoming game as contact work will slack off the middle of next week. Coach Bus Mertes will be able to see his men in action under game conditions and finish forming the first team for the opening game.

Both the first and second units looked good on defense with the exception of some long passes completed by the first team.

The offense was a little ragged with fumbles occurring with regularity.

KS Scholars Get Financial Boost

Larry G. Rohloff, CE Fr, has been announced as one of two national winners of $2,000 Rock Island employees' college scholarships.

The scholarships, which pay $500 a year and are renewable for four years of college, are awarded to sons and daughters of Rock Island employees on the basis of test scores, high school records, and individual interviews.

Rohloff ranked in the upper five per cent of his graduating class at Colorado Springs, Colo., high school. He was a member of the National Honor Society, and played in the band and a cappella choir.

Harold R. Albrecht, Chm Soph, Manhattan, and Carol Avery Hughes, Chm Jr, Lyons, have received Richard James Van Winkle memorial scholarships worth $150, according to Thomas D. O'Brien, head of the chemistry department.

The scholarships are renewals, since both students held Van Winkle awards last year. Scholarships are granted to chemistry majors who have superior records and show promise of success.

John Edward Hellmer, CE Sr, Westphalia, has been awarded a $500 Socony Mobil Oil company scholarship for his senior year, according to Reed F. Morse, head of the department of civil engineering.

The award is given to a civil engineering student interested in a career in highway engineering who would find it impossible to complete the school year without financial aid.

Tracy A. Sandow, ChE Sr, Elmo, and George L. Strobel, NE Sr, Pratt, have won Universal Oil Products scholarships, according to Bill Honstead, acting head of the department of chemical engineering.

Sandow held a Dow Chemical company scholarship in 1954-55, and a Sparks Foundation scholarship in 1955-56. He received freshman Phi Kappa Phi recognition for scholarship, and holds the Sigma Tau silver medal. He has worked as a research assistant in the chemical engineering department.

Strobel is a member of Sigma Tau, engineering honorary; Pi Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering honorary, and the student chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He received freshman Phi Kappa Phi scholarship recognition.

Three freshmen have been awarded $75 scholarships in chemistry for the school year, according to Thomas D. O'Brien, department head.

They are Jerry Paul Hefling, Burrton; Janise Kay Hudson, Newton; and James Jerome Mathias, LeRoy.

Civil engineering department endowment scholarships of $200 each have been awarded to James E. Meeks, CE Fr, Leon, and Kermit Lee Sawer, CE Fr, Ludell, according to Reed F. Morse, head of the department of civil engineering.

Orval L. Fouse, ME Sr, Manchester, has been awarded a $500 Dowell scholarship for his senior year, according to Linn Helander, head of the mechanical engineering department.

The scholarship, established by Dowell, Inc., of Tulsa, Okla., is for a student enrolled in the petroleum option who shows promise, needs assistance, and is interested in service company work.

Fouse held a Carl Raymond Gray scholarship his freshman year. He is a member of Sigma Tau, engineering honorary; and Pi Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering honorary.

Eleven students majoring in nuclear or chemical engineering have received Dow Chemical company scholarships for the coming year, according to Bill Honstead, acting head of the department of chemical engineering. The scholarship winners, by classes, are:

Freshmen—Keith D. Rush, Haviland; Leon D. Swensen, Alta Vista; Larry G. Rucas, Wichita; Dennis E. Poer, Hoisington.

Sophomores—Edward P. Regnier, ChE, Manhattan; Arthur M. Fiskin, NE, Stockton; Donald G. Livingston, ChE, Marysville; Gary L. Randolph ChE, McPherson.

Juniors—James C. Mailen, ChE, Wichita; Larry R. Foulke, NE, Kiowa; Matthew White Jr., ChE, Topeka.

The awards vary from $100 to $300. They are based on academic ability, professional promise, and need.

Famous History Characters To Be Homecoming Theme

The theme for parade entries and house decorations for Homecoming this year is to be "Famous Characters in History."

The deadline for parade entries is September 30, but no deadline has been set for house decoration entries.

"Any organized independent house should contact Pat Roberts, TJ Sr, Interfraternity Council president, or Janell Farrell, TxC Sr, Panhellenic Council president, if it wishes to enter the house decoration competition," said Jan Madsen, HEJ Jr, publicity chairman for Homecoming activities.

Representatives from all organized houses planning to enter competition will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in SU 206. At this time they will be given judging criteria for house decorations.

Interfraternity council is in charge of planning the route for those who wish to drive past the houses to view the decorations.

Panhellenic council is responsible for obtaining the judges for house decorations.

The house decoration trophies are already here and the parade trophies have been ordered.

Joyce Graham, BA Sr, Purple Pepster president, is in charge of parade entries.

Dick Hotz, MT Jr, Wampus Cat representative, is responsible for obtaining the judges for the parade.

Representatives from Whi-Purs, Purple Pepsters, and Wampus Cats will work in conjunction to determine the parade route and to carry out publicity plans.

The tours committee will be asked to provide tours through the Union for returning alumni and other visitors.

The coffee hours committee will be asked to provide refreshments for Union visitors that day.

East Waters Money May Come from Revenue Fund

"Kansas State's administration will recommend to the Board of Regents that East Waters be replaced with money from the general revenue fund," says Daniel Beatty, K-State business manager.

He says the Kansas Finance council approved $184,619 as an emergency fund to set up temporary classrooms and offices. Of this fund $35,760 is used as general expense to tear the hull down and clear up the debris. For relocating and re-equipping temporary laboratory space for the Milling and Agronomy departments will go $136,622 and for office equipment $12,237.

A committee, appointed by the Board of Regents, consisting of Arthur D. Weber, acting president; Glenn Beck, acting dean of agriculture; Randolph Gingrich, superintendent of the Physical Plant; John Brink, state architect; another architect and a constructional engineer, have already visited the campus to receive information on recommendations to the Board of Regents.

The committee will visit the campus again on September 26 after the razing of the mill, determining whether to recommend rebuilding or rehabilitation of the remainder of East Waters, according to Beatty.

The east wing of Waters was constructed in 1913 at a cost of $125,000 and was estimated before the fire at $1.25 per cubic foot. With 860,000 cubic feet the building was worth around $1,110,000.

K-State Freshmen Shine

At Varied Talent Show

"The Wildcat Victory Song," led by Matt Betton, ushered in the 1957 Kansas State College Freshman Talent show Friday, September 13, at 8 p.m. The program was in the Auditorium with a large crowd in attendance.

The entertainment was wide and varied, beginning with a hillbilly act given by Laurel Johnson, TJ Fr.

Virginia Baxter, Gvt Fr, dressed as a lady mouse, sang "City Mouse, Country Mouse" from the musical, "Plain and Fancy."

Wistful tones from Paula Wildgen's saxophone quickly changed the mood to that of a blue mood when she played "The Blues Theme" from "An American In Paris," with piano accompaniment by Leslie Dole. Paula is a government freshman.

Lee Allan Hawke, Irving, was next on the program. Lee sang, "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "If I Loved You," from the musical, "Carousel." His accompaniment was provided by Stan Broadhurst, Matt Betton's pianist.

Adding variety to the program was Karl Anderson, EE Fr, when he played his electric guitar, and sang "Remember You're Mine."

Larry Foulke, NE Jr, master of ceremonies, got into the act and tried to help Karl sing "Bye-Bye Happiness." The comic duet was followed by "Bernardine," sung by Kenny Streets, AE Fr.

Following the Cundiff twins, Matt's band played "Calypso Mama," written by Mr. Broadhurst.

With football season here, Roger Brannen, SED Fr, gave the Andy Griffith rendition of "Foot-

SC To Plan Retreat For Next Weekend

Planning of a retreat September 21-22 for Student Council members for the purpose of making plans for the current year and getting committee reports on coming problems will highlight the agenda for tonight's Student Council meeting, according to Paul Hatfield, AED Sr, chairman of the council.

The Council plans to call a referendum of the student body on the changing of the College name to Kansas State University, according to Hatfield. He said that there would have to be an educational program giving the students the pros and cons of the name change.

Another item on the agenda is the discussion of the effectiveness of the present Student Governing Association committee system.

Some of the other probable items to be discussed are compulsory basic ROTC, the activity ticket problem, international relations on campus, and the student government's responsibility in the educational process.

K-State's student government is farther advanced than many other schools which were represented at the National Student Association conference in August," said Hatfield, one of K-State's representatives at the conference.

absence of two members of Chuck Warner's Blue Caps. Karl Anderson substituted and with Blue Cap drummer Clarence Nelson accompanied Chuck who sang two rock 'n' roll numbers. Chuck is a freshman from Abilene, Texas.

Chant Sought For Wildcats

K-Staters with a knack for composing jingles will be given a chance to put their talent to good use in a campus-wide contest which begins today. "The person composing the best chant for Wildcat fans, will receive two tickets to the Kansas University-Kansas State football game at Lawrence," says Susan Shober, PEW Jr, and head cheerleader.

"The chant must be short and catchy," explains Miss Shober. "And it must fit into both football and basketball seasons."

The contest closes October 5. The cheerleaders say students have expressed a desire to have a chant similar to KU's Rock Chalk. All entries should be sent to Susan Shober at 518 Sunset. The cheerleaders and their faculty adviser will judge the entries.

Nuclear Blast in Nevada This Morning Twice

As Powerful as Second World War A-Bombs

By UNITED PRESS

Atomic Test Site, Nev.—The 20th nuclear blast of the Atomic Energy commission's summer test series slammed into the predawn stillness of the Nevada desert today with an estimated force of nearly twice that unleashed by atomic bombs over Japan in World War II.

Experienced observers said the nominal powered blast appeared to have an estimated yield equivalent to nearly 30,000 tons of TNT.

Dubbed "Newton," the device flared into a huge fireball while suspended 1,500 feet above Yucca Flat from a helium-filled plastic balloon 75 feet in diameter at 5:50 a.m. (PDT).

The blast shook observers violently on New Nop 10 miles from ground zero, and rumbled on in shock waves for hundreds of miles.

The flash was plainly visible in Salt Lake City, Utah, and Los Angeles and spread its glow across most of the Western states. To the northwest, observers in San Francisco also reported its brilliant flare.

Observers said the blaze roared into a huge orange fireball, and one minute after the flare a shock wave rocked some 30 observers at New Nop.

Adenauer Landslides in

Bonn, Germany—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer won undisputed control of parliament today in a landslide election victory that bound resurgent West Germany's 50 million residents to the West.

Final returns gave Adenauer's Christian Democrats a 43-seat absolute majority in the lower house (Bundestag), in perhaps the greatest election victory in Germany history.

It was an overwhelming endorsement of the 81-year-old Adenauer's policy of close and intense co-operation with the West and it meant he could harden his opposition to communism for four more years.

The final count that returned Adenauer to power for a third term gave the Christian Democrats 270 seats in the Bundestag against 169 for the Socialists, 41 for the Free Democrats and 17 for the right-wing German party.

Three of the seats were what the federal election office called "leftovers" from the country's complicated system of proportional representation. It boosted the number of seats in the Bundestag to 497.

In terms of the Western position in Europe the victory meant West Germany was:

1) Welded firmly to the NATO pact.

2) Determined to press ahead with its rearmament program and build up its 100,000-man army as a front-line barrier to communism.

3) Committed to European integration and the common market plan which turns Western Europe into an economic unit.

Guardsmen May Go

Little Rock, Ark.—National Guardsmen patrolling Central high school may be withdrawn by the end of the week, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said last night.

None of the nine Negro children who have been barred by the troops from the school campus this week, but he emphasized that withdrawal would be ordered only "under a condition of tranquility and general acceptance by the people."

The governor, who has stationed troops at the school in defiance of court-ordered integration, said he himself would determine if conditions warranted withdrawal of the militia. Faubus ordered guardsmen to the campus on the first day of school, September 3, to prevent "violence" and "bloodshed."

The governor is under orders to appear before federal judge Ronald N. Davies Friday to show cause why he should not be enjoined from interfering with integration of the high school. Integration of the previously all-White school was ordered by the Little Rock school board, in accordance with the U.S. Supreme Court's school desegregation decision of May, 1954.

Should Faubus fail to withdraw the militia by Friday, the day of the federal court hearing, Judge Davies is expected to issue

Hoffa Hearings Uncertain

Washington — The Senate Rackets committee promised to tell Teamster "crown prince" James R. Hoffa today whether it plans more hearing on his activities before he seeks his union's presidency later this month.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) planned to reply to Hoffa's request that his further appearance be postponed until after the teamster convention starting September 30—unless the hearings are held early this week. The election will take place at the convention.

Kennedy already has ruled out the possibility of hearings this week on the Hoffa case.

The Students Say

KS Traffic Violations Fine System Appears Effective, it Sez Here

By Kathy Schultis

Now that enrollment is complete and classes have started, students are beginning to realize that widespread changes have taken place in K-State's traffic regulations.

Freshmen bringing cars to college are obliged to leave them at their residence; dormitory coeds must also keep cars off campus. Others are faced with the parking problem, since faculty members have been given additional space in parking lots.

The majority of students interviewed agreed that the fine system will be effective. However, opinions varied widely concerning other changes. Following are comments from a few students:

LOREN HENRY, AgJ Jr—I think the fine system will be more effective. I couldn't say about the freshmen parking cars off campus.

DOROTHY GROOMER, EEd Fr—The freshmen shouldn't park on campus if the parking lots are crowded. Many colleges don't allow freshmen to have cars on campus.

JARVIS BRINK, Ag Soph—The whole set up is pretty good.

ORVILLE HOMER, His Jr—The $2 registration is silly unless it is used for enlarging parking facilities.

RAY ELY, AH Soph—Why not do away with the ROTC drill field and build a new parking lot?

GENIE BRADLEY, Sp Grad—The parking lots are crowded enough without freshmen parking cars on campus. As far as registration is concerned, why not let us know what the $2 is used for?

RICHARD RUSSELL, BAA Jr—I was quite surprised at the $2 registration fee. However, the city and campus police ought to have an easier time checking cars.

JANE TAYLOR, TJ Jr—If the College needs money, why not let the freshmen pay the $2 and park on campus?

TOM BAUCKE, BA Jr—I read the parking regulations from cover to cover. I wonder about the legality of some of the proposals

Too Many K-Staters
Can Cause Problems

NUMBERS ain't no good.

That's not very good English, but it sizes up well two situations that exist on campus right now: the always-lengthening (or so it seems) coffee line in the Union, and the always filled, smaller student parking area.

For sure, numbers ain't no good. Were it not for the increasing number of students and the increasing number of student cars both of these situations would be at least partially alleviated. However, the paring of another section of the Union parking lot from the students has not particularly helped one of those situations.

WHAT WE'D kind of like to see is somebody with all the answers—we haven't got them. However, we think opening the cafeteria for coffee drinkers, whenever the state room is overflowing, would help. And we're pretty sure the addition of the overhead bridge to the west parking lot will help, too.

Meantime, anyone got any ideas? (Go ahead and think.)

set forth. Can a student's records be withheld because of traffic violations?

ORVAL FOUSE, ME Sr—I don't like the whole setup. I can't see how the problem will be eased.

JIM AGNEW, ME Sr—The parking situation may be eased, but the situation may cause a lot of hard feelings.

DIANE WATSON, EEd Soph—I'd like to know the point of the $2 registration fee. Freshmen should have as much right to park on campus as anyone else.

DOROTHY CROTINGER, Union cashier—The $2 is way too much for registration. I like the idea of the freshmen not having cars on campus.

DIXIE BROWN, HDA Sr—Tear down the eyesores of the campus, such as old buildings and antiquated barracks, and build some parking lots. Near Aggieville is an old unused building which could be removed and the space used for a parking lot.

BARBARA LOWE, FN Sr—I don't mind the $2 if I could find a place to park on campus. Since the College can't afford more parking space, we could all ride bicycles.

Whites Shut Out Blues, 6-0 In Saturday's Intrasquad Tilt

The white-jerseyed first and third teams defeated the purple second and fourth team, 6-0, in Saturday's game condition intrasquad scrimmage of K-State's grididers.

The White's took the ball on downs in the fourth quarter on their own 5-yard line and marched 85 yards in 13 plays for the lone touchdown. Ben Grosse, 177-pound halfback, scored from six yards out on an end run. The drive was sparked by the strong running of Grosse and Ray Glaze, 173-pound fullback.

"I'm not really happy," said head coach Bus Mertes, "but I am satisfied with the play considering the bad weather conditions and the sloppy field. Of course we would like to have nice days for scrimmage."

The mud was one cause for the lack of scoring, but it helped us get through with no injuries, too," Mertes continued. "We completed a lot of passes—the passing looks much better."

The coach mentioned end Dan O'Brien, guards Bill Pulford and Gene Meier, tackle Harold Riechers, halfbacks Ron Beshk and George Whitney, and fullback Ray Glaze for outstanding play Saturday.

Emphasis on conditioning in early practices was evident. Although all the gridmen were tired, none were completely worn out.

Early in the third period, the Purple team penetrated to the White's two-yard line but failed to score and late in the fourth quarter, the Purple, spearheaded by quarterback Kent McConnell's passing, drove to the three-yard line before White halfback Keith Wilson intercepted a pass in his own end zone as time ran out.

Musial Fires Cardinal Pennant Bid But Milwaukee Still Holds Top Spot

By UNITED PRESS

Stan Musial's return in a familiar hero's role today fired the St. Louis Cardinals' bid for a miracle pennant but it's still Milwaukee's National League flag unless the Braves blow sky high.

The Cardinals' threat became the "real thing" yesterday when they climbed to within 2½ games of the front-runners by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-6 and 11-3, while the Braves dropped a 10-inning, 3-2 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies.

Gene Meier Rated High In Big Eight

By JOHN RODRIGUEZ

Two years ago as a freshman, Gene Meier, 210-pound junior from Bunker Hill, drew plaudits from Ed Cavanaugh, freshman football coach, for his speed and love of contact work.

These two assets enable Meier to rank among the top linemen in the Big Eight. Although he has his position nailed down for the 1957 season, he is one of the squad's best hustlers.

Meier, regular right tackle on the 1956 Wildcat football team, has been shifted to left guard this season. He welcomed the change. As he put it, "Playing in the linebacker slot will give me a chance to see the plays develop better and enable me to get in more tackles."

A physical education major, Meier came to K-State on full athletic scholarship. He made honorable mention all-Big Seven on both the AP and UP squads last year. He also received honorable mention on UP's "Sophomore of the Year" award.

While in high school at Bunker Hill, he earned 12 letters in football, basketball, and baseball. While there he was all-conference, all-area honorable mention, and all-state honorable mention in football; second team all-state in basketball; and all-sixth district in baseball.

IFC Plans Greek Week For Later Spring Date

Greek week will be postponed until later in the spring, according to Pat Roberts, president of Interfraternity council.

Greek week was originally scheduled to follow Homecoming. Because the executive council felt there would be a lack of interest, it will be scheduled later in the spring in correlation with the chariot relays and Interfraternity Sing, according to Roberts.

At the meeting of the executive council last night, plans were made for the next Interfraternity council meeting at the Alpha Kappa Lambda house September 23 at 7:30 p.m.

On the agenda for Monday night's meeting will be to plan the route of the Homecoming decorations inspection route. Trophy, judge, and house decoration committee will report on the action they have taken.

A meeting of all fraternity, sorority, and independent Homecoming chairmen will be in the Union Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Another item on the agenda will be the discussion of changes for rush week.

A sagging formal plus a newsreel camera man produced a laugh from the audience, but an embarrassing situation for Miss Kansas, Georgiana Rundle, at the Miss America pageant.

Georgia, EED Sr, explained that the salt air and high humidity in Atlantic City caused the cotton in her hoop petticoats to sag. As a result the skirt on the formal she was modeling also sagged and she was forced to stoop over and fluff out her skirts. "I had walked down a couple of ramps and was really getting disgusted. On the last ramp I stooped way over to straighten out the skirt when I got caught by a newsreel man. Of course, the audience went into an uproar." She explained that other contestants had experienced the same thing, but had not been caught by the camera.

Leadership Retreat Slated; SC To Topeka Saturday

Student Council last night voted to hold a retreat Saturday and Sunday at Lake Shawnee, near Topeka. The action came during council's first meeting of the new school year.

As explained by Pat McDermott, BA Sr, council chairman, the retreat will be keyed to a consideration of "the background or philosophy of student government."

The program will open with discussion groups at 1 p.m. Saturday, followed by a hamburger fry and campfire in the evening. After a short worship service Sunday morning, the 22 council members will continue this discussion groups until 6 p.m.

Lynn Mechesney, Gvt. Jr., voiced the need for additional leadership at the retreat and Mel Eaton, BMT Jr, suggested each council member come prepared to lead discussion on an item assigned him.

A committee to determine definite plans for the retreat, headed by Dwight Bennett, Ar 03, and consisting of Bill Brethour, AH Sr, Sam Warren, EE Sr, and Pat McDermott, BA Sr, was appointed by Paul Hatfield, AED Sr, chairman of the council. Dean Herbert Wunderlich will help sponsor the retreat.

Also passed by the council was Sam Warren's motion to conduct a queen contest for the American Royal. All candidates must be selected by October 7. Linnea Brown, Ar 04, chairman, Keith Small, ME Sr, and Dean Peter, Ag Sr, were appointed to work out details of the contest.

Two motions—one to move up council meetings from 7:30 to 7 p.m. on Monday night, and another to receive applications for adding two American students and two foreign students to the International Relations committee of the council were passed.

It was decided to establish a committee of three to study the library closing hour question—whether there would be enough usage to warrant keeping the lower library floor open for those students having to work during the early part of the evening. George Hooper, BA Sr, will head the committee which includes Mardy Edwards, HDA Jr, and Mel Eaton, BMT Jr.

Dean Wunderlich commented on the problem of retaining the individual student boxes in the college post office. The question is whether to allow boxes for living groups such as fraternity and sorority houses and dormitories, but not for other groups and clubs.

No definite action can be taken on the problem until additional information is obtained, but Harold Garner, AH Sr, chairman, Dean Peter, and Pat Henry, Zoo Gr, were designated to study the matter.

Applications for the Traffic Control board, the Athletic council, and the Committee Co-ordination Staff are to close at 4 p.m. Thursday, September 19, the council decided.

Union Board Names Smith to Vacant Post

A vacancy on the Union Finance committee left by Lee Ruggels was filled by the appointment of Jim Smith, VM Sr, last night in the semester's first meeting of the Union Governing board.

Ray North, PrL Sr, moved that the Board allow the college credit union to set up an office in the Union provided that the credit union assumes expenses. The motion was passed.

Keith Swenson, Ar 05, announced that the Student Governing association office is being set up in the southwest corner of the activities center in the Union.

The Board passed a motion to raise table tennis equipment rentals from 20 to 25 cents an hour. Students breaking any game equipment will be charged the amount of the cost of replacing the equipment. "As things now stand, the games space isn't paying," said Union director Loren Kottner.

Kottner told the group of improvements made in the Union during the summer. Among the improvements were refinished floors throughout the Union, installation of a counter top in the business office, refinished bowling alleys, and installation of a ceiling in the bowling alley. He announced the installation of air conditioning throughout the building was near completion and would be ready for use next spring.

AWS Okays Queen Rules For Houses

Queen candidate regulations, state conference plans and Judicial Board policy were the main topics of discussion last night at the first Associated Women Students' meeting of the school year.

A letter drawn up by Monne Wills, EED Soph, and her committee, was approved and will be sent to all campus organizations that will be conducting queen contests this year. It stipulates that a request for queen candidates must be presented to the Women's Council of AWS three Mondays prior to the time the names of candidates are needed.

A Women's Council committee will then notify each of the living groups as to the number of candidates each group is to have, the qualifications for candidates, and the date the names of the candidates must be returned to the organization. Each living group will then elect their candidate and turn her name in to this standing committee, which will in turn give the organization sponsoring the contest the names of all the candidates by the specified date.

Mary Beth McCoy, HT Jr, announced tentative plans for the state AWS conference to be held in the K-State Union, October 12. Representatives from 36 Kansas junior colleges and four-year colleges have been invited to attend the all-day session.

Peggy Daniels, Eng Jr, read for council approval, a letter and statement of AWS Judicial Board policy to be sent to all women's living group presidents. This letter explains the function of the AWS Judicial Board as a court of appeals for infractions of rules in any of the women's living groups.

Mothers' League Gets into Act In Little Rock Integration Fight

By UNITED PRESS

Little Rock, Ark.—A lawyer for the Central High School Mothers' League sought today to throw out a federal court order in a move that could forestall any action in the Little Rock integration dispute.

Attorney Griffith Smith, Jr., appealed the immediate integration order of August 30 handed down by U.S. District Judge Ronald Davies. He mailed the appeal last night to the eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis.

The appeal could have varying effects on both the immediate problem at Central high, where 25 National Guardsmen are still stationed under Gov. Orval E. Faubus' orders, and the dispute between Faubus and the federal government.

It could supersede the summons to Faubus ordering him to appear before Davies Friday to show cause why he should not be enjoined from interfering with integration. The Appeals Court is higher than the District Court.

It could also shelve the entire question for three months. Smith has 90 days from the time his appeal is filed to lodge the record of the August 30 hearing he is appealing before the circuit court. However, the attorney said he plans to present the record "as soon as possible."

Soviets To Launch Earth Satellite 'Very Soon'

Moscow—The official Soviet Air Force Journal today boldly asserted Russian scientists "very soon" will launch an artificial earth satellite.

"This will signify the beginning of the assault on cosmic space," said Sovetskaya Aviatsia, the air force organ.

The statement was made in an article in connection with the 100th anniversary of the birth of Konstantin Tsiolkovsky whom the Russians claim first explored the possibility of a man-made "moon."

Tsiolkovsky also is regarded as the "father" of interplanetary travel and the intercontinental ballistic missile.

Scientific observers had expected some announcement on the Soviet earth satellite or some startling progress in Russian research would be made today to mark the anniversary of the Soviet "space pioneer."

"The first test satellite of the Soviet Union will be heavier than those being designed in the U.S.A.," it said. "The Soviet artificial satellites will be equipped with a powerful radio transmitter whose signals will be picked up by many radio amateurs."

It said the launching of the first artificial satellites, "whatever their defects, will mean that man has mastered the first cosmic speed of nearly eight kilometers (5 miles) per second."

Observers said it was likely the Russians would try to beat the U.S. in launching the first artificial satellite and also try to reach the moon by rocket before anyone else.

Soviet newspapers devoted considerable space to Tsiolkovsky's life and achievements.

Reader's Corner

Dear Editor:

Amid the confusion surrounding the enactment of the new parking regulations, I believe some explanation is necessary so that students may understand some of the thinking behind the new regulations.

The regulations were drawn up during the past year by the Traffic Control Board, and submitted this summer to the Board of Regents in accordance with Kansas Statutes, Chapter 484, Laws of Kansas, 1957. Traffic Control board had student representation last year and during this summer, and I believe student interests were represented in a logical approach to our parking problems.

The $2 fee collected from the sale of parking permits and money collected from fines will be deposited in the Traffic fund and may be used only for payment of expenses of enforcing these rules and regulations and for the construction, maintenance and repair of parking facilities. A major portion of the money collected will go toward the establishment of a traffic office and a full-time employee.

Recognizing the need for regulation of the increasing number of cars I feel the regulations are beneficial to the students in these respects, (1) no student is absolutely barred from campus parking (with the exception of students residing in close-in housing areas), (2) no student is absolutely required to buy a parking permit, (3) students are not as liable to expulsion from school as was true in past regulations.

Concerning the additional space given to the faculty in the Union lot, we must keep in mind that to keep and attract outstanding faculty members the school must be attractive in various respects including adequate faculty parking. Remember also that less parking is one of the less attractive consequences of an expanding enrollment.

SGA Responsibilities To Get SC Scrutiny

LAST NIGHT the Student Council met and decided that in order to better understand its duties as a student governing unit, it should "beat a retreat" to Topeka and take a weekend look at how to better administer student regulations and policy.

This retreat offers a golden opportunity to gain a better understanding of the duties and responsibilities of a Student Government association. Let's keep our eye on the Council and see if they apply this better understanding toward clearing up problems like the proposed name change.

Student Body President Neil Scott has said that as soon as SC members return, gears will begin turning in an effort to compile facts and figures concerning student thought on the name change issue.

LET'S HOPE this meeting will produce enough incentive to get that ball rolling. In the past, committees have been commissioned to look into a situation only to eventually bog down and let any chance of solution die a slow, pigeonholed death.

Too many times, a worthy project is started and never finished because of the inexperience of committee members. One mustn't disregard the politics that shape the future of Student Council proposals, either.

But the name change problem is of such interest to the students and will have such long lasting effects in the event it is adopted, that the Student Council cannot morally fulfill its responsibility if it allows the issue to drift into oblivion.

THE TASK of compiling facts about changing the title of an institution of higher learning is no simple feat. One must remember, when he sees momentum being lost, that these administrators are also students. They can't be expected to drop studies, forthwith, and plunge into a student problem with wild abandon.

Students can, however, expect steady concentration upon a possible solution of the problem—a steady movement forward—instead of the past procrastinations and excuses.

While on the subject of procrastination, whatever happened to the compulsory ROTC question? It popped around the campus for two semesters without any action being taken. This is a question that a lot of freshmen and sophomore men would like to see answered.

PERHAPS THIS WEEKEND, the Student Council can pick up a few hints on how to select committees and get them into productive operation. Committee selection and red tape seem to block every attempt to get anything underway.

But now the heat is on and the chips are down. The student body president and the chairman of the Student Council have promised a brochure with the facts about changing the name from Kansas State College to Kansas State University. On top of this brochure, the Council hierarchy has promised a student referendum, once the facts are out.

The Collegian will follow with interest the efforts of the student administrators to dynamite the logjam on this issue.—Royer Myers

By UNITED PRESS

Washington—Israeli ambassador Abba Eban, in saying that American arms shipments to the Middle East do not effectively strengthen security in the area:

"We definitely think that in the relationship between the Western powers and Middle Eastern states emphasis should be placed upon economic development and progress and not on accumulation of armaments."

United Nations, N.Y.—Cuban UN ambassador Emilio Nunez-Portuondo, in saying that the Hungarian revolt shattered the myth of a Communist paradise for workers:

"But something more was demonstrated: It is not true that after the death of Stalin, the cruel and ferocious policy of the Moscow government had altered by one inch."

Little Rock, Ark.—Gov. Orval Faubus, when asked under what circumstances will National Guard troops be removed from around Central high school:

"Under a condition of tranquility and general acceptance by the people which would then lessen the possibility of disorder or violence."

Bonn—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, in refusing to make any predictions before winning his landslide victory:

"That would be too risky."

Cats Drill on Defense For Wyoming Contest

Practicing defensive shifts against the Wyoming offense was the feature of yesterday's practice for the K-State Wildcats in preparation for Saturday's game at Laramie.

No scrimmage was held as the gridders slacked off by running plays with an active backfield and a dummy line. No more contact is scheduled before the opening contest with the Cowboys. The Cats will work out in the Field House Wednesday and leave for Wyoming Friday morning.

A major shift in personnel was made yesterday when coach Bus Mertes moved reserve Keith Wilson from quarterback to second team halfback. This leaves Dick Corbin and Les Krull in the first and second signal-calling slots and Gene Keady and Ben Grosse as the No. 1 halfbacks while teaming Wilson and George Whitney as alternate halfbacks.

The team will leave Manhattan at 10 a.m. Friday on a bus for Marshall Field at Fort Riley to catch a plane at 11 a.m. The chartered plane will arrive in Cheyenne, Wyoming, at 12:30 p.m., mountain time and the team due in Laramie by bus at 1:30 p.m. The return schedule shows the squad leaving Cheyenne at 1 p.m. mountain time Saturday, and arriving at Fort Riley at 9:30 p.m. central standard time.

Determination Is Earmark Of Rainsberger's Grid Feats

By ELDON MILLER

"Others have as much ability, but his determination and willingness make him the player that he is."

This is what coach Bus Mertes terms as the key to Ellis Rainsberger's success at K-State football.

Rainsberger has become the most talked-about K-State player since Corky Taylor and Vervil Switzer. Last year he was voted to the United Press all-conference first team and the Associated Press all-conference second team. This fall several sports experts have mentioned the 6-foot, 199-pound senior as a possible all-American candidate.

He was elected last year's team captain and is repeating in that capacity again this year. It is the first time in the history of the school that a man has ever been a K-State football captain twice.

Ellis came to K-State from his home town of East St. Louis, Ill., by way of Missouri university and the Army. He played freshman football at MU in 1951 but entered the service the following year. While in the Army he received valuable seasoning as a player for service teams.

Rainsberger entered K-State in the fall of 1954 because he had "cultivated a close relationship with Moon Mullins and K-State seemed like the logical place to go."

Ellis was impressive enough to get the nod for a first unit tackle position during the 1955 spring training session and he has been a regular ever since.

The type of grit and determination Rainsberger possesses was displayed that spring by the way he responded when he cracked his nose during practice. Instead of taking a time out to get it fixed Ellis said that he preferred to wait until he was through playing football before taking care of it. He still hasn't made any effort toward getting his nose repaired.

Ellis' value as a leader has also been summed by coach Mertes: "He is a tremendous kid all the way around. He knows a sense of responsibility that makes him what he is."

Last year Rainsberger played guard and tackle until the third game, when injuries to K-State's two top centers made it necessary for Mertes to put Ellis into the pivot slot. By the end of the campaign Rainsberger was considered the top center in the conference by most of the experts.

Rainsberger's abilities are not confined to a football field. He has maintained a "B" average in his physical education curriculum and was placed on last year's all-American academic second team and the Big Seven scholastic first team.

He has also been a key figure in Christian leadership on the K-State campus and is a devoted family man with three children.

Rainsberger was born and reared in East St. Louis. He had his prep schooling at Christian Brothers College in St. Louis where he earned letters in football, track and baseball. Ellis began his football playing in the seventh grade and since that time has played at every position at one time or another.

When the wraps come off the Wildcat football team Saturday, many eyes will be focused upon captain Ellis Rainsberger. For much of this year year's K-State football fortunes rest upon his shoulders, and a more dependable pair of shoulders are hard to find.

Ellis Rainsberger

"General Motors furnished each girl with a 1957 white Oldsmobile convertible. On the side of the car was written the name of the occupant and the state she represented," explained Georgia. "We were treated like Georgia's comment about the new Miss America was, "She will be able to fulfill the requirements of a good Miss America." Many people do not realize what a big job it really is to be Miss America.

Kansas Dairy Crown To Sophomore Coed

Barbara Jean David, 19-year-old HE Soph, was crowned Kansas Dairy Princess at the Kansas State Fair in Hutchinson last Sunday night.

Barbara was selected from among 10 finalists representing each of the districts of the Kansas Dairy association, and will represent Kansas in the American Dairy Princess contest at Chicago later this fall.

The Princess was crowned before a packed grandstand, which seats 13,000 persons, by Marcia Hall, last year's Princess.

To be eligible to enter the contest, the candidates must live on a farm that produces dairy products. The local townspeople select one contestant to compete in the county contest. The winners of the county contest enter the district competition and are then eligible for the State Dairy Princess crown.

Miss David, a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, was featured in the November issue of Seventeen magazine as "Miss Young America in 4-H." She has been a member of Walnut Valley 4-H club in Cowley county for 10 years.

Runner-up was Jan White, Jr., also a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

Dean Weber Would Vote For KSU Name Change

Changing the name of Kansas State college to Kansas State university will receive full support of Acting President should the issue ever come to a vote.

In an address to the all-College assembly this morning, Dean Weber said there is no urgency in deciding on the name change, but that as a K-State alum, he would vote for the change.

"Students should continue to have freedom of speech, including freedom to criticize the College administration, so long as they conduct themselves in an orderly manner and in accordance with general College regulations," he said. He encouraged students and student groups to discuss problems with members of the faculty and with administrative officers whenever possible.

K-State students, by their attitudes, viewpoints, actions and quality of their work, have helped to provide a favorable academic climate for the faculty and for themselves, he said. The students have thus won the confidence and respect of the faculty.

Background, professional training and experience, coupled with loyalty to the institution and enthusiasm for its total program, are the elements in a faculty that make for greatness in a college or university, he said.

The high plane on which faculty-student relations are being continued was demonstrated in connection with the recent East Waters hall fire. Dean Weber praised students and faculty members for the help given in setting up makeshift classrooms and offices and readjusting programs as a result of the emergency. "There is nothing which will call forth the true spirit of helpfulness and inherent good will of people like a catastrophe of that kind," he said.

Groundbreaking Is Tomorrow For New KS Home Ec Building

Ground will be broken tomorrow morning for K-State's new $1,900,000 home economics building.

A special ceremony is planned at 11:30 at the building site, just north of the President's home. Mrs. Wendell Hoffman, dean of the School of Home Economics, will turn the first spadeful of dirt.

Home economics classes will be dismissed so that home economics faculty and students may attend.

Arthur D. Weber, acting president, will preside at the ground breaking. Sylvia Gaddie, TxC Sr, president of the K-State home economic council, will represent the students.

The exterior will be of sawed native limestone, with porcelain and metal paneling adding touches of color to outside surfaces. Included in facilities will be 28 teaching laboratories, 23 research laboratories, 8 classrooms, faculty and student workrooms, seminar and conference rooms, and a large lecture and demonstration hall seating 248.

The new building is to be known as Margaret Justin hall, honoring the woman who headed K-State's home economics program from 1923 to 1954. Dean Justin, now retired, is in Colorado and will be unable to return for the ceremony.

Justin hall will replace Calin hall, which was erected in 1907 at a cost of $70,000 to handle an undergraduate enrollment of 260.

SU Balcony To Be Stage Of Pep Rally

Approval is now being sought for 264 more units for Jardine Terrace to replace these apartments.

The barracks were moved to the campus at the close of World War II to serve as temporary housing for married veterans attending school under the G.I. bill. Although they were originally intended to be used for only four years, they have now been in use for 12 years.

Tryouts To Continue Remainder of Week

Tryouts for the first production of the Kansas State Players, "The Tender Trap," by Max Schulman, will be held tonight, tomorrow night, and Friday, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the College auditorium.

Tryouts are open to the entire student body. The play, to be presented October 25 and 26, is a comedy of bachelor life in New York City, and involves the efforts of various women to ensnare an attractive bachelor.

A pep rally will be held at 1:40 p.m. tomorrow on the balcony of the Student Union as a send-off to the football team which will leave Friday morning for the opening game at Laramie, Wyoming.

Cheerleaders are Carol Hulberg, Sp. Jr.; Charlotte Strah, ArG Jr.; Susan Schober, PEW Jr.; Linda Stout, EED Soph; Marc Asher, BPM Sr; Dick Frank, Ec Jr.; Clyde McKenzie, ME Jr.; Dick Peters, AED Jr.; and Joan Peters, HE Soph, assistant cheerleader.

CONTEMPLATING the number girls it will hold when it's finished, Jim Johnson, PrV Soph, views the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house, which is under construction northwest of the campus. Concrete floors of the two-story structure are being poured this week. Jim, who lives across the street, looks forward to January when the building is scheduled to be completed.

Fraternities, Sororities Build, Remodel Houses

At least four Greek organizations completed new additions and many other Greek houses finished minor improvements during the summer to provide more living facilities for their increasing numbers.

An $85,000 addition to the Phi Delta Theta house at 505 Sunset is three stories high and includes two new dormitories, study rooms, a kitchen, and dining room with a seating capacity of 100.

New housemother's quarters, a dining room, kitchen, study rooms, and a dormitory have been added to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house at 1015 Denison. The addition cost $73,000.

Ten three-man study rooms and a new dormitory replace the old third floor of the Sigma Chi house at 1224 Fremont. This remodeling job cost about $60,000.

Three other fraternities began living in new college homes last year. The Alpha Gamma Rho's have a split level designed structure on Platt and Quivera, costing $130,000 for 54 men.

Alpha Kappa Lambda's moved into their new house on Hunting avenue between Sunset and Lee last spring. Their house of native stone was built at a cost of $200,000 to house 56 men.

Phi Kappa Fraternity house occupied last February is of burnt brick with attractive canopies. The $100,000 structure at 1965 College Heights houses 66 men.

Gamma Phi Beta, new sorority on campus last fall, has a house under construction at Todd road and Dennison avenue. The contemporary styled two story structure of native stone with wide areas of glass will be ready for occupancy January 1, 1958. It is being built at a cost of $165,000 and will house 50 women.

Several sororities have completed redecorating during the summer. Pi Beta Phi, 505 Denison, has a completely redecorated entrance and living room plus some changes upstairs. Alpha Delta Pi, 518 Sunset, has a redecorated living room and library, and Chi Omega, 1803 Laramie, had the inside of the house repainted.

Work is to begin in mid-September on the colonial styled Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity house. The structure will cost $155,000 and will be located on west College heights. It will house 66 men and is to be completed by September, 1958. Both Lambda Chi Alpha and Kappa Sigma have plans for building in the near future.

Tentative building plans have been made by three sororities. Alpha Chi Omega will build a home of contemporary architecture on Todd Road in about two years. It will house 60 girls at a cost of $200,000. Kappa Delta also plans to build a contemporary Colonial structure in two years on Sunset Avenue for approximately $150,000. Pi Beta Phi has a lot next to Gamma Phi Beta lot but no definite building plans have been made.

You'll be pleased with a Collegian classified.

Healthy Fish

ST. PAUL—(UPI)—Use of new miracle drugs in Minnesota fish hatcheries should make for sleek, healthy brook trout in North Shore streams this summer. Fisheries supervisor Hjalmer Swenson said a brook trout disease, called furunculosis, is being combated with terramycin while the fish are in the hatcheries.

If we were going to pick any game on the Wildcats schedule as a tie this fall, the first one would be it. Under new coach Bob Devany, the Cowboys will play a clean, tricky type of ball.

K-State came closer than anybody to defeating the Cowboys last year, and the Cats are an improved team this fall. It looks like the few K-Staters that are making the trip will see a close contest—We'd like to have six points on a bet though.

We would like to see a new and different name to replace "Big Eight" as the unofficial title of the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic association. One of the best proposed so far is the Great Plains conference—and then of course there is Bob Busy's "Oklahoma and the Seven Dwarfs."

The Cat football team was running through pass patterns in Memorial stadium yesterday and we noticed some flashy helmets with the players' numerals painted on the sides. Maybe the paying customers will be able to identify the gridders from the side this year!

Bums Urged To Stay; Cleveland May Move

By UNITED PRESS

Millionaire Nelson Rockefeller puts his last-ditch "stay home" offer on the line for the Brooklyn Dodgers today even as a source reported the Cleveland Indians were interested in going to Los Angeles if the Dodgers don't.

Rockefeller and New York Mayor Robert Wagner were scheduled to meet with Dodger president Walter O'Malley this morning to discuss what Rockefeller called his "sporting" offer.

"The mayor will make the new proposal to Mr. O'Malley and I think we will have something that will interest him," said Rockefeller.

The financier declined to spell out his latest move in an "all out" effort to keep the Dodgers in Brooklyn. But it was believed that he had been induced to "sweeten" a previous offer to help the Dodgers financially in acquiring the land for and building a new stadium.

Rockefeller admitted that his new proposal was prompted by "the new offer from Los Angeles," referring to the package offer voted for the Dodgers Monday by the Los Angeles city council.

The Board of Estimate, top ruling board of the city, had a special meeting scheduled later in the day, presumably to discuss whatever is forthcoming from the three-man morning meeting.

Meanwhile, an American League source declared that the Indians are interested in going to Los Angeles. The official, who asked to be unidentified, said, "The Cleveland ball club is not very happy because it has not been drawing. They are worried and they should be."

In Cleveland, club board chairman William Daley said on Monday that there are no immediate plans to move the team, but added the qualifying statement that the team would remain in Cleveland "as long as the fans indicate by their attendance that they want to retain it."

In Los Angeles, Mayor Norris Poulson disclaimed knowledge of any Indians' interest in his area although he has said previously that other major-league teams have been eyeing Los Angeles. He was unable to say whether Los Angeles would make an offer like the one it made to the Dodgers, should the Dodgers decide not to move.

Untried Backfield Used By Missouri Against Vanderbilt

By UNITED PRESS

A backfield of two untried sophomores, a junior and one senior will likely take the field for Missouri Saturday when the Tigers vie with a veteran Vanderbilt eleven paced by Phil King.

Coach Frank Broyles yesterday tabbed Bob Haas to open at the vital left halfback running slot while Phil Snowden, another sophomore, is a likely choice at quarterback. Slow-healing injuries to Charlie James and regular quarterback Stub Clemensen caused the switches. Clemensen, however, is still a possibility.

Vanderbilt, coached by Art Guepe, features a strong ground attack geared around King, a 6-4, 200-pound Indian halfback.

Cards Win Braves Too

By UNITED PRESS

Joe Adecock and Hank Aaron appear ready today to give the Milwaukee Braves the one-two punch that'll eventually stiffen the St. Louis Cardinals.

Coming through when they were needed most, big Joe and the lithe defending National League batting champion took care of the Braves' offense all by themselves last night in a 3-1 victory over the New York Giants that kept Milwaukee's lead at three games. It was a vital victory because the run-happy Cardinals walloped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 12-5, for their 10th triumph in their last 12 games.

The Braves didn't increase their lead but they gained something just as precious—time. They're still three games in front—and now the Cardinals have only 10 games to make up the margin.

KU's Mather Is Sweating Over Opener

By UNITED PRESS

Depth at center remained Chuck Mather's most perplexing problem today as the Kansas Jayhawks neared their opener with a TCU club Mather calls the "equal of Oklahoma."

The one-time Massillon, Ohio, high school mentor, who compiled one of the nation's finest records there, is forced to oppose TCU with a converted guard at the ball-snapping post.

Injuries early in fall workouts sidelined both John Wertzberger and Bill Burnison, counted on as the Hawks' "one-two" pivotmen. Both have returned to the practice field, but Mather said yesterday it was still not known if either would see action. In their absence, young Chester Vanatta has drawn praise for his rapid progress since being moved from guard.

Mather listed his starting lineup at the conclusion of yesterday's drill and had Bobby Marshall at quarterback, Homer Floyd and Charles McCue at halfbacks, and Don Feller at the fullback post.

said, "The potential and effort is very good but we can't tell how much we have as yet. The boys need a lot of work on fundamentals."

The first-year men have been working on blocking and tackling and light scrimmage. No positions have been nailed down on the first units so far.

Cavanaugh said that quarterbacks Ronnie Blaylock, Dale Evans, and Terry Leek are the best he has seen since he came to K-State as freshman coach in 1954.

Halfback Billie Rich and guards Ron Pragowski and Dave Nobblett were also singled out as looking good in the early workouts.

The K-State Wildcats finish their pre-season drills today and will journey to Laramie this weekend to open against the Wyoming Cowboys.

"We feel that this may be the most important game of the season," said Coach Bus Mertes. "To play well against a squad as good as Wyoming would give us a great sendoff for the new season."

Although Wyoming lost several standout players, including halfback Jim Crawford who was an honorable mention All-American last year, they have 18 lettermen back. These men are seasoned veterans from a team which had a record of 10 wins and no defeats last year.

A considerable change will be noted in the Wyoming offense this year as the Cowboys' new coach, Bob Devany, will use the multiple offense instead of the single wing. This new system would give veteran quarterback Larry Zowada a chance to show his passing skill. The team's offensive punch will be centered around Zowada.

Out of the four games the Cats have played against Wyoming, K-State has been able to win only one. The last two tilts have seen K-State come out on the short end of the scores.

Last year the Wildcats were leading going into the final quarter but a rally gave the Cowboys a 27-15 victory.

This late game punch is one of K-State's biggest worries for the 1957 season — bench strength.

"We hope we have the manpower to stick in there, though all the way," Mertes said. "We have solid personnel on the first team, but they can't go all the way. We have spent most of our pre-season workouts trying to get reserves ready. Now we'll have a chance to find out how much success we've had on that score."

You'll be pleased with a Collegian classified.

THE MIXTURE AS BEFORE

Today begins my fourth year of writing this column and, as before, I will continue to explore the issues that grip the keen young mind of campus America—burning questions like "Should housemothers be forced to retire at 28?" and "Should pajamas and robes be allowed at first-hour classes?" and "Should proctors be armed?" and "Should picnicking be permitted in the stacks?" and "Should teachers above the rank of associate professor be empowered to perform marriages?" and "Should capital punishment for pledges be abolished?"

Should capital punishment for pledges be abolished?

Philip Morris Incorporated sponsors this column. Philip Morris Incorporated makes Philip Morris cigarettes. Marlboro is what I am going to talk to you about this year.

Before beginning the current series of columns, I made an exhaustive study of Marlboro advertising. This took almost four minutes. The Marlboro people don't waste words. They give it to you fast: "You get a lot to like in a Marlboro . . . Filter . . . Flavor . . . Flip-top Box."

Well, sir, at first this approach seemed to me a little terse, a bit naked. Perhaps, thought I, I should drape it with a veil of violet prose, adorn it with a mantle of fluffy adjectives, dangle some participles from the ears . . . But then I thought, what for? Doesn't that tell the whole Marlboro story? . . . Filter . . . Flavor . . . Flip-top Box.

Marlboro tastes great. The filter works. So does the box. What else do you need to know?

So, with the Marlboro story quickly told, let us turn immediately to the chief problem of undergraduate life—the money problem. This has always been a vexing dilemma, even in my own college days. I recall, for example, a classmate named Oliver Hazard Sigmafoos, a great strapping fellow standing 14 hands high, who fell in love with a beautiful Theta named Nikki Spillane, with hair like beaten gold and eyeballs like two tablespoons of forgetfulness.

Every night Oliver Hazard would take Nikki out to dine and dance, and then to dine again, for dancing made Nikki ravenous. Then they would go riding in the swan boats, and then Nikki, her appetite sharpened by the sea air, would have 8 or 10 cutlets, and then Oliver Hazard would take her home, stopping on the way to buy her a pail of oysters or two.

To raise money for these enchanted evenings, Oliver Hazard took on a number of part-time jobs. Between classes he cut hair. After school he gutted perches. From dusk to midnight he vulcanized medicine balls. From midnight to dawn he trapped night crawlers.

This crowded schedule took, alas, a heavy toll from Oliver Hazard. In the space of a month he dwindled from 260 to 104 pounds—but that, curiously enough, proved his salvation.

Today Oliver Hazard is a jockey, earning a handsome living which, combined with what he makes as a lymph donor after hours, is quite sufficient to curb Nikki's girlish appetite. Today they are married and live in Upper Marlboro, Maryland, with their two daughters, Filter and Flavor, and their son, Flip-top Box.

IFYE Applications Due by October 1

Applications for 1958 International Farm Youth Exchange delegates from Kansas are due in the state 4-H club department office, Kansas State college, by October 1.

Students interested in this opportunity to live and work with farm families in other countries should contact their county extension agents for details and application blanks. All applications are submitted to the state office by the county extension agents.

Qualifications for IFYE applicants are: 20 to 30 years of age, sincere desire to understand other people, reared on a farm, high school graduate, mature personality, single and in good health.

A committee of K-State faculty members recommends applicants, after interviews, to the National 4-H Club Foundation, which sponsors the two-way exchange of rural youth.

Poultry Science Club

The first meeting of the Poultry Science club will be held in room 205 of the Student Union at 7:30 p.m. Thursday evening, according to Amos Kahrs, advisor of the group. The date for a fall barbecue will be set.

YWCA

Serving coffee to the faculty during registration and presenting pin cushions to freshmen girls were two projects recently sponsored by the YWCA. A membership drive is scheduled for September 23, 24, and 25. The first official meeting, "All About the Y," will be Tuesday, October 1, at 4 p.m. in the Student Union, room 207.

Whi-Purs

Carol Hawks, SEd Fr., was elected Whi-Purs president and Sherrie Lewis, EEd Fr., was elected vice president at the opening meeting of the freshmen women's pep club in Willard hall, Monday afternoon.

Other officers will be selected at the next Whi-Purs meeting Monday, September 23.

"A large pep club is in order this year if the turnout at the meeting is any indication," said Janet Newcomer, PEW Soph, last year's president.

Part-Time Employment Still Open to Students

Part-time employment is still available for students who file applications at the placement bureau in the basement of Anderson hall.

Roland Swaim, the new assistant director of placement who handles part-time work, says he is "particularly interested in being fair to all." Students who filed applications at the bureau earlier are asked to come in and complete their applications if these cards do not include their present address, class schedule, and telephone number. "This is necessary in order for us to place the students," said Swaim.

"It is also a good idea for those interested to look at the bulletin board in the placement office where all current openings are posted and also to check with the secretary there," he said.

At the present time 144 men's applications and 112 women's applications are filed at the placement bureau. During the past year ending in August, about 975 men filed for employment while many others were helped by the office. Women's employment was handled by the dean of students' office until this fall.

The main women's jobs open include cleaning, housework, babysitting, fountain help, bookkeeping, and waitress work. Most of the men's vacancies are in the organized houses where house boys are needed. Other available work includes farming, carpenter work, yardwork, and painting.

Approximately 50 per cent of all students at K-State earn part of their way through school while 1,000 are employed part-time on the campus each year. Minimum campus salaries range from 50 cents to 75 cents an hour with a maximum of one dollar without the approval of the dean's office.

The K-State Union is at the top of the list with over 150 student employees—100 men and 50 women. About 175 women work in the dining halls of the four dormitories and approximately 35 are employed by Farrell library. Both Physical Plant and the Dairy department hire an average of 60 men annually, while 20 to 25 men work at the library.

Enrollment Nears 6,670; Ratio Still 3-1

Student enrollment totals have now reached 6,667; an increase of 55 over the 1956-57 fall semester, E. M. Gerritz, Registrar, disclosed yesterday afternoon. He anticipates an additional 25 enrollments which would boost the total to near 6,700.

The greatest numerical increase occurred in the Engineering School where a 101 gain over the previous fall semester was recorded. Enrollment declined, however, from 523 to 505 in the Home Economics School. All other departments netted small gains.

Present totals by schools are: Arts and Science, 2,435; Engineering, 2,080; Agriculture, 850; Graduate school, 525; Home Economics, 505; Veterinary Medicine, 272.

Statistics indicate that male students now outnumber female students by more than a 3 to 1 ratio. Men, 5,134. Women, 1,533.

Positions Available On Traffic, Athletic Boards

Applications for positions on the Traffic Control board, Athletic council and Committee Co-ordination staff will close today at 4 p.m., according to student body president, Neil Scott Sr.

trumpets are especially in demand. Any student who is interested in trying out for the twirler position or playing a brass instrument should make an appointment in my office, room five in Nichols gym, as soon as possible," Hedlund stressed.

The newly organized 95 piece band and twirlers are marching regularly in preparation for Band Day, September 28. There is an unusually large number of upperclassmen in band this year, according to Hedlund. Band members include 30 freshmen and 65 upperclassmen.

"Approximately 40 Kansas high school bands will participate in Band Day along with the K-State band," Hedlund said. Activities will begin with a parade, starting at 10 a.m. on Saturday, September 28. The parade will originate at 3rd and Poyntz, move west on Poyntz to 11th street, then north on 11th to Leavenworth street, and enter the City park at the Leavenworth street entrance.

Before the K-State-Brigham Young university football game all bands will form on the field for the National Anthem. Halftime ceremonies include a marching demonstration by the K-State band under Hedlund's direction, and a twirling exhibition performed by all twirlers here for the day.

Nancy Howard, SED Sr, is drum major of the band and Connie Morgan, HE Soph, Lynn Mechesney, Gvt Jr, and Karen Blume, Sp Jr, are the K-State twirlers.

"Justin hall will be a milestone for the entire profession of home economics," Mrs. Wendell Hoffman, dean of the School of Home Economics, said as she broke the ground to officially start the construction of Justin home economics hall.

"The new building will provide classroom, laboratory and office space for superior training of students in the field of home economics at a time when the demand for well-trained home economists is at an all-time high," the dean said.

"The building will give students a more specific education through the added facilities and will also increase enrollment," said Sylvia Gaddie, TxC Sr, president of Margaret Justin Home Economics club.

The probable completion date for the $1,900,000 building is the fall semester of 1959.

"Probably no other college in America has given more recognition to home economics over the years than Kansas State has given," Dean Hoffman said.

The three story portion of the reinforced concrete stone veneer structure will be 300 feet by 182 feet, and a front one-story extension will be 175 feet by 160 feet.

Administration May Limit College Postal Services

The Administrative council will consider a proposed reshuffling of K-State postal facilities Friday, according to Daniel D. Beatty, College business manager. He said that, if approved, the present individual box system will be replaced by larger organizational boxes, and expanded intra-departmental postal facilities.

Beatty told the Administrative council in April of this year that to continue present service of the 1200 student boxes for a student body estimated to be 7,000 this fall, it will be necessary to expand the space occupied by the post office and add additional postal workers."

The use of organizational boxes would be limited to official activities only, he said. Correspondence addressed to individuals rather than their organization, therefore, would not be processed.

Beatty said that "many institutions rely entirely upon first class mail for communications with their students. The Union committee of five years ago made such a recommendation when it did not include postal facilities in the Union."

Use of the facilities by the staff, various offices, and intra-departmental activities would also be limited to business of an official nature, he said.

"If adopted, the postal center would continue to offer normal postal service at the stamp window for the purchase of stamped paper and supplies, and would continue to provide services for non-postage intra-departmental correspondence of an official nature."

The exact number and dimensions of the proposed postal boxes are yet undetermined. He suggested, however, that organizational boxes might conceivably be 10x10 while extra large boxes would be provided for intra-departmental use.

Betty said that until a definite decision is reached regarding his proposals, it would not be feasible to rent individual boxes to students.

Additional office space, he said, would be incorporated into remodeling plans if his proposals are approved.

Over 200 Freshmen Take Honors English

Over 200 students, constituting 15 per cent of the entering freshman class, are being given the opportunity to take Written Communications I (honors) in place of the required freshman English course.

For the fourth year, students have been selected for honors English on the basis of interest tests as part of the School of Arts and Sciences' honors program, according to John P. Noonan, vice-chairman of the written communications program.

"Grades are generally higher in the honors section than in the regular sections," Noonan said. "The students are more satisfied and do better work than they would otherwise. They compare with the best group in any institution."

Students in regular written communications' classes who make an A grade first semester are automatically eligible for the honors section second semester. Those receiving a B grade may enter with the recommendation of their instructors.

The reading lists are different for the two sections. While the regular students read current news, those in honors English read novels, plays, and poetry. "They write the same number of themes, but instead of personal experiences their writing is basically associated with their reading and discussions," Noonan said.

Asian Flu Cases on Increase; National Epidemic Probable

By UNITED PRESS

Washington—Here's the latest communiqué on Asian flu: The number of cases in the United States is climbing. The U.S. Public Health service, which put the total at 50,000 last week, now estimates "at least 65,000" cases. Officials said, however, that part of the apparent increase may represent improved reporting procedures.

2. There is no sign yet that the disease has begun to spread with the prairie-fire speed of a true national epidemic. Outbreaks have been reported in 37 states, but all have remained localized.

3. Vaccine production is running somewhat behind schedule.

4. Asian flu continues to be a comparatively mild disease for most victims. Twelve deaths have been reported among 65,000 cases—a death rate of two one-hundredths of one per cent.

At Public Health service headquarters, where daily reports from every part of the country are plotted on huge charts, epidemic experts are watching closely for the first sign that isolated outbreaks of flu have begun to merge into a great wave of contagion.

On the basis of U.S. experience with past flu epidemics, and on the experience of other nations with Asian flu, it is considered probable that such a wave will materialize sometime between now and the end of winter.

But flu is so unpredictable that no epidemiologist will hazard a guess when the epidemic may "begin to roll." One likely date—the reopening of schools across the nation—has already passed.

Satchmo Says Nix to Russian Good-Will Tour

Montevideo, Minn.—Jazz trumpeter Louis Armstrong today stood by his statement that the "government can go to hell" with its plans to send him on a good will tour of Russia.

Armstrong was quoted yesterday by the Grand Forks (N.D.) Herald as saying he was abandoning plans for the government sponsored trip behind the iron curtain because "of the way they are treating my people in the South."

In an interview Tuesday night at Grand Forks, Armstrong told reporters for the Herald that "it's getting almost so bad a colored man hasn't got any country."

He charged President Eisenhower with being "two faced" in allowing Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus—"an uneducated plowboy"—to run the federal government.

"But don't get me wrong," he added. "The South is full of intelligent white people. It's the bad lower class people that make all the noise."

Paris—Finance Minister Felix Gaillard, who has urged his countrymen to eat chicken instead of steak as part of his "buy cheaper foods" campaign, said today he is fed up with chicken.

"Everywhere I go I am given chicken," he told an Anglo-American press luncheon as he devoured a chicken wing.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—To hear nine-year-old Philip Biley tell it, you'd think his father was the town drunk.

George Biley was recently named director of the Grand Rapids Alcoholism center. Philip, when asked by his teacher for his father's occupation, answered:

"My father is the chief alcoholic in Grand Rapids."

Madera, Calif.—Don't you believe it—yet—when you see signs in Madera warning of radar traffic control.

The city council decided it does not have enough money to buy radar equipment. However, they agreed to keep motorists on their guard by erecting signs warning of radar control.

Raleigh, N.C.—Sidewalk shoe-shine boys have joined the ranks of vanishing Americans in Raleigh.

The city council yesterday adopted an ordinance forbidding anyone to shine shoes on city streets or sidewalks.

Los Angeles—Firemen yesterday hurried to a downtown restaurant to extinguish a reported kitchen fire.

They were too late. The piece of toast blazing away in a faulty toaster already was burned beyond recognition.

Dear Editor:

I wonder just how much is gained by the student when $2 is paid for parking improvements, then someone turns around and hires a full-time employee. Was this employee hired for nothing? I don't think the students paid that fee to create another position on campus. There must have been someone who kept the records last year and the bookwork shouldn't warrant another full-time employee.

The automobile is here to stay so why not make room for it? Parking can't be spread out any more so what is so ridiculous about a double-deck parking lot south of the Union? As long as the student and faculty member must pay to park in the most convenient parking lot, he might as well pay for the lot. It's like selling more tickets than you have seats in a theater.

I agree that upon completion of the bridge, the lot west of the stadium will be almost as convenient.

Mr. Neil Scott sounds as though he doesn't want to attract new students to our campus by saying that less parking space is one of the less attractive consequences of an expanding enrollment.

Parking isn't the only thing that is lagging on our campus. What is being done about such things as a student bookstore, etc.? Two years ago, a stand-up vote was taken at an SGA meeting for a student bookstore, and a good many students were present. About 95 per cent voted for it, and still we're making studies and surveys.

An air-conditioned mousehouse worth many thousands of dollars was approved for KU this summer. Do you suppose we could get some of that?

The Students Say

Student Government Aids the Participant

By Charlene Strah

Student government is of value to the K-State student if he participates in campus activities and presents his opinion to the governing council was the general opinion of students interviewed on this subject recently. The majority, though, feel that there isn't enough student participation.

Three-fifths of the interviewed students believe that student government is valuable to the average K-Stater as it is the way he has a voice in school policies.

Those who think campus government is not of value to the average student say that the 22-member Student Council is not a sufficient representation of the campus and that the ordinary K-Stater does not express his opinions to the Council members.

Some answers to the question "Is Student Government of any real value to the average student?" are:

ADELIA JOHNSON, HE Jr, Wichita—I think it is a big help if the Council members listen to the general opinion of the people they represent.

DONALD WILBUR, BPM Jr, Manhattan—It gives the students a chance to get acquainted with legislative policies and they can also voice their opinions on controversial matters.

JOYCE RUST, FN Sr, Topeka—Yes. It is the only way we can have any voice in our school government at all. I think more people should be a part of it.

JERRY THIES, BPM Sr, Mission—No matter what the student body decides, the faculty will do what it pleases anyway.

MARY FAYE FRAZIER, HEA Sr, Topeka—Yes. But if more students entered into their student government, it would become more useful to the students as a whole and the campus in general.

LU ANN BURNETTE, Soc Jr, Manhattan—I definitely think so. If it weren't for student government we wouldn't have many of our privileges and organizations.

DALE HOLMGEN, RM Sr, Salina—The student government doesn't do very much for the average student.

JOHN DORST, BA Sr, Olathe—No. The average student doesn't participate in many activities and, therefore, it doesn't help much.

JAN DAVIS, EED Soph, Wichita—Yes. The student gets out of it what he puts into it.

DONNARD NANNINGA, His Sr, Barnes—Yes. It gives the students a chance to have their ideas heard.

Two new department heads, two new associate professors, and eight new assistant professors are included in the 41 changes in the Kansas State college staff.

Mrs. Grace Shugart was promoted from acting head to head of the Department of Institutional Management. She replaces Mrs. Bessie Brooks West who was retired from administrative responsibilities.

Mrs. Shugart received her B.S. in institutional management from Washington State college in 1931 and her M.S. from Iowa State college in 1938. She has been the director of the residence hall food services since joining the K-State staff in 1951.

Mercedes L. Hunsader was appointed associate professor of foods and nutrition and nutritionist in the Kansas agricultural experiment station.

E. Brock Dale is the new associate professor in the Physics department.

The eight new assistant professors are Hyde S. Jacobs, agronomy; Robert W. Kiser, chemistry; Irwin Frederick Thomle, general studies; Joseph Hajda, history, government and philosophy; Mrs. Evelyn K. Kinney and B. J. Pearson, mathematics; Morris D. Hayes, music; and Franz Samelson, psychology.

The other new staff members, all with the rank of instructor, are Harry D. Knostman, applied mechanics; Angelo C. Garzio and John Hanna, art; John Peterson, Jr., agricultural engineering; Ross Mickelson, dairy husbandry; Roy E. Owain, Jr., Tribune branch station; Carolyn Hunt, speech.

Donald Karl Strohmeyer, architecture and allied arts; James G. Robbins and Mrs. Cleatus Wilson Hinds, English; Roger Boatner Boren, entomology; Robert Haney Scott, economics and sociology; Harry McAnarney, education; Paul S. Wingard, geology and geography; Lorraine Schwartz, mathematics.

Vernon P. Deines, Glenn Frank Cochrane Jr., and William M. Burley Jr., mechanical engineering; David Gruender, history, government and philosophy; Judith Karen Hodge and Mrs. Mary Ann Van Meter, physical education; Kenneth K. Gowdy, office of the dean of the School of Engineering and Architecture.

Raymond Charles Richardson, chemical engineering; Ping Liang Ho and Burns E. Hegler, electrical engineering; Mrs. Ivalee McCord, family and child development; Richard A. Anderson, physics; Don Arthur Trumbo, psychology; and Igemar W. Larson, zoology.

Miss Hunsader, who earned her B.S. and Ph.D. degrees at Wisconsin university, will fill the va-

Dale replaces C. M. Fowler, who is now with the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratories. He had been a research physicist at Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, before accepting the position with K-State. He received his Ph.D. at Ohio State university.

Jacobs, who received his Ph.D. from Michigan State university in August, comes to K-State from Michigan State, where he has been teaching soils classes.

Kiser, who received his Ph.D. from Purdue university this summer, will teach inorganic chemistry and do research in radio chemistry this fall.

Thomle leaves Drake university to join the K-State staff. He received his Ph.D. from Northwestern university.

Hajda received his B.S. degree in Prague, Czechoslovakia in 1948 and his Ph.D. degree at Indiana university. He has been an instructor at Indiana for the past three years.

Mrs. Kinney and Pearson will teach advanced courses in the mathematics department. Mrs. Kinney comes to K-State from Illinois Wesleyan university where she was an assistant professor. Pearson, who received his Ph.D. from Texas university, comes from Illinois Institute of Technology.

Hayes leaves Wisconsin university to teach courses in music methods on the graduate and undergraduate level. He received his master's degree in music education from Nebraska university. Hayes will organize and conduct a men's glee club and will conduct the women's glee club.

Samelson, who replaces Walter Crockett, now at Clarke university, will teach in the field of social psychology. He received his Ph.D. from Michigan university in 1950 and before coming to K-State was a teaching and research assistant there.

Curriculums Changed To Benefit Students

Broader education for majors in technical fields and better benefits for the student are results of several revisions in the K-State curriculums this year.

In order to meet the present-day demand for a larger educational background, the School of Engineering and Architecture has put more emphasis on non-technical work.

Chemical and mechanical engineering fields both have hiked their number of required hours from 142 to 148. "These changes are for the purpose of including more general education and non-technical work," reports Dean M. A. Durland.

The other engineering curriculums have followed suit. Instead of increasing hours, they have dropped some technical courses from their schedules.

The home economics and nursing major requirements have changed this year. In a working agreement with KU, students previously attended K-State for four semesters and a summer school, then went on to the KU Medical center where they were able to receive a combined degree in home economics and nursing after 12 months of study.

Now the women will attend school for an extra summer and also carry a heavier load during the regular sessions. Then, upon completion of 15 months of training at the med center, they will be eligible to receive separate degrees in both home economics and nursing. Such a split degree will provide more benefits to the student after graduation.

The School of Agriculture has just finished moving approximately 100 classes to different parts of the campus. These classes, which had their quarters destroyed by the Waters hall fire, have been relocated in everything from livestock pavilions to boxed-in hallways.

Director C. Peairs Wilson noted that there were no major changes in the agriculture curriculums. "There is, however, a proposal before the Senate to increase the amount of time for student teaching participation," said Peairs. The duration of time for practice teaching is now two weeks. It is hoped that this time can be increased to four or five weeks.

The Music department has made changes in the choral setup this year as the opportunity to sing is now being offered by three choral groups: the men's glee club, the women's glee club, and the College chorus. Dean Paul Young of the School of Arts and Sciences terms this revision "the most ambitious effort in the improvement of choral work since I have been here."

The change affecting the largest number of students occurred in the School of Arts and Sciences. Written Communications II is now a three-hour requirement. Last year only the "honors" section of this course was for three hour credit.

Campus Fashions Are Bright but Bulky for Fall

CREW SWEATERS are autumn favorites for both boys and girls on the K-State campus this year. Steadies, Cerena Biles, EE Soph, and John Foresman, ME Fr, are in style with their matching set. Worn with the newest plaid or plain wool skirt and slacks, they provide warmth and comfort for brisk fall days. They are popular in both bright and pastel colors with shades of red topping the list.

Plaids, Crew Sweaters, Saddles Back in Style

By KATHY SCHULTIS

K-Staters with an eye for fads and fashions have taken to dashing plaids of red, blue, black, and green; bulky sweaters in a variety of knits and styles; and saddle oxfords for campus wear.

Topping the fashion list for both guys and gals are the bulky sweaters. Styles range from tailored cardigans to loose-fitting pullovers. Coeds have adopted the bulky cardigan almost exclusively for warmth on chill mornings and evenings. Still seen are the ever-popular boxy jackets in plaids or plain fabrics.

Another favorite is the Shetland sweater. Colors range from sparkling white to warm shades of brown and black. Choice of fibers is unlimited as these sweaters are knitted of wool, orlon, nylon, cashmere, and various blends.

Not to be neglected are Ivy league clothes which were so popular on the campus last season. Fellows and girls seem to go for the gabardines with the buckles, button down collars, and straight lines. Popular colors are shades of khaki, green, and the charcoal browns, greys, and blacks. Also included are stripes and plaids.

The saddle oxford has undergone some remodeling and emerges as the favorite shoe of the K-Stater. Color combinations include black and white, brown and white, black and gray, plus others. New this season is the saddle shoe of smooth leather with suede. Saddles have entered the Ivy League with the addition of the buckle across the heel. Loafers, long time college favorites, have taken a back seat this year, but still are being worn on the campus extensively.

Entering the collegiate scene this season are Jamaica shorts, not to be confused with the standard Bermudas. Jamaica shorts are two inches shorter than the Bermuda shorts and can be found in wool, gabardine, denim, and other fabrics. Coeds again are endorsing tapered slacks and torreador pants for casual wear.

Coeds will keep toast warm in the newest car coats, a favorite of last season. These coats have been improved and appear in a wide variety of styles, colors, and fabrics. The newest of these coats features a detachable hood, mitten sleeves, and a warm flannel lining. Fashion experts predict a record sale of car coats this season because of their popularity last year.

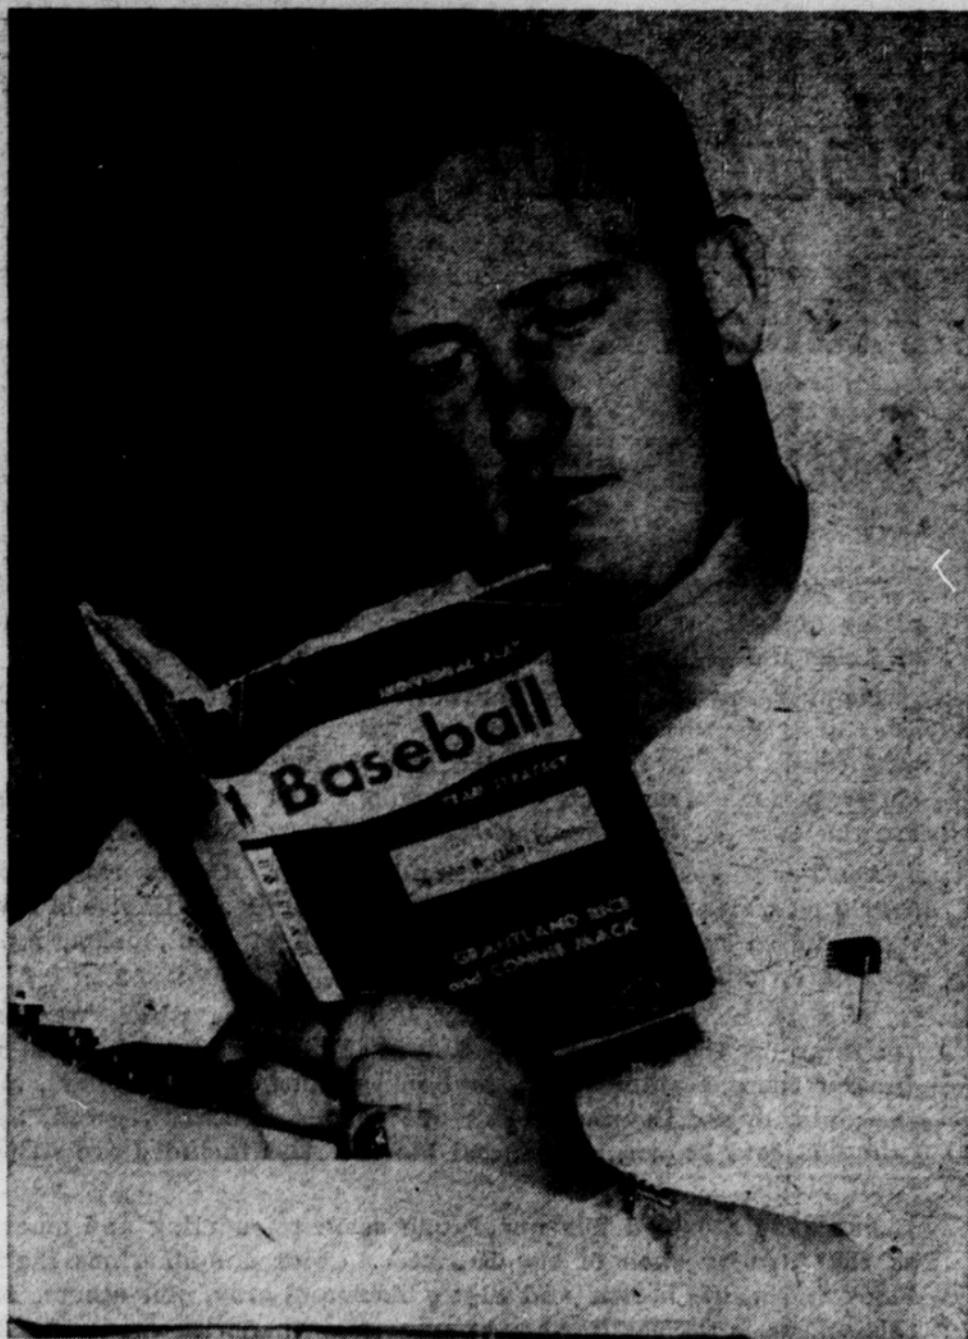

The emphasis on fashion would not be completed without including the newest bulky fabrics in heavy tweeds and bold plaids. Coeds are wearing dresses, skirts, and coats in these exciting fabrics. The latest note for fellows is the vest made of one of these new fabrics. Easy fit is being stressed this season.

COEDS ARE KEEPING warm this fall and winter in car coats of various fabrics and colors. The khaki poplin coat worn by Eddee Houghton, Art Fr, (right) remains the most popular type worn on the K-State campus, but other styles such as the one worn by Mary Sue Schroeder, Gvt Fr, are seen quite extensively.

STUDYING DOESN'T LOOK so bad when Pat Elsrode, BMT Fr, and Janet Gladfelter, EE Fr, do it. Plaid or plain tapered slacks and Bermuda shorts worn with sweaters or blouses are still campus favorites for studying or lounging. The Ivy League blouse with button-down collar and the saddle oxfords worn by Janet are also very much in fashion this year.

GUARD WALLY CARLSON, starter for the Cats two years in a row, is a versatile man at K-State. He has earned two varsity letters in football and two in baseball while holding a 2.3 grade average.

Wally Carlson One of Seven Who Will Anchor Cat Line

By TERRY KNOWLES

One of the anchors of the veteran K-State forward wall this fall will be two-year letterman Wally Carlson. Carlson, who has been moved to tackle from his 1956 right guard position, will be one of seven regular returning linemen.

Carlson has been a standout on the field for his hustle and desire, and is praised highly for his team effort by head coach Bus Mertes. "Wally goes out of his shoes everytime he put his uniform on," explained Mertes, describing Wally's degree of determination. Mertes also said that Carlson is one of the team leaders and is extremely dependable.

The 6-0, 220-pound gridiron exchanged positions with Gene Meier who was regular tackle last year. Carlson's tackle post is not entirely new to him as he played right tackle his sophomore year at Vermillion high school. Besides playing on the line in high school, Carlson also played two years as a fullback during his four-year prep career.

When asked how he like the change of positions, Wally commented that it made no difference where he was playing as long as he was in the game.

The senior tackle stated that of all the linemen that he has faced, Billy Krisher, 6-1, 213-pound senior guard at Oklahoma, rated tops. Krisher, one of three captains of the 1957 Sooner team, will be one of Oklahoma's All-American prospects.

"The biggest thrill of my college football career probably was the 46-0 win over KU in 1955," Wally commented.

Besides lettering two years as a grid performer, Wally also doubles as a baseball standout. Last year Carlson started the season as the Wildcat's regular first baseman but he later switched to catcher due to a series of team injuries. Wally has earned two varsity letters in baseball.

Wally's academic standings, like his athletic feats, are tops. Last semester Wally compiled a 2.6 grade average to bolster his all-college average to 2.3.

Cats Work On Defense For Opener

Defense against the Wyoming University multiple offense was the main concern of head football coach Bus Mertes yesterday.

The Wildcats had light contact work and practiced on kick-offs and point-after-touchdown plays.

A light workout today will be the final practice before the season's opener at Laramie Saturday.

George Laddish, 192-pound senior end, will not make the trip due to a bruised instep, and Jerry Sand, 205-pound tackle, is on the doubtful list because of a shoulder separation.

Portable starters for the Cats, all lettermen, are ends Don Zadnik and Jim Luzinski, tackles Jack Keelan and Wally Carlsen, guards Gene Meier and Jaydee Stinson, center Ellis Rainsberger, halfbacks Gene Keady and Ben Grosse, quarterback Dick Corbin, and fullback Ray Glaze.

IM Managers Meeting Called

There will be a meeting of all intramural managers Monday, September 23 at 7 p.m. on the third floor of Ahern gymnasium. Intramural swimming will start the evening of September 30 and will continue through October 1 and 2.

Paris Most Fascinating, Boyd Says

NOPE, IT'S NOT FROM ITALY—Marcia Boyd admires a hat that only Americans would be crazy enough to manufacture.

By JIM FIEDLER

"Paris was the most fascinating place I've ever seen," says Marcia Boyd, TJ Sr. "Everything you see or do is just like all of the pictures and stories you have seen or read." Marcia spent two months in England and one week each in France, Switzerland, and Italy.

"I liked England very much," she said. "England is full of history." While in London Marcia saw the changing of the guard, the Tower of London, St. Paul's Cathedral, the Bank of England, the London bridge, and other historical places. "The changing of the guard was quite spectacular with all the colorful red and black uniforms and beautifully matched horses," she said.

Marcia spent most of her time in England in the industrial north at Warrington, visiting with her sister Pat Boyd, B.S. '54. While she was at Warrington she visited schools and spent some time observing a weekly newspaper.

One of Marsha's most interesting weekends spent in England took place on a farm. The farm covered 230 acres and they raised wheat, sheep, and cattle. "The farmer wanted me to help with the harvest but it rained all of the time," Marcia said. "He didn't seem to worry about the wet grain; he said he could sell the crop for feed if not for grain and get more money for it as feed." All of the wheat has to be dried because of the damp weather in England. Most of the farmers have driers of their own, she said.

One thing that intrigued Marcia was the fact that no place in England is over 50 miles from the sea.

In Switzerland friends she met on the ship going over took her water skiing on Lake Geneva. "The lake was surrounded with beautiful mountains," Marcia said. "They didn't even mention a life preserver and I didn't ask for one. I found out later the lake was more than 600 feet deep in places. It kind of shook me up."

Marcia visited the northern part of Italy. "Italy was not at all like I had pictured it," she said. "The farms were well tended and irrigated. The farmers grew all kinds of truck crops under the trees and in every available spot."

Twenty-one dorm counselors, to be called resident assistants, have been appointed for the freshman dormitories, according to Virginia Smith, director of Northwest hall.

The new resident assistants, who will live in Northwest and Southeast halls, are Meredith Brink, MGS Sr; Patricia Cary, BMT Jr; Gearlyn Diehl, DIM Jr; Linda Drenon, Mth Jr; Orville Fergus, Mth Jr; Janice Gaddis, Ag Jr; Gretchen Good; Sandra Jones; Barbara Kethcart, Ed Jr;

Scott, Hatfield To Play Key SGA Roles

By IMOGENE LAMB

A PAIR OF K-STATE SENIORS figure to play prominent parts in student government this year. Neil Scott, Soc Sr from Rozel, is Student Governing association president, and Paul Hatfield, AEd Sr from Valley Falls, is chairman of the Student Council.

Having similar interests and attitudes, Scott and Hatfield have undertaken—and liked—a strenuous schedule of activities during their college careers.

Last year Neil was Student Council vice-chairman and was voted the outstanding Council member of the year. He served on the Activities board, worked with the leadership school, headed the SGA assembly, the Campus Business Relations committee, and was chairman of elections.

AS STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT, he is automatically chairman of the Big Eight Governing association which was set up last December to promote an interchange of ideas and mutual problems among the Big Eight schools.

Blue Key, Scabbard and Blade, Alpha Zeta, intramural football, basketball, and tennis, Dairy club, and Klad and Kernel have kept Hatfield busy. But life was still not busy enough for him—he was married this summer to Carol Bowen also from Valley Falls.

Each has been president of his fraternity—Neil of Lambda Chi Alpha, and Paul of Delta Sigma Phi. Paul served also as rush chairman before he was elected president.

The two leaders returned from a student body president's conference sponsored by the National Student association at the University of Michigan in August. They regard K-State's government policies as "progressive" as compared with many other schools, but stress the need for even more individual student participation.

"BECAUSE WE ARE PROGRESSIVE, we have more areas from which to present student body ideas and represent the student body to the administration and the town's people," Paul explained. "I feel every student should try to take a vital interest in happenings of student government."

In agreement, Scott stressed that interest in committees, better election turn-out, and an awareness by the students of what government does and can do, are essential to maintain the present rate of progress.

"It is commonly accepted that student government is beneficial experience in democratic procedure. It should supplement students' academic training, and contribute to the total educational processes of an individual," Neil said.

"We have great potential here for student government, because of the academic freedom granted us by the administration. Students should have a role in college policy making," he said.

Enthusiasm for the Student Council retreat at Lake Shawnee, Topeka, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday was voiced by both Neil and Paul. "It is a first in student government at K-State," Hatfield said.

Officers reported that the fuss was over a bridge game in which one player "was all upset because she had been unable to get a decent hand."

Scott, Soc Sr from Rozel, is Student Governing association president, and Hatfield, AEd Sr from Valley Falls, is chairman of the Student Council. Both believe that K-State's student government is "progressive" in comparison with other schools, but they feel that there is a need for more student participation.

United States Equals Russia With Long-Range Missile

By UNITED PRESS

Washington—Officials said today the United States has tested a ballistic missile equal to Russia's.

The defense department said the test vehicle was fired "thousands of miles" across the skies. Experts said that the test showed it was possible to send a rocket at speeds of 12,000 to 15,000 miles per hour to distances of 3,600 miles.

Confirmation of reports that the U.S. had tested a long range ballistic missile came last night in a speech to a scientific forum by William Holaday, special assistant for guided missiles to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Holaday, speaking of rocket propulsion advances, said:

"Where are we now? We have sent a test ballistic missile thousands of miles, developed rocket-powered aircraft, and are about to put an earth satellite into the unknown vacuum of space."

The Russians claimed last month they had shot a missile "a huge distance." They said the test showed it was possible to direct rockets to any part of the world.

Faubus Talk 'Disappoints'

Newport, R.I.—President Eisenhower was "deeply disappointed" today over the fact his conference with Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus last Saturday had apparently failed to produce a solution to the Little Rock integration controversy.

The President's feelings on the matter were made known yesterday after he talked on the telephone with Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., in Washington.

Faubus was ordered to appear today before Federal District Judge Ronald E. Davies in a hearing in which the federal government has petitioned for an injunction against the use of troops to frustrate integration of the Little Rock school. Faubus called out the Arkansas National Guard for that purpose two weeks ago.

Cats Open Football Season Against Wyoming Coach Mertes Says Gridders Are Well Prepared

The K-State Wildcats open their 60th football season Saturday against the Wyoming Cowboys at Laramie in a non-conference battle.

No serious injuries haunt the 37-man traveling squad and a first unit solid with lettermen hopes for more offense than they showed last season.

"We think we are better than last year," coach Bus Mertes said, "and we know we are more experienced."

"We're not fooling ourselves about how tough Wyoming can be. How could we? The Cowboys have licked us the last two years. In fact, the only time we have beaten them, Corky Taylor was the whole show. He made two long touchdown runs and set a new school record for rushing."

"I feel we are better prepared this year than at the same time last year," Bus continued. "But we haven't had enough scrimmage work."

The small, fast Cats hope to overcome a fourth quarter jinx that the Cowpokes hold on them. Last year Wyoming came from behind in the final quarter to win, 27-15. A year earlier the Cowboys pounded out a decisive, 38-20 decision when they rammed over three fourth-period touchdowns.

Wyoming has a strong first unit led by the quarterbacking of all-Skyline performer, Larry Zowada, a triple-threat man. The Cowboy's first string has thin backing, and head coach Bob Devancy said, "We have a long way to go, but there is progress being made."

K-State averages 195-pounds to the man and the Cowpokes mean is 193. Broken down, K-State backs average 176 and the linemen 205. The Wyoming backfield averages 175 and the line 204.

Wildcat fans will be able to hear the game over the K-State sports network. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

Gymnast Dziura Has Varied Career Was in Concentration Camp as Child

By ELDON MILLER

A young man who as a child had to earn his food by burying the war dead in a concentration camp now looms as the brightest gymnastics prospect ever to attend K-State.

Twenty-one year old Mike Dziura, a Polish refugee who came to the United States in 1951, "has more potential than any other gymnast we have ever had here." This is what gymnastics coach

Frank Thompson, who has been on the K-State scene for some 20 years, had to say about his new gym protege. "He has the strength, flexibility, speed, stamina, coordination . . . everything that he needs."

Dziura, who is majoring in Modern languages, has just been introduced to gymnastics since his arrival at K-State. He has already mastered many of the fundamental gym movements in half the time it would take the average beginner.

The reason for Mike's sudden adaptation to the tricks of gymnastics is because he received excellent training in weight lifting.

Mike attended high school in Kansas City, Mo., and upon graduation in 1954 he was encouraged to take up weight training by Dr. G. W. Kelling, who owned a local health club.

Dziura accepted and by 1956 he had made such strides in the weightlifting avocation that he won the Missouri Valley AAU Weightlifting Championship three times that year.

Dr. Kelling, who is a close friend of coach Thompson's, encouraged Mike to come to K-State for gymnastic training. Mike again accepted Dr. Kelling's suggestion.

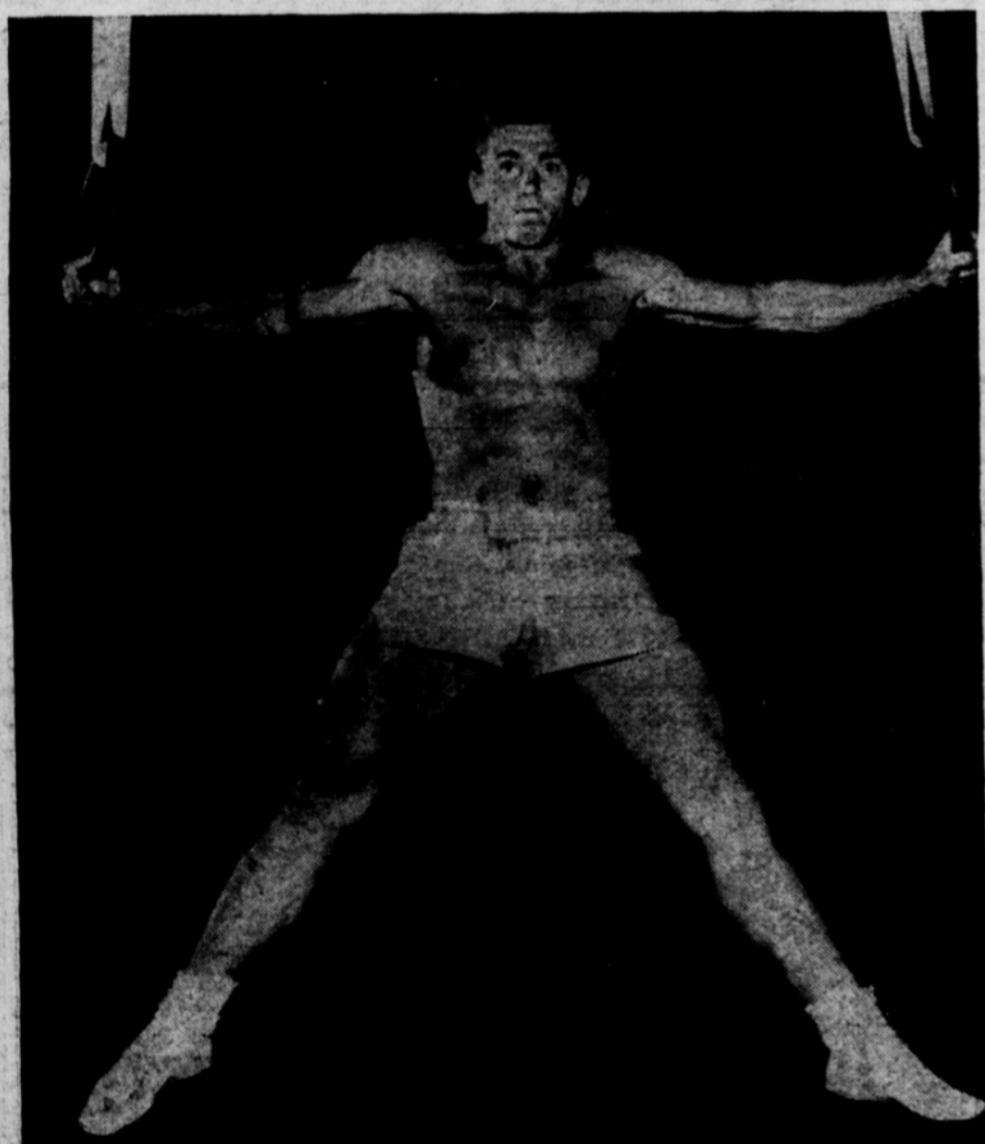

When asked whether Dziura could easily make the switch from weightlifting to gymnastics, Thompson replied, "His weight lifting has been of the correct type. It will be easy learning for him because he is not muscle-bound."

Dziura, who stands 5-5 and weighs 165 pounds, possesses a very well-built body.

Dziura suffered the hardships of concentration camps at an early age. During World War II he was taken from his native Poland and placed in a German concentration camp. It was here that he had to earn his board by burying those who had died from the hardships of war.

"I was young when I was in that concentration camp," Mike said. "I probably couldn't stand to do any of that now. But then I didn't really get the full realization of what was going on."

Dziura doesn't spend all of

Wilson's Forte Is Elusiveness As Halfback or Quarterback

By JOHN RODRIGUEZ

Birmingham, Alabama, the city which has produced such professional football stars as Hoppy Middleton and Harry Gilmore of the Detroit Lions and Travis Tidwell of the New York Giants, is the same city that sent Keith Wilson to K-State.

Wilson, who is currently running in the left-halfback position on the second unit, can also do a capable job at the quarterback slot, the position where he earned his second varsity letter. As a sophomore, he lettered at halfback.

"Anyone who plays two positions as well as he does is a tremendous asset to any squad," said Bus Mertes, head football coach. "His main strength as a runner lies in his elusive running."

Herb Cormack, one of the two backfield coaches, illustrated Wilson's running ability with an incident from last year's game with Michigan State. Wilson intercepted a Spartan pass for a 67-yard runback and, Cormack said, the entire Michigan State team had a chance to tackle him before he was finally brought down. "He ran all over the field."

Wilson, who stands 5-8 and weighs 165-pounds, is a better than average passer from the halfback position. "He should add something to the running pass attack," said Cormack. He completed 17 of 44 passes last season.

Cormack rates Wilson as one of the best defensive backs the team has, especially on pass defense.

In tomorrow's game against Wyoming he will be playing against an old high school competitor. Frank Bonds, 180-pound guard, broke Wilson's collar bone in high school football play.

When asked about tomorrow's game, Wilson replied, "It's going to be a good game and we're going out there to win. We've got the right mental attitude and tomorrow we'll find out how good we are."

Wilson came to K-State from West End high in Birmingham, Ala. He claimed he was too small to play in the Southeastern conference, said he came to K-State because Bill Meek, former Wildcat mentor and an alumnus of West End high, gave him a chance to play at K-State.

While in high school, he lettered three years in football and four years in track. He made all-city, all-state, and all-Southern as a football player.

KEITH WILSON, 165-pound halfback, will see a lot of action tomorrow in Laramie against the Wyoming Cowboys. He gained 431 yards on 103 carries last year for a 4.8 average.

Wilson has been shifted to halfback this fall after lettering at half in 1955 and at quarterback last year. Last year he completed 17 of 44 passes and returned eight punts 89 yards. He is tops at broken field running where his sharp cutting gets him out of tight spots.

USF Members Start Bible Topics Series

Discussions of student-chosen Bible topics will be a new feature of the Sunday evening United Student Fellowship meetings this semester.

By playing designated roles in controlled discussions, participants will learn what methods they should use and how to improve panel discussions.

First in the series will be the topic, "Unfolding Drama of the Bible," which will be discussed this Sunday at 6:30 p.m. in the Congregational church, 700 Poyntz.

The observer and helper in these discussions will be Dr. Maurice Woolf, who spent several years in Japan on a government mission instructing in approaches to problem solving for college professors and students.

Throughout the series Dr. Woolf will point out techniques discussion leaders can use to stimulate individual thinking to more creative ideas and to defining their own objectives.

Money Taken from SU; Window Found Unlocked

By JIM BELL

A burglary of the K-State Union business office early Sunday morning netted an undetermined amount of money, according to Union Director Loren Kottner.

Three metal boxes containing change and a green canvas money sack were taken from a safe in the business office. "It may take several hours to find out how much was taken. They are working on it now in the business office," Kottner said.

Kottner said that the safe lock was not broken, though the safe door was ajar Sunday morning. A window in the business office that had been locked at about midnight Saturday was found unlocked Sunday morning. Kottner said the Kansas Bureau of Investigation had been called into the case.

"We had taken every possible security measure I could think of—a maximum security safe, the campus patrol checked the building every 30 minutes, only three people in the building know the combination to the safe," Kottner said.

Union cashier Dorothy Crottinger worked 'till approximately midnight Saturday in the business office. However, she was not finished with her work, she said, and returned Sunday morning at about 11:15 to finish her job. She discovered the pilfered safe.

The Manhattan Police department was called immediately, Kottner said, and they summoned the KBI into the case. "The Kansas Bureau of Investigation has taken over the case, and has given us every co-operation," Kottner said.

Miss Crottinger said that she knew the safe had been opened because the safe handles were not straight as they would have been, had the safe been locked. She tried to dial the campus patrol, but was unable to reach them. She finally called the local Police department, and they informed the campus patrol and the KBI.

KBI men working on the case could not be contacted for comment before presstime this morning.

Thriftiness Will Help In House Decorations

The house whose decorations show an ability to carry out homecoming theme without undue cost will be given an additional five points, according to a decision reached by the Homecoming decorations committee Wednesday.

The Homecoming committee strongly urges that each house turn in a list of materials on hand used and the approximate amount of money spent on new materials to the committee by October 18. This information will be used by the 1958 Homecoming committee to help them determine a maximum amount that can be spent by each house next year.

Recognition will be given at half-time of the Homecoming football game to the sorority and fraternity house that has the greatest per cent of returning alumni as compared to the number of current members. The alumni must register before the game to qualify. The percentages will be determined by a committee composed of Chimes members.

Parade entries must be turned in to Cathy Blanford, Sp Jr, by September 30. Each entrant will receive a copy of the parade-judging criteria.

Purple Pepsters Meet

Purple Pepsters will meet this afternoon at 5 in Room 207 of the Union, according to Joyce Graham, BA Sr, president. The first meeting is for all newly elected members and previous members. K-State cheerleaders will also attend the first session to teach several yells to the group.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN
Monday, September 23, 1957-2

Newspapers, Even the Collegian, Are News—Not House—Organs

MANY K-STATERS THINK, I'm sure, that since the Collegian is a campus newspaper and also because its subscription is mandatory, that it is dutybound to print detailed accounts of extracurricular activities and special events sponsored by campus organizations.

Many of these organizations don't stop to realize that newspapers are primarily news-dispensing organs and that a detailed report of their organizations, activities would interest only those directly concerned.

The Collegian has set up a "Klub Kolumn" and "Activities" section designed to give blanket coverage to all types and sizes of organizations. We feel that this special section gives adequate notice and coverage to all the extracurricular activities on the campus.

WE DON'T WANT to give the impression that the Collegian doesn't appreciate the tips that many organizations give us. But the constant badgering from presidents and secretaries to get front-page coverage for an activity that concerns only a handful of people quickly alienates the folks who must decide what goes where in a newspaper.

Doubtless there will be times when your organization will disagree with our evaluation. In that case, make your dissatisfaction known to us and we'll be happy to explain to you just why your activity's publicity received the placement it did.

Of course, if your organization is bringing in a nationally-known speaker or is sponsoring an all-College pizza bust, the Collegian has a chain of command and your request for more publicity will probably get more attention if you'll give it to the reporter who's covering your organization.

With the reporter's story hanging on a news hook within easy reach of an issue editor, the possibility for publication increases 100 per cent.

A RANDOM CALL to Kedzie in hopes of mailing the editor or an assistant editor will more than likely be lost in the shuffle and never appear in the paper. So contact the reporter first, 'cause he's taking the course for credit and needs the points, and then if you're still irritated at the way the story was handled, let us know.

By the way, when you do blow your stack and insist on talking to a higher authority, make sure you have a good reason, 'cause there's a million reasons why some stories never make print—and they're all valid.—Roger Myers.

White Students Walk Out, Join Mob as Negroes Integrate Little Rock's Central High School

Little Rock, Ark.—Crowds of adults, including at least one well known segregation leader, milled outside police barricades at Central high school today, while hundreds of white students streamed to their classes.

As the Negro students walked into the school, white students started a walkout. Thirty to 50 white students, who filled one study hall, marched down the front steps and joined the yelling mobs on the sidewalk.

"They're in, they're in," a white girl ran down the street, screaming.

"Let's go in and get the bastards out," her mother said. But there was no immediate attempt by a crowd of perhaps 500 to invade the school.

Twelve Trapped in Mine

Brownsville, Pa.—An explosion today ripped through the Banning shaft, a mine owned by the Bethlehem Steel Corp., at Marianna, seven miles west of here. State police said between nine and 12 men were trapped.

Capt. Frank L. Garnow of the state police barracks here, said he understood "at least four of the trapped men were alive."

Communication with four miners was established shortly after the blast which occurred at 7:10 a.m. EDT, he said. A note attached to a rope was dropped down the portal shaft of the mine and the men wrote their names on the note.

The state police officer said a mine rescue team was trying to reach the trapped men through another entrance and that workers on the surface were trying to establish telephone communications.

Bomb Melts Steel Tower

Angel's Peak, Nev.—"Whitney," the oft-postponed, "hard luck" nuclear test of the Atomic Energy Commission's Operation Plumbob, sent a thunderclap across the Nevada desert today as it was exploded atop a 500-foot steel tower.

The device, finally detonated as the 22nd scheduled test of the summer series, had a yield estimated at the equivalent of 15,000 tons of TNT as it vaporized its tower and blossomed into a glowing ball of fire that faded within seconds after its firing at 5:30 a.m. PDT.

Sands of the desert at the Yucca Flat test site were sucked up into the air to form a towering stem for the familiar mushroom pattern that climbed rapidly in the early dawn.

The flash was seen in all surrounding Western states. It was clearly visible through light haze in Los Angeles and also was reported by observers in San Francisco.

Asian Flu Shuts School

Port Huron, Mich.—A flu outbreak in Michigan threatened to force the shutdown of schools in Port Huron today, but state health officials cautioned there is no cause for alarm.

At least three other Michigan cities, Saginaw, Detroit and Frankenmuth, have been hit by a wave of respiratory illnesses, believed to be Asian flu.

National health officials, meanwhile, reported at least 15 deaths so far in the nation blamed directly on Asian flu or associated with it. The U.S. Public Health service said most of the deaths were in California.

The service estimates that about 100,000 persons have been stricken by Asian flu in the nation.

Elsewhere, about 50 students at the University of Iowa in Iowa City were ill with the flu and tests were underway to determine if it was the Asian type. Most of the students were girls.

The Asian flu first occurred in the U.S. at military posts. Since then it has spread to a number of states, with California, Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi among the hardest hit.

Wildcats Look Toward BYU After 12-7 Loss To Wyoming

Laramie — K-State's football team is looking forward to next Saturday's home opener against Brigham Young university after losing to Wyoming, 12-7, at Laramie Saturday.

An early game offensive show by K-State against Wyoming died young. The Wildcats started the well-chilled crowd of 12,733 with first quarter end sweeps that netted the game's first touchdown on a 70-yard run by halfback Gene Keady after 7:47 of action.

But it was a story of "almost enough" after that as the Cowboys took a 12-7 win in the season opener for both teams.

Twice in the first half the Wildcats were only a breath away from a touchdown. The first of those came late in the first quarter when in six running plays K-State went 39 yards to the one-yard-line. They couldn't do it from there, however, on two plays.

Then with the clock running out in the first half, quarterback Dick Corbin was headed for the end zone from the two-yard-line. A one-handed grab by Wyoming halfback Harold Farmer stopped him and time denied any further effort.

Meantime Wyoming was moving well off passes by quarterback Larry Zowada and bull-like rushes by fullback Greg Maushart. It was mainly on these the Cowpokes netted their pair of scores.

Although this marked the third successive time the Wildcats have lost to Wyoming, it was a new story in late game play. The last two games have seen K-State fade in the final period. In this one they rared up strong in the closing minutes, stopping Wyoming and moving under a full head of steam at the finish. When the final horn blew, the Cats were at Wyoming's six-yard line but couldn't get off another play.

Both teams were using brand new offenses. Wyoming was testing a "multiple" offense, and the Wildcats were using a winged-T. Both looked good enough to please the coaches, which probably assures their being adopted for the rest of the season.

Keady carried 12 times for 132 yards. Corbin completed six of 16 passes for 82 yards and quarterback Les Krull connected on one of seven passes for four yards.

Ends Don Zadnik and Jim Luxinski each caught two passes and fullback Ralph Pfeifer and halfback Ron Besch pulled in one apiece.

Keith Wilson punted twice for an average of 35 yards and Ben Grosse kicked one for 53 yards. Wyoming's Zowada booted two for a 49-yard average.

Grid Contest Best Guess By Gilmore

Lance Gilmore, TJ Sr, and Jerry Bonner, BA Soph, placed first and second, respectively, in the Collegian's initial Pigskin Prognostications contest.

Gilmore and Bonner both thought Wyoming would edge K-State, 13-12, but Gilmore came closer in the forecast of yards rushing and passing. Gilmore guessed the Cats would net 170 yards on the ground and 73 passing while Bonner forecast 135 rushing and 65 in the air. Officially, K-State made 275 rushing and 86 passing.

Bonner was closer on the number of first downs as he forecast 11 and Gilmore eight. The team had 15 first downs.

Entrants are reminded to put the team name as well as the score on their prognostications. Many entries were disqualified because only the score was given.

Milwaukee virtually cinched the National league pennant over the weekend by winning two games while St. Louis was losing one and winning one.

The Braves are leading the Cardinals by five games.

The Yankees are leading the Chicago White Sox by six games after both clubs won on Sunday. There is no way the New York club can finish lower than a tie for first. This is only if they lose the rest of their games and the Sox go undefeated.

SC Sets Referendum Dates For October 31, November 1

Student Council voted last night to conduct a student opinion poll on changing the name of Kansas State college to Kansas State university. The referendum will be held on October 31 and November 1.

It was decided that an informative period to present both the pros and cons of the question be conducted prior to voting, and that a committee be established and given authority to prepare ballots and educational material about the name change.

Traffic Control board applications will be re-opened until next Thursday at 4 p.m., the Council decided.

It was voted to have the Committee Coordinating staff established as a six-member group. A Student Council member will serve as chairman and sixth member of the staff.

The Council appointed Dwight Bennett, Ar Jr, chairman; Jack Hamilton, BA Jr, John Davis, EE Soph, Larry Foulke, NE Jr, Larry Jeffreys, EE Fr, and Fran Schwartz, BPM Soph, to the Committee Coordinating staff.

Hubert Guest, Ar Sr, and Richard Talbott, VM Sr, were appointed to the Athletic council.

The Council voted to ask J. C. Harel, insurance man, to speak to a special committee about the possibility of making health insurance available to college students. The health insurance committee consists of Sam Warren, EE Sr, chairman, and Mardy Edwards, HDA Jr. No definite time was designated for Harel to talk with the committee.

Judicial Board Plan Discussed by AWS

The establishment of the Judicial Board of the Associated Women Students progressed one step further as Peggy Daniels, Eng Jr, first vice-president of AWS, read replies to letters sent to all women's houses, to the members of the AWS executive board last night.

The AWS Judicial Board will have jurisdiction over infractions of college standards which pertain particularly to women. It will not infringe on the authority of the College Tribunal nor is it subordinate to the Tribunal.

Reports will be sent to the AWS Judicial Board every two weeks by the judicial boards in the various women's living groups. These will include a list of all infractions of college standards and the action taken by the local board. All reports will be confidential and will be placed in a file available only to the administration and members of the Judicial Board.

The AWS Judicial Board may call before it any case which seems to merit its consideration and in which the Board thinks it can be of service to the living group. Any girl may appeal her case from a local tribunal, and a local board may refer a case to the AWS Judicial Board.

The amount of money stolen from the Union early Sunday morning has been determined, but figures have not been released. No progress report is available, and Loren Kottner, Union director, had no comment this morning.

Dorothy Crottinger, Union cashier, discovered the loss Sunday morning when she returned to the Union to complete work begun Saturday. She worked 'til midnight Saturday, and left, making sure the safe, doors, and windows of the room were locked.

Sunday morning Miss Crottinger returned to find an open window and a pilfered safe with the door open, but the lock was not broken. Three metal boxes containing change and a green canvas money sack were taken.

Most likely time for the burglary to have occurred was between 4:30 and 5:30 in the morning. That was the only time during the night that no one was in the building, according to Kottner.

Only three people, all employees in the business office, know the combination to the safe. Mr. Kottner added that the combination had been changed only a month ago. No written copies of the combination are available.

The case is in the hands of the Kansas Bureau of Investigation and the insurance company covering the loss.

BULLETIN

President Eisenhower today ordered federalization of the Arkansas National Guard to meet the Little Rock integration crisis.

The executive order directed Defense Secretary Charles Wilson to muster into active Federal military service members of the Arkansas National Guard "for an indefinite period and until relieved by appropriate orders."

The president plans to fly back to Washington this afternoon in time to make a nationwide TV and radio speech at 8 p.m. tonight. He will broadcast from his White House office.

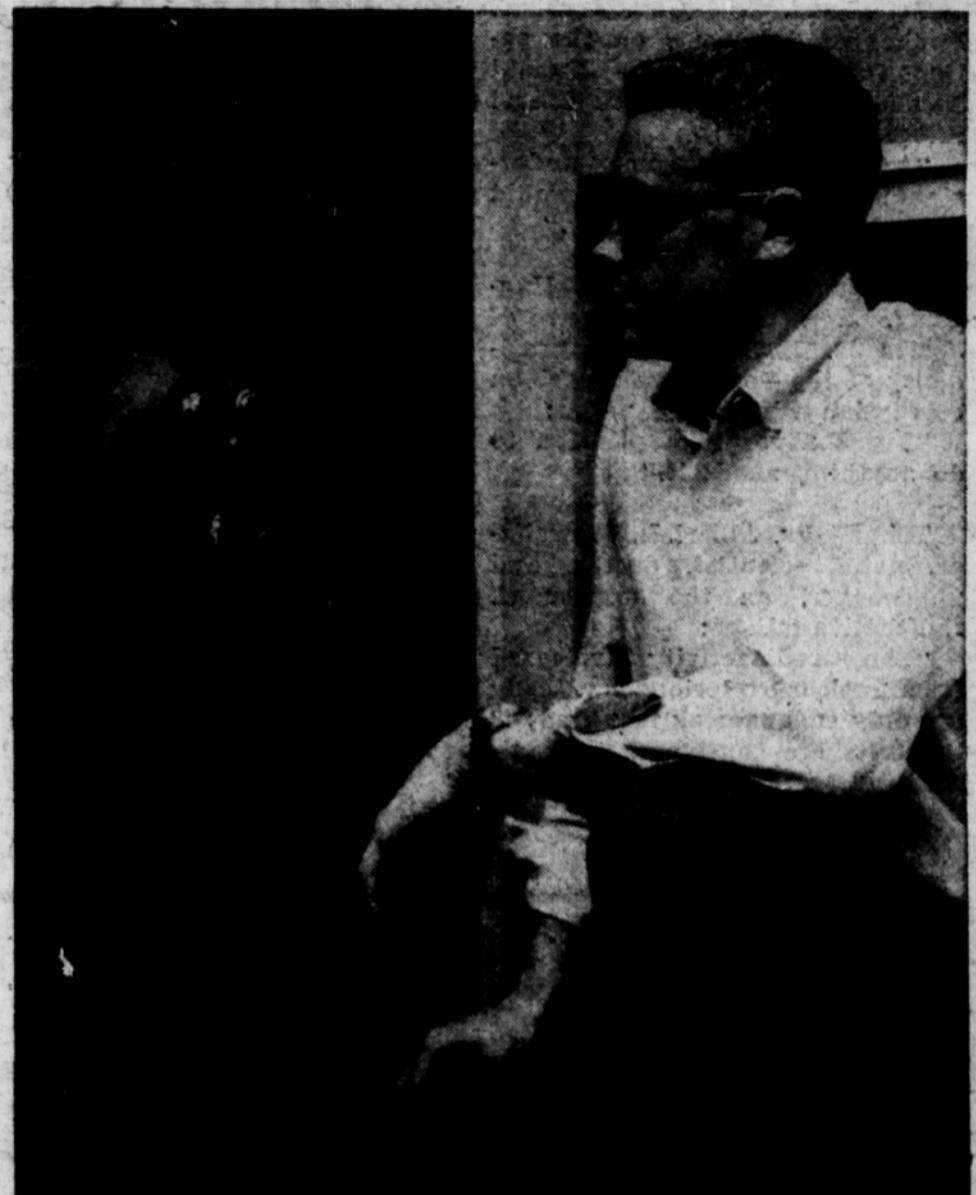

The head of the NAACP in Arkansas has announced that the nine Negro children will attend Central high school tomorrow—now that the federalized national guard can start protecting them. Rioting outside the high school necessitated removal of the nine students from the high school yesterday.

The President also authorized Wilson to use any regular U.S. armed forces to break up crowds in Little Rock resisting compliance with the school integration order.

Football Festival Candidate Returns; 'Thrilling Week' Says Connie Morgan

Connie Morgan, HE Soph, K-State's candidate for Miss Football, said getting acquainted with so many different people was the biggest opportunity of her whole week spent in California at the University of California Football Festival.

"It was the most thrilling week I've ever spent in my whole life," she said. "Everything was so wonderful; it's hard to express in words what a big opportunity it was for me."

Connie spent last Sunday and Monday in Los Angeles. On Monday morning the contestants were guests on the NBC television program, "This Is Your Life," where Connie appeared with movie star, Tony Perkins.

A trip to Disneyland filled the afternoon and evening. "You can't imagine what it is like until you have actually seen Disneyland," she stressed, "because everything is so life-like."

Highlighting Tuesday was her arrival at the Lehr estate in Berkeley, California, where the 16 women stayed the rest of the week. The estate is the home of the owners of the Claremont hotel.

She described it as an exclusive ranch style house complete with 24 hour Hi-Fi music, a swimming pool, and a rock garden within the house. Colored lights play over waterfalls in the garden which is surrounded by a circular staircase.

"It was the most fabulous home I've ever seen. There were six or eight rooms just for guests!" she exclaimed.

Each woman was photographed and interviewed by press and radio men at the press reception Tuesday evening in the Claremont hotel.

"Wednesday evening we toured San Francisco. We saw Golden Gate bridge, Fisherman's Wharf, Chinatown, took a cable car ride, and had a view from the Top of the Mark," she said.

Connie modeled a sheath dress with matching jacket and a black cocktail dress furnished by Henks department store Thursday afternoon at the fashion show.

Escorted by University of California Student Council members, the women attended the Coronation ball that night. Although Connie developed a sort throat from the night air during the Parade of Lights Friday, she cited it as a glorious affair.

Instead of moving in a straight line, the parade rotated in a circle around the civic center in the central part of Berkeley before an audience of 250,000.

STUDENT COUNCIL last night decided it was time to take some definite action on changing K-State's name from Kansas State college to Kansas State university.

The Council passed a motion to set up equipment for a referendum of student opinion on the matter October 31 and November 1. The three-part motion also provided for the printing of ballots and educational material on the pros and cons of the name switch. The final part of the motion would establish an educational period prior to the referendum during which time Student Council members would tour the Greek and independent organized houses to present the advantages and disadvantages.

This educational period is slated to begin Monday, October 28, and last until Monday, October 30. Between now and that period, the Council plans to be busy preparing and distributing pamphlets and brochures explaining both sides of the name change.

THE FEW WEEKS between now and voting time will be a real test for the Council. In the past, it has set committees to work planning and mapping strategy which never seemed to get into operation.

Student Council's biggest problem will not be to convince the student body that a name change is good, but rather to overcome the alarming apathy which seems to characterize present student opinion.

Getting someone hot on an issue which seems to have little importance is almost as hard as trying to convince someone that they're wrong. This will call for positive, uncompromising leadership. The Council passed up an opportunity to demonstrate leadership when it passed a motion last night to "carry on the proposed KSU name change" but decided to remain non-committal until student opinion had been ascertained.

Arguing that they were primarily a representative group, rather than a campaigning organization might cost them some valuable time in the race to overcome an almost universal I-don't-care attitude.

AFTER THE REFERENDUM, if the student body approves of the name change, the Council must take the results before the state legislature and the Board of Regents. The only thing that will impress either group is figures of an overwhelmingly positive nature.

The great majority of the council—without taking a member-by-member poll—favors the name change. So why not stand behind the measure from the start and show that the representative-leaders are in full support of the name change? Then, without fear of being called unsure, the representatives of the K-State student body can lead the way to accomplishment of this much-needed change.

Be that as it may, the ball has finally started rolling, and no matter how hesitant the progress forward, it still is progress. The Council is to be praised on finally bringing the issue to bear—Roger Myers.

Faubus Returns to Little Rock As Police Arrest Six Agitators

By UNITED PRESS

Little Rock, Ark.—Little Rock and state police moved in swiftly on known agitators at Central High school today and hauled them away to jail before they could start whipping up collecting crowds into a fury over integration.

If the police don't show today they can handle violence, such as cut short the integration of Central high by nine Negroes yesterday, U.S. soldiers probably will move in by presidential order and do it for them.

President Eisenhower, by putting Little Rock under proclamation yesterday to keep the peace, cleared the way for the use of army troops.

Crowds started collecting again in front of the school at either ends of a barricaded street today. They suspected that the Negroes would try again today to attend classes.

By 8 a.m. (CST), police had arrested six known agitators, some with knives.

The Negroes got into school yesterday while a spitting, blood-thirsty crowd was beating up four Negro newsmen and photographers.

But the students had to be withdrawn three hours later when the crowd started getting out of hand and threatening to invade the school and drag the Negroes out.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus announced today he will return immediately to Little Rock by plane in hopes his presence in the strife-torn capital will have a "settling influence."

Asian Flu Hits Utah

Health officials in Utah today battled an epidemic of Asian flu, and other serious flu outbreaks caused the death of a soldier in Arizona and hit students in Texas, Iowa, and Michigan.

Dr. Joseph P. Kesler, acting director of the Utah State Health department in Salt Lake City, termed the outbreak an epidemic. It was the first time any state has officially declared an epidemic of Asian flu.

Kesler said late yesterday the disease has swept the state with absentee rates in schools as high as 50 per cent. Officials said they planned to close some schools if the epidemic continues.

Other outbreaks struck 1,500 students at Texas A&M college, forced a Clifton, Ariz., high school to shut down, hit about 50 students at the University of Iowa, and struck pupils in four Michigan cities.

About 600 of the Texas Aggie students came down with the flu during the weekend and about 900 more cases were reported yesterday.

"We will stress pass defense in practice this week," Mertes continued, "and are looking for a good game Saturday."

K-State—Nebraska Tilt Tabbed Parents' Day

Nomination of parents of K-State students as candidates for the title of "Honorary K-State Parents" started this morning in Anderson hall. The couple selected will be honored at halftime of the K-State-Nebraska football game on October 5—Parents' Day.

Nominations will close at 3 p.m. Friday, and the honorary parents will be selected Friday evening by the Parents' Day committee on the basis of a drawing, according to Barbara Huff, Gvt Soph, chairman of the Parents' Day committee.

The only restrictions on nominations are—(1) that the couples nominated be parents of a student currently enrolled at K-State and (2) that they will attend the Parents' Day activities.

Included in the honorary parents' schedule, according to Miss Huff, are a tour of the house decorations, a luncheon at the Student Union, the football game at which they will sit in the President's box, a coffee hour after the game, a buffet dinner, and in the evening they may either attend a movie in the little theater or a dance in the Student Union ballroom.

During the halftime ceremonies, the honorary parents will be acknowledged by the spectators and will be given a gift and flowers. The band will give a special performance honoring the parents. The winners of the house decoration contest will be announced at the half. Trophies will be given to the first place winners in the men's and women's division.

Last year's honorary parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. St. John of Wichita, will attend the Parents' Day game, according to their daughter, Mrs. Richard Allen, SED Sr.

Badge Trophies

More Homecoming Loot Can Be Had by Greeks

Two trophies will be awarded to the fraternity and sorority that sells the most Homecoming weekend badges. The badges are being designed by engineering students and will sell for 25 cents. The contest is being sponsored by the Hospitality committee of the Union Program council. Information concerning the contest will be sent to the houses soon.

A 30-second time limit on moving parts of house decorations has been established. This does not include preparation of characters to repeat the sequence again if the lights are out during the time of preparation.

according to Jan Madsen, HEJ Jr., publicity chairman of the Homecoming committee.

Each house will receive a copy of judging comments on their decorations after Homecoming.

The Homecoming committee will meet for lunch Thursday noon in the Student Union.

New Twirlers Will Perform At BYU Game

Two new twirlers will be appearing with the K-State band for the first time Saturday.

Jean Hedlund, band director, said the two are replacing Joyce Brower and Karen Blume, neither of whom is in school this semester.

Eisenhower's Talk Receives Criticism

Washington, Sept. 25 (U.P.)—President Eisenhower's supporters today hailed his strong stand against "mob" rule in Little Rock as a "calm, reasoned" appeal that will help restore "sanity and decency" in Arkansas.

Southerners had little to say about Eisenhower's nationwide radio and television explanation for sending U.S. troops into Little Rock, but some blasted the troop move itself as dictatorial.

The President, who told the nation last night he was "compelled" to call out troops to uphold the law of the land, departed by plane at 7:16 a.m. EDT for the vacation White House at Newport, R.I., to await results of his move.

Some southern governor said the speech made it even more imperative to hold a meeting with Eisenhower to try to iron out the Little Rock situation without further use of federal force.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), a leading Eisenhower Republican, led the praise of the President's speech. He said the statement was clear and his action was strong.

"Both were necessary and the people of the country, including the people of Arkansas, I am sure, will support his firm leadership restoring sanity and decency in this critical hour," Case said.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), another supporter of the President, said Eisenhower had appealed to "understanding and reason." He said the Chief Executive could not let defiance of the courts continue.

Michigan Democratic Sen. Pat McNamara said he was happy Eisenhower "at long last has taken a firm stand." He said the racial explosion at Little Rock might have been averted if the President had not "vacillated" at the beginning.

Democratic Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina said he was particularly impressed by Eisenhower's statement that federal troops would be withdrawn as soon as possible. Hodges added it was "unfortunate" he used troops.

K-State Players Will Set 'Tender Trap' in October

The K-State Players plan to present "The Tender Trap" by Max Schulman late in October, according to John Robson, assistant professor of speech. The play will be directed by Earl Hoover, professor of speech and faculty adviser for the group.

Other plays to be produced are "Tea and Sympathy" by Robert Anderson, scheduled for late November presentation under Robson's direction; "Charley's Aunt" by Brandon Thomas or "Juno and the Paycock" by Sean O'Casey in March; and "The Time of Your Life" by William Saroyan in late April.

Nearly 100 students attended the first meeting of the Kansas State Players which took place recently. The meeting was presided over by Lou Ann Oberhelman, Sp Sr, who is serving her second term as president.

Landon Friesen, Soc Jr, is the newly elected vice-president and Carolyn Cochran, HE Sr, is the secretary.

Virginia Eaton, Sp Sr, has been elected historian. Bobbie Wilson, Sr Jr, is the president of Phi Epsilon Delta, the honorary drama chapter of the National Collegiate Players.

Linda Merritt, EEd Soph, and Rachel Pickett, Soc Sr, are the newly appointed program chairmen. Jim Johnson, PrV Soph, and Pat West, ArG Soph, are the publicity chairmen.

At the beginning of the program Cienece Roberts, Sp Soph, presented a poem which she had written that told of the opportunities in the Players group.

Miss Carolyn Hunt, a new drama staff member, who will direct costuming work for the Players, was introduced. She announced her plans for development of this area, stressing her interest in training students.

The Players Studio production, according to Robson, will be presented in mid-October and will include "The Bachelor Party," by Paddy Chayefsky; "The Long Christmas Dinner," by Thornton Wilder; and "The Flood" by John Robson.

Student directors for these productions will be Sally Geistfeld, Eng. Sr, Carolyn Cochran, HE Sr, and Ann Chance, Sp Jr.

A concert reading of "Hamlet" by William Shakespeare is planned for early January.

K-Staters Think Closing Hours In Effect Now Are Satisfactory

By Jim Fiedler

THE MAJORITY of students I think they are all right now. If asked the question, "Why (or why you have them later girls will be not) should the closing hours for coming in at all hours and disrupting others.

SALLY FRAME, EEd Jr—No! They are handy when you have a blind date.

CLAIRE CAMPBELL, EEd Soph—They are okay as they are. If you stay out late, it will interfere with your studies.

WARREN D. BENNETT, Eng Jr—I don't think they should be extended because men students wouldn't get anything done.

THERESA ROSS, ArE Soph—Fine the way they are, I don't care to be out any later myself. I get sleepy about 1 a.m. anyway.

JOHN SCHAUBACK, Chem Jr—I think they should be extended. College women are accepted as being of adult age, so why not let them make their own decisions.

ELINOR WILSON, EEd Soph—

I think they are all right now. If way they are. If there was no definite limit on closing hours, I would feel that we were being given more responsibility in making our own decisions.

WINKIE KILLIAN, Art Jr—I think the closing hours that we have are okay unless we win a game or on some special occasion they should be extended.

ROY S. TURNER, Episcopal chaplain at K-State—I see no reason why the hours shouldn't be extended. It would seem to me that women and men that come here should be treated as adults. As long as a woman's grades show her capable of accepting this responsibility, she should have the privilege of later hours.

BUD WARHAM, BPM Jr—I think it makes little difference whether they are extended or not. College people theoretically should be able to live with their responsibilities as adults with the hours as they are now or extended. It might not prove practical to lengthen closing hours.

SHERRIL ARNOLD, EEd Soph—I am satisfied with them the they stand.

VIRGINIA SMITH, SED Soph—I think they are just right. All women need their beauty sleep. Also they need to begin studying early or they won't begin at all.

KAREN HOWELL, Psy Jr—I think they should be extended. I think that when a person is old enough to go to college or to be away from home, they are old enough to stay out after 10:30 p.m.

BILL BROWN, CE Soph—I would say they should be extended. Anyone should be allowed to stay out until 11 p.m.

NANCY HILL, EEd Sr—I feel that 1 a.m. is late enough on Friday and Saturday, but perhaps Sunday could be extended to midnight. Week nights are okay as they stand.

Bayonet Toting Paratroopers Integrate 9 Negroes Past Angry Crowds at Little Rock High School

Compiled By Pat Roberts

Little Rock, Ark.—Central high school was integrated today under the protection of bayonet-toting paratroopers of the 101st Airborne division.

The army regulars escorted nine Negro students into the high school building at 9:22 a.m. CST without incident.

The Negro children arrived in a green army station wagon, convoyed fore and aft by jeep-loads of troops. The convoy roared down the street, past a crowd of perhaps 200 white civilians who had been kept at a distance of one block from the school, and drove directly to the door of the school.

The nine students got out of the station wagon and walked quietly into the building to their classrooms. Classes had been underway about half an hour when they arrived.

Shortly before the Negro children showed up, a squad of eight paratroopers, with bayonets pointed menacingly, drove back a crowd of 115 persons who had snickered derisively when an officer ordered them over loudspeakers to disperse. The crowd retreated quickly before the determined-looking paratroopers advancing with outrush bayonets. No one was scratched.

Asian Flu Cases Soar

Arizona has become the second state hit by a flu epidemic, and mounting numbers of flu cases were reported today in all sections of the nation.

Arizona Health Commissioner C. G. Salsbury said late yesterday that the flu in the state has "reached epidemic proportions".

A soldier at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., died Sunday of the flu, the 16th victim of influenza outbreaks in the nation. The U.S. Public Health service has estimated more than 100,000 cases of flu have occurred in the nation.

Here was the situation elsewhere:

Texas—The state health department estimates 9,151 cases of Asian flu in Texas through last Saturday, or three times more than the previous week. The figure does not include 1,600 cases of flu at Texas A.M. college.

Oklahoma—Coach Bud Wilkinson and two of his University of Oklahoma football players were stricken. Wilkinson was treated at home and the players were admitted to the University Infirmary.

Mississippi—The Mississippi Board of Health said about 99,800 new cases of flu were reported in the state last week and most were believed to be the Asian variety.

Oregon—About 100 cases were reported at the University of Oregon, mostly among coeds. Absenteeism was high due to flu at three high schools in Portland.

Iowa—About 90 University of Iowa students were down with the discomfort.

Missouri—The St. Louis area reported its first definite cases of Asian flu with 16 students at St. Joseph's college affected.

Balloon Photographs Sun

Minneapolis, Minn.—Scientists prepared to take a long indirect look at the sun today through a telescope dangling from a space-soaring balloon.

The flight, "Operation Stratoscope," is sponsored by the U.S. Navy and operated by General Mills, Inc. for the purpose of getting better photographs of the sun than have ever been taken.

Officials expected the large plastic balloon, to be launched from suburban New Brighton, to carry a powerful telescope and camera to about 80,000 feet in the heavens.

The flight is expected to last at least six hours, during which time the camera will record actions of the sun's surface, including "spots and flares."

FOOTBALL THROUGH THE AGES

The football frenzy is upon us. But let us in the midst of this pandemonium call time. Let us pause for a moment of tranquil reflection. What is this great American game called football? What is its history? Its origins?

Let us pause for a moment of tranquil reflection.

First of all, to call football an American game is somewhat misleading. True, the game is now played almost exclusively in America, but it comes to us from a land far away and a civilization long dead.

Football was first played in ancient Rome. Introduced by Julius Caesar, it became one of the most popular Roman sports by the time of Nero's reign. The eminent historian, Sigafoos, reports a crowd of MMCLDDXVIII people at the Colosseum one Saturday afternoon to see the Christians play the Lions.

With the decline of the Roman empire, football fell into disuse. The barbaric Huns and Visigoths preferred canasta. Not until the fifteenth century A.D. did football emerge from its twilight and rise to its rightful place in the firmament of European sports.

Which brings us to September 29, 1442, a date dear to the hearts of all football fans. It was on this date, according to the eminent historian Sigafoos, that a sixteen-year-old lad named Christopher Columbus tried out for the football team at Genoa Tech. He failed to make the team because he was too light. (He weighed at the time only twelve pounds.)

And why, you ask, is this date—September 29, 1442—so dear to the hearts of all football fans? Because young Columbus was so heartbroken at not making the team that he ran away to sea. And if that hadn't happened, he never would have discovered America. And if Columbus hadn't discovered America, the world would never have discovered tobacco. And if the world hadn't discovered tobacco, football fans never would have discovered Marlboro—which, as every fan knows, is the perfect companion to football. And why shouldn't it be? Look what Marlboro's got... Filter... Flavor... Flip-top Box... You can't buy a better smoke. You can't smoke a better buy.

The end of football in Europe came with the notorious "Black Sox Scandal" of 1857, in which Ed Machiavelli, one of the Pisa mob, paid off the University of Heidelberg Sabres to throw the championship game to the Chartres A. and M. Gophers. It was a mortal blow to football on the continent.

But the game took hold in the American colonies and thrived as it had never thrived before. Which brings us to another date that remains evergreen in the hearts of football lovers: December 16, 1773.

On that date a British packet loaded with tea sailed into Boston harbor. The colonies had long been smarting under the English king's tax on tea. "Taxation without representation," they called it, and feelings ran high.

When on December 16, 1773, the British ship docked at Boston, a semi-pro football team called the Nonpareil Tigers, coached by Samuel (Swifty) Adams, was scrimmaging near the harbor. "Come, lads," cried Swifty, seeing the ship. "Let's dump the tea in the ocean!"

With many a laugh and cheer the Nonpareil Tigers followed Swifty aboard and proceeded to dump the cargo overboard in a wild, disorganized and abandoned manner. "Here now!" called Swifty sharply. "That's no way to dump tea overboard. Let's get into some kind of formation."

And that, fans, is how the tea formation was born. © Max Shulman, 1952

Working with Sports

By Jay Workman

K-State is running a close second to the nation's No. 1 team, Oklahoma, in rushing yardage in the Big Eight.

In the opening game, Oklahoma marched against Pittsburgh for 310 yards rushing and 78 passing for a 388 total. The Cats rolled up 275 on the ground and added 86 through the air for 361. Colorado is third with 240, and Nebraska is right behind with 239.

The Sooners are leading the team statistics again this year but are taking a back seat as far as individual performance goes.

Our own Gene Keady is at the top of the individual rushing heap with 132 yards on 12 carries. Glendon Thomas, OU's top candidate for All-American honors, is the runner-up with 86 yards on 12 attempts.

K-Staters can also boast the top passer after the first game, Dick Corbin. Corbin, who was fourth in the conference last year, completed six of 16 tosses against Wyoming for 82 yards.

Oklahoma first, Kansas second, K-State third, is the way Topeka TV commentator Dev Nelson picked the Big Eight finish. Nelson, a K-State grad, said the Wildcats showed a powerful offense even though they lost to Wyoming.

Nelson's vote for a halfback on the sportswriter-sports-casters all-conference team appears to be wrapped up by the Cat's Gene Keady, who Nelson plugged on his show earlier this week.

We were looking through the Oklahoma football brochure the other day, and scattered among their numerous national records, we found that they mentioned K-State 10 times—nine concerning records OU had set against us; one we set against them.

K-State is the team that holds the mark of intercepting the most passes against Oklahoma in a single game. The Cats stole five OU aerials in 1940.

Oklahoma made their highest number of first downs against K-State (28 in 1942), their most pass interceptions (seven in 1952), most yards on intercepted passes (158 on four catches in 1944), most touchdowns (11 in 1942), most yards on punt returns (227 on seven runbacks in 1948), best rushing defense (minus 33 yards in 1942), highest rushing average (23.4 by Joe Golding in 1946), longest interception runback (100 yards by Alfred Needs in 1945), and longest punt runback (95 yards by Darrell Royal in 1948).

Spahn Named Series Starter

For Milwaukee's First Game

By UNITED PRESS

Fred Haney can make it official now—Warren Spahn will open the World Series for the Milwaukee Braves a week from today.

Spahn, already "named" for the honor by everybody except the manager, clinched the assignment last night when he beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-1, in the "hangover" game of the National League race. The victory was the 36-year old left-hander's 21st—and also just about clinched his right to be named the major league pitcher of the year.

Hank Aaron, the Braves' No. 1 candidate for the most valuable player honors, again swung the big bat for the new NL champions. Aaron, whose two-run 11th-inning homer wrapped up the flag Monday night, hammered a grand-slam homer off Sam Jones in the first inning and from then on it was all downhill for Spahn.

Musial, who had three hits Monday night, doubled in the third inning and scored the Cardinals' run when Del Ennis singled. Stan's average remained at .349—his highest since 1951.

Ted Williams, the other amazing veteran of this fast-closing campaign, hammered out his 38th homer of the year to give the Boston Red Sox a 2-1 victory over the Washington Senators. Williams grounded out in the first inning, however, and ended a string of 16 consecutive appearances at the plate in which he reached base safely. He struck out and walked in his other two appearances to dip one point to .384.

Corbin Has Done Fine Job Quarterbacking for 3 Years

By JOHN RODRIGUEZ

"Dick Corbin almost pulled the team through with his calling of plays and his passing in the game last Saturday," Steve Sucic, backfield coach, said.

Bus Mertes, head coach, said, "Corbin has done a fine job of quarterbacking the last two years and Saturday kept the Wildcats in the game till the final gun with his last-minute signal calling."

Corbin, first-string quarterback, is leading the Big Eight in passing. He completed six passes out of 16 attempts Saturday, good for 82 yards. He also made 23 yards on 12 carries.

"Dick is a fine runner and passer and does an excellent job on the option," Mertes added. "He seems to improve each game and his loss would be a definite handicap to our squad."

Mertes and Sucic both made favorable comments about his defensive play. "Dick did a remarkable job at Nebraska last year," said Mertes. "Two key tackles by him probably saved the game." K-State beat Nebraska 10-7 last year.

Corbin felt K-State should have won the game last Saturday. "We beat ourselves," said Corbin. "The mistakes we made Saturday will be ironed out this week and on the whole, I think we'll profit by those mistakes the rest of the season."

Commenting on the forthcoming game with Brigham Young University, Corbin said, "They're going to be a passing team and a good, big one, but we're going to really go out and take that game."

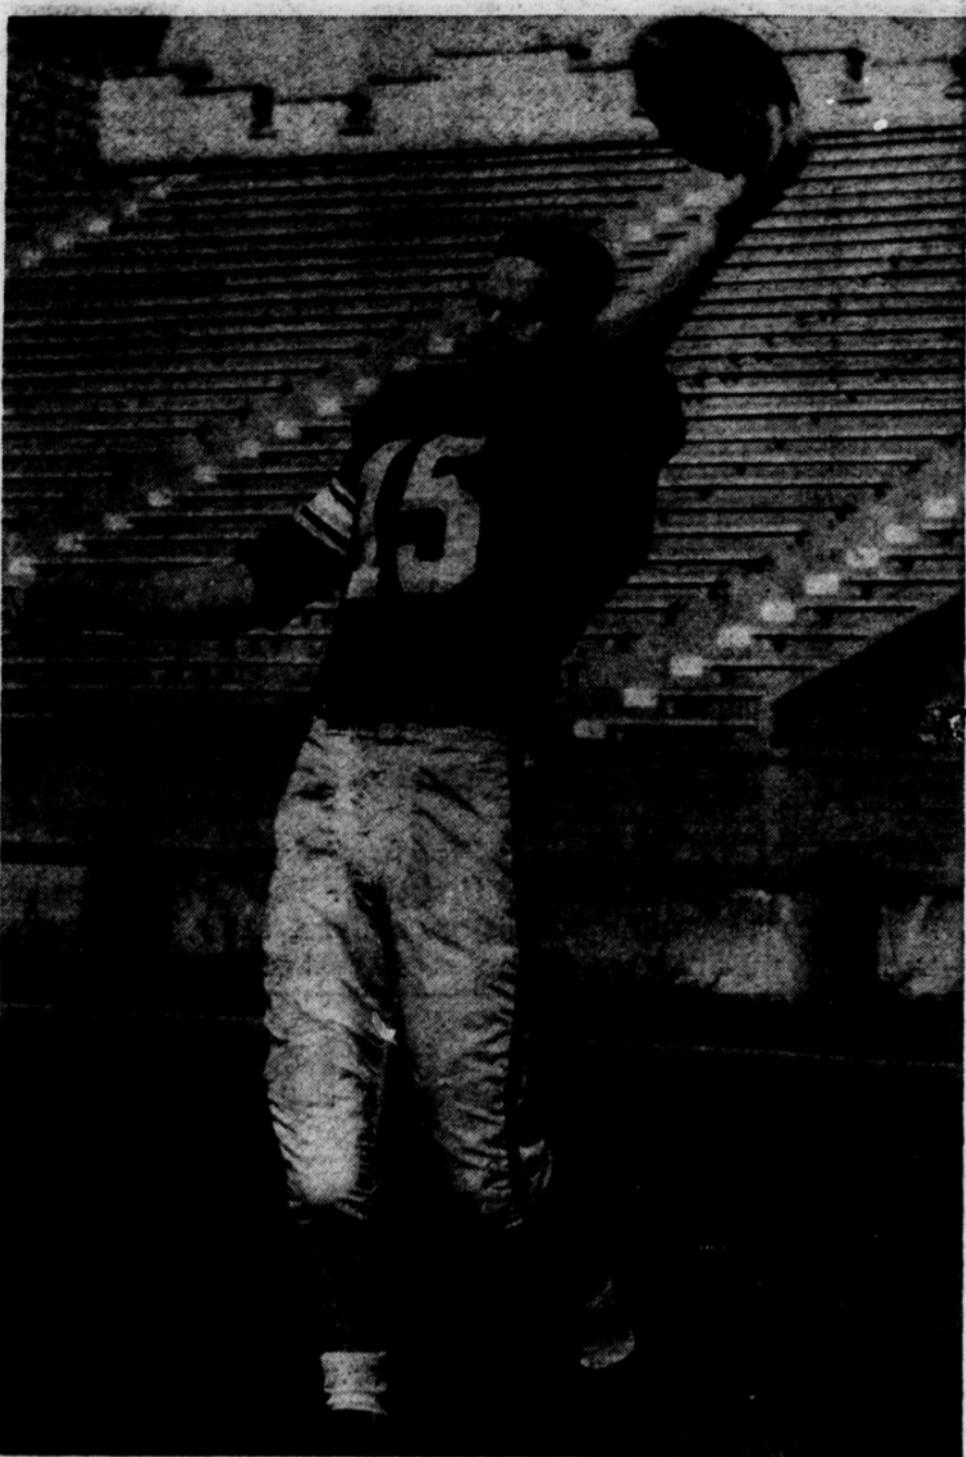

Brigham Young tied Arizona State 14-14 last Saturday.

Corbin said the team was looking a lot better now than it did last year at this time and that the team's physical shape has been the best in three years.

Last year he received academic honorable mention all-American and made scholastic second team all-Big Seven. Majoring in chemical engineering, he had a 2.44-point grade average last year.

Corbin earned freshman numbers in football and track his first year at K-State.

He won four letters in track, three in football, and three in basketball while attending Stafford high school. He was named to the all-Western Kansas and the West Central Kansas league football teams and the WCKL basketball team.

LEFT-HANDED DICK CORBIN, K-State's top quarterback, shows his form as a passer. Corbin is leading the Big Eight in passing yardage after the first game and was fourth in the conference in 1956 in total yards gained passing by an individual with 378 yards, good for five touchdowns.

Cats Sharpen Play On Pass Defense

K-State's football squad worked 2 1/2 hours last night—emphasizing pass defense and getting a look at Brigham Young university plays.

Though the Cats saw no serious contact work, a group of freshmen and transfer students ran BYU play patterns against the first and second units. The Cats meet Brigham Young Saturday in their home opener in Memorial stadium.

Coach Bus Mertes commented that his team would be working hard on pass defense this week—not because pass defense was particularly lax against Wyoming, but because Brigham Young is a "good passing outfit."

Ralph Peluso, 201-pound sophomore, ran with the first unit at right guard in Jaydee Stinson's absence. George Laddish, two-year letterman senior end, moved up to the second unit. Laddish missed the 12-7 loss at Laramie last Saturday because of a bruised foot.

A pair of sophomores—halfback Ron Beshk and quarterback John Solmos—missed yesterday's drills because of injuries. Both have injured knees.

IM Tennis, Swimming Slated for Women

Entry blanks for the women's intramural singles elimination tennis tournament and swimming contest are due today.

The contests are scheduled for September 30 through October 4. Kathy Horridge, PEW Jr., intramurals manager for the Women's Athletic association, announced after a meeting of intramural chairmen representing sororities and dormitories last Monday night.

Entry blanks are available in sorority houses and dorms for all women interested in the contests. Tennis tournament pairings will be posted in Nichols gym after all blanks are returned.

On September 24-27, anyone may practice for the contests, Miss Horridge suggested. During these days, arrangements may be made with Mary Ann Van Meter, women's physical education instructor, or Kathryn McKinney, assistant professor of physical education, to practice swimming, and with Prof. Katherine Geyer to practice tennis.

Miss Horridge said the tennis and swimming contests are the first events on the newly organized intramural program.

This year women's intramurals will be run on a point basis determined by participation, winning, and the number of games played. Points are accumulative throughout the year and the sorority house or dormitory having the most points will be entitled to keep a traveling trophy for one year. If any one organization wins the trophy for three consecutive years, it will become a permanent possession of that organization.

Other tournaments in volleyball, badminton, table tennis, and basketball will follow later in the year.

Mosier said that the department has been plagued with anxious basketball fans trying to find out when the hoop tickets go on sale. This condition has been especially aggravated by the great interest in KU's appearances in Manhattan.

Basketball tickets will not go on sale until around October 15. When asked about how soon the tickets for the K-State-KU game would be gone, Mosier stated that last year's supply was gone by the early part of December.

The problem may be relieved a little this season by the Decem-

All Big Eight Elevens Work for Coming Tilts

By UNITED PRESS

KANSAS coach Chuck Mather again placed the emphasis on defense today after yesterday's workout against Oregon State plays which he labelled "terrible."

Mather said most of the week would be devoted to means of stopping the Beavers' single-wing attack. The Jayhawk offensive, he added, would remain unchanged for the time being.

For the second time in two days, a new face occupied the starting right tackle berth. Senior Tom Horner was moved to the post to replace Ed. Prelock who Monday had been promoted because of injuries to Ron Gibson.

BUD WILKINSON's timing, like that of his Oklahoma Sooners, is nearly always perfect.

The youthful gridiron authority turned up a victim of the flu yesterday but if there was a single week in the autumn when it had to happen, this was it. The Sooners are idle this weekend, and are next scheduled to play two Saturdays from now against Iowa State. By then, Wilkinson figures to be fully recovered and again at the Sooner throttle. Following doctor's diagnosis yesterday, Wilkinson rested at his home.

Two players, however, were hospitalized at the school infirmary with "symptoms" of flu. They were David Baker, who has alternated at first and second unit quarterback, and reserve guard, Chuck Bowman.

Ticket Sales

Coming Football Season Sets Mosier in Motion

Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles on K-State's ticket office. The second installment will be published in tomorrow's Collegian.

By ELDON MILLER

As the first home football game of the season approaches, one of the busiest departments in the K-State setup is the ticket department.

This small group of people handles the many orders for K-State football and basketball tickets. The "team" composed of four people and headed by Athletic Ticket manager Frank A. Mosier, is kept busy from June 1 until the end of basketball season supplying "Joe Fan" with his admittance tabs to the games.

The June 1 date signals the opening of ticket sales for the football season.

Mosier said that many of the football ducats are purchased in June. In fact, the deadline for purchasing the regular $13.50 season-ticket is July 15.

At the present time there is still ample seating for all the home games. "However, the Oklahoma supply is getting toward the end zone," said Mosier.

Reserved seats are sold for $3.50 each. General admission tickets require $2.50 from adults and $1 from the high and grade school students.

Exceptions to this rule occur when some non-conference opponents are entertained by K-State. The Brigham Young game this Saturday, for example, will demand only $3 for reservations and $2 for adult general admission. Children's tickets cost the same.

Mosier said that the department has been plagued with anxious basketball fans trying to find out when the hoop tickets go on sale. This condition has been especially aggravated by the great interest in KU's appearances in Manhattan.

Basketball tickets will not go on sale until around October 15. When asked about how soon the tickets for the K-State-KU game would be gone, Mosier stated that last year's supply was gone by the early part of December.

The problem may be relieved a little this season by the December 21 double-header which may pacify some of those interested in seeing Wilt Chamberlain play. This date will find K-State playing Washington university and KU pitted against California in the same evening.

Advanced basketball tickets are priced at $2 each with exception of the double-header which will cost $3. Season tickets sell for $21 apiece. There are usually no general admission tickets sold because of the constant increase in student enrollment which is gradually cutting down on non-student seating space.

The first "Twin Queens" in U.S. history are back at K-State today after a thrilling "reign" over the Rocky Mountain Oil show in Casper, Wyo.

Charlene (TJ Jr) and Charlotte (HEA Jr) Strah, identical twins who were chosen last May, agreed that a charter flight to the K-State game with Wyoming university at Laramie was the highlight of the trip.

"We hated to lose, though," Charlene said.

The look-alikes were selected by two nationally-known artists from photographs of 42 sets of twins. They traveled throughout the summer in Colorado and Wyoming, and the Rocky Mountain Oil show the past week was the final big event.

"Producers of supplies used in the oil industry throughout the United States and Canada displayed their products at the show," Charlotte said. "We were photographed with just about every exhibit and its representative," Charlene added.

"We even posed in oil-workers' hats that covered up most of our faces and eyes, but we had a wonderful time," they agreed.

The twins appeared on two TV interviews after arriving in Casper, and were then taken on a tour of the city and the surrounding mountain area.

"Snow fell during the whole drive," Charlotte laughed. "We were really surprised to see trees covered with snow."

Charlotte and Charlene held the ends of a ribbon while Congressman Keith Thompson (R-Wyo) cut it to open the show on Thursday. That night they were introduced at the Taylor-Four show, consisting of a variety act from a prominent Denver supper club. The next day they were honored by Casper alumnae of their sorority, Pi Beta Phi.

"People were all so friendly and such wonderful hosts," Charlotte said.

A K-State alumnus, Bill Green, BS '48, manager of a Casper hotel, chartered the plane to fly the twins to Laramie to the football game. They were accompanied by another alum, Dave Olson, BS '48, assistant manager of the hotel.

A dinner-dance Saturday was the final event of an activity-packed week. The twins then flew to Denver and caught the train to Manhattan.

"It was interesting to meet so many people from all over the United States," the twins agreed. They were amazed at the number of colleges and universities represented by Casper residents and people connected with the oil show. "And it was a real surprise and a pleasure to meet some K-Staters," Charlotte said.

Union Thief Is Unknown

Union Director Loren Kottner reported no new developments this morning in the investigation of the burglary of the Union business office.

However, he said that the amount taken in the Sunday morning incident was $2,180.75. Kansas Bureau of Investigation agents and representatives of an insurance company are looking into the matter.

The money was first missed at 11:15 a.m. Sunday when Union cashier Dorothy Crottinger returned to the business office to finish work begun the night before.

Make Plans For House Decorations

Nineteen K-State coeds have been chosen as members of the Arnold Air society Angel Flight. The selections were made yesterday, according to Arnold Air president, Cadet Capt. Bob Lawrence.

The candidates were judged for poise, interest, and drill ability. A seven-member board, composed of members of Arnold Air society, last year's Angel Flight and Capt. John A. Moe, adviser to Angel Flight, made the selections.

Following are the names of the new Angel Flight and their sororities.

Carol Lala, HEA Soph, and Bea Purcell, BA Jr, Alpha Delta Pi; Pat Vopat, ChW Soph, and Linda Felton, PEW Soph, Alpha Xi Delta; Diana Frommer, EED Soph, Alpha Chi Omega; Lois Bones, EED Jr, Carolyn James, EED Jr, and Jo Edwards, Pth Soph, Chi Omega; Rosalie Austin, BMT Soph, Harriet Harwick, BMT Soph, and Jane Fulton, EED Jr, Delta Delta Delta; Betsy Burnham, EED Jr, and Kathy Schultis, TJ Jr, Gamma Phi Beta; Mary Ann Genche, DIM Soph, Jan White, HE Jr, and Mary Jo Moriconi, Clo Soph, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Nancy Payne, EED Soph, Connie Morgan, EED Soph, and Fran Schwartz, MT Soph, Pi Beta Phi.

All organizations planning to enter the Parents' Day house decoration contest, October 5, must contact Corky Hudberg, Sp Jr, before noon October 4.

Restrictions on house decorations set by the Parents' Day committee are (1) that all decorations must be completed by 9 a.m., October 5, (2) that the decorations must use a Parents' Day theme, (3) that the decoration must not contain mechanical parts and (4) that the decoration cost must not exceed $15.

Dr. Emil C. Fischer, head of the Department of Architecture and Allied Arts, and Oliver White, program director of the Student Union, are two of the three judges to be used in the contest. The third judge has not yet been selected.

The house decorations will be judged on eye appeal, originality, and how well the theme is carried out.

Trophies will be given to the first place winners of the men's and women's division at the halftime ceremonies of the K-State-Nebraska football game on Parents' Day.

U.S. a Nation of Walkers? Well We'll See

NOTICE IN THE PAPERS that KU is now charging $1 to park in parking lots around its football stadium and basketball field house at athletic contests.

That means lucky Jayhawk athletic fans are just fortunate enough to have opportunity to boost the university twice—once to park, then again to see the athletic contest.

'Course the KU fans who haven't got enough school spirit to pay the $1 parking fee can park way-off-where and walk to the stadium (or fieldhouse). And maybe that will be a good idea.

SOONER OR LATER people across the country are going to get dogbone disgusted with the parking situation and take a bus—or even walk. It's hard to imagine a nation of walkers. That might prompt the boys down the Kaw to start a "Jaywalkers" club to go along with the already established Jaywatchers, Jayhawkers, and Wilt-whoppers.

However, as we noticed a couple of lines ago, it's hard to imagine a nation of walkers. Prices of shoes will, chances are, go down with the advent of more buyers, more shoes to buy, and stiffer competition among shoe sellers.

When the guy next door speaks of the corner service station, he'll be referring to a shoe store. Chain shoe-repair and shoe-sales stores will spring up with names like "Mobilsole" or "Shoeclair."

PRACTICALLY, the average man will save loads of money. That is, provided he doesn't have monstrous feet and walk through too many pairs of shoes. Right now, it's much cheaper for the average man (we think) to buy shoe leather than it is to buy, service, and run an automobile.

Well, we hope it doesn't come to that—but if it does, keep your spirits up, try to save your soles, and don't, for cripes sakes don't, be a heel.—Jim Bell.

Ward Says

Here's Straight Dope on Chaos That Is KS Parking Situation

By LOWELL PAULI

MANY OPINIONS have been expressed recently regarding our parking problem at K-State. Some of these opinions have been official, some unofficial, some educated, some probably uneducated. The mass confusion resulting has lent little incentive towards formulating logical conclusions.

Unfortunately, the resultant mass confusion has contributed much toward misunderstanding and impatience. It has, in some instances, injured personal feelings.

K-State's Traffic and Security officer, Roger Ward, feels that the misunderstanding surrounding parking-permit decals needs clearing up. "The student registration decal," he says, "is not a parking permit. Students are required to have parking permits to park in any campus parking area during school hours, the lot west of the Stadium, the campus housing area, and the streets adjacent to the campus."

OFF-DUTY HOURS begin at 5:30 p.m. on weekdays, and end at 7 a.m. Saturdays, off-duty hours begin at 1 p.m. On Sundays and school holidays, off-duty hours last all day long.

Parking permits have been (or will be) sold to all students except freshmen and students living in Hilltop Courts, Van Zile hall, Northwest hall, and Southeast hall. Veterinary medicine freshmen are an exception to this rule, since they have attended at least two years of college, and have thus gained the privileges that go with being an upperclassman.

Only upperclassmen are authorized to utilize campus parking facilities, and a system was needed to distinguish freshman cars or cars belonging to upperclassmen not purchasing a parking permit from cars belonging to upperclassmen buying the $2 ticket.

So the dual parking sticker came into being. One decal is issued each student who registers his car. It entitles him to drive on campus and park in the West Stadium parking lot. A second decal—the parking permit—is issued to the upperclass student upon receipt of $2. It allows driver to park in the north parking lot, the Student Union parking lot, and the lot on Vattier drive.

THE SYSTEM enables officers to quickly distinguish between restricted drivers—freshmen, on-campus dorm residents, and Hilltop Courts residents—and those purchasing the parking permit.

Ward stresses another point: fines and permit fees go back into the traffic system. "These funds are used solely for the enforcement of traffic rules and regulations and for the construction, maintenance, and repair of parking facilities."

On the basis of the number of traffic tickets issued by campus patrolmen already this semester, Ward advises students to "bone up" on the traffic regulations—they're outlined in the pamphlets handed to those registering cars during enrollment.

Ward says students can save themselves a considerable amount of money if they will spend a little time with those rules.

All Is Quiet at Little Rock, Integration Continues

By UNITED PRESS

Little Rock, Ark.—Nine Negro students returned to Central high school under paratroop guard today for their second day of integrated education.

All was calm at the school. Fewer than 50 white bystanders could be seen on the sidewalks outside of the three-block radius where bayonet-bearing soldiers of the 101st Airborne division maintained a perimeter of federal military authority.

There were no demonstrations, not even shouting, as the Negro children drove up to main entrance of the school in an Army station wagon, escorted before and behind by jeeploads of troops.

About 100 white students watched silently from the steps or the lawn as the Negroes walked into the building, preceded by two paratroopers and followed by three others. The white youths followed them inside, and the bell rang for classes to begin.

While the little convoy was en route to the school, Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced that he will address the nation tonight by radio and television to present his views on the use of federal armed force to integrate Central high.

Faubus said he will speak over the radio and television networks of the American Broadcasting company at 8 p.m. CST. He will deliver his 30-minute speech from the studios of television station KATV in Little Rock.

Graham Sounds Off

Garden City, N.Y.—Evangelist Billy Graham told 10,000 persons last night that he doubted whether "any of us here have the right to point a self-righteous finger at Little Rock."

The revivalist, speaking from a pulpit erected in a shopping center parking lot, said "if we don't have that (racial) problem we have others of almost equal importance," like juvenile delinquency.

Christ is the answer to the turmoil in man and his world today, Graham said.

U.S. Crime Booms

Washington — FBI records showed today that crime boomed in the United States during the first six months of 1957.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said more major crimes were committed during the first half of the year than in any similar period of record.

Hoover said reports from 3,023 police departments across the country indicated there were 1,399,670 major crimes in the six-months period. That would be an average of about one crime every 11.2 seconds.

The FBI chief said this rate represented an 8.4 per cent increase over the rate for the first six months of last year.

The report made these major points:

—During the period in question one major crime was committed for each 122 persons in the nation.

—A crime of murder, manslaughter, rape, or assault to kill was reported every 3.9 minutes.

—In that period 37 people were feloniously slain and 272 other felonious assaults were committed; 57 rapes occurred; 4,775 larcenies were committed; 801 cars were stolen; 172 robberies and 1,620 burglaries took place.

Missile Fails Again

Cape Canaveral, Fla.—The Air Force's huge Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile failed for the second time.

Scientists were examining the shredded pieces of the Atlas which was exploded after drifting to one side and tilting back toward the ground. The test was another attempt to match Russia's claimed firing of an ICBM.

There was no official word from anywhere, but indications were that both civilian and military authorities were not altogether pleased with the result's of yesterday's operation.

Officials indicated that "a great deal of information was gained from the firing and that other attempts would definitely be made to fire an Atlas."

It was also learned that the cause of yesterday's failure was not the same as that which caused an Atlas to be destroyed shortly after launching June 11 here.

The 5,500-mile Atlas, looking like a silver bullet, streaked upward 15,000 feet from the Air Force missile test center here before halting its flight, apparent-

At Ticket Office

Mosier Has 2,500 Tickets
For Kansas Football Game

Editor's note: This is the second and last installment of a two-part story on the ticket office. The first section can be found in yesterday's Collegian.

By ELDON MILLER

Last spring the problem of non-students using activity tickets was brought into the campus spotlight.

"We try to control non-student use of activity tickets," said ticket manager Frank Mosier, "with our prime objective being to take care of the student first."

Such satisfaction of student whims has its problems though. Before every basketball game the ticket department has to play a guessing game trying to decide how many students will be in attendance in order to be able to make room for all customers.

Mosier did not seem to be worried over this as he said the department was able to determine future crowds with fair accuracy by computing past attendance averages.

Through mutual agreement, blocks of tickets are exchanged from year to year between K-State and its football opponents. For example, this year the department has obtained 2,500 ducats from KU for the November 9 game. The ticket department even has from 75 to 100 tickets for the October 12 contest with College of Pacific.

The prices for these tickets are those established by the opposing school. Tickets for the remaining five out-of-town games are priced at from $3 to $5.

This kind of exchange activity is not as popular in the basketball circuit. Mosier said that the only school K-State has worked a system with has been KU. This year about 750 tickets are expected to be available for Wildcat fans wishing to see the game at Lawrence.

Although most of the ticket purchases are made by personal contact, many are bought by wiring money in to the office. It is a policy of the department not to few years. But since 1951 the accept ticket orders by phone. Mosier said that the ticket department feared to do so because it might be left holding a lot of tickets near game time which would never be picked up and paid for.

Mosier, who started serving in his present capacity in 1951, said that the overall attendance picture for K-State athletics has increased slightly in the past non-student attendance in basketball has actually decreased because of the increased space required for student seating.

When asked about the "scalping" situations experienced in selling tickets, Mosier replied: "We are aware of the fact that some tickets, especially those for KU basketball, were sold at profit-making prices by individuals in previous years. We have tried to eliminate this as far as possible on the KU basketball game by limiting each customer to four tickets for that game."

HARD RUNNING GENE KEADY presently leads the Big Eight backs in rushing with a total of 132 net yards picked up in the Wyoming contest in 12 carries.

Keady Top Ground Gainer After First Big Eight Tilts

By TERRY KNOWLES

The brightest spot during last year's football campaign probably could be summed up in two words: Gene Keady. Keady, a hard running right halfback, came on strong midway in the 1956 season and matured to one of the finest ball carriers in the Big Seven.

Herb Cormack, backfield coach, cites Gene as one of the reasons why Kansas State should be a strong running team. "Gene's 70-yard jaunt against Wyoming is only an example of his capabilities," explained Cormack.

Statistically, the 184-pound senior opened the 1957 season with his best running game. During the 12-7 loss to Wyoming, Keady ran for 132 yards rushing while catching one pass which was good for 10 yards.

Despite Keady's fine ball carrying ability, he did not begin his college football career as a halfback but as a passing quarterback at Garden City junior college. There Keady led Garden City to the Kansas Juco championship while connecting on better than fifty per cent of his attempts.

Gene's first attempt as a halfback came in the Nebraska game in 1956 where he picked up 42 yards in five carries. There was no question that Coach Bus Mertes had found a ground-gaining halfback.

Keady, as a junior, led the 1956 Wildcats in three departments: rushing, scoring, and pass receiving. He averaged 7.2 yards a carry in 43 attempts last year.

Union Features Changes, New Faces This Fall

"SORRY, NO MORE TICKETS," and that's the way it's been every night of a cinema-scope movie showing in the little theatre, says Rosalyn Rowell, Soc Sr, chairman of the Union movies committee.

By KATHY SCHULTIS

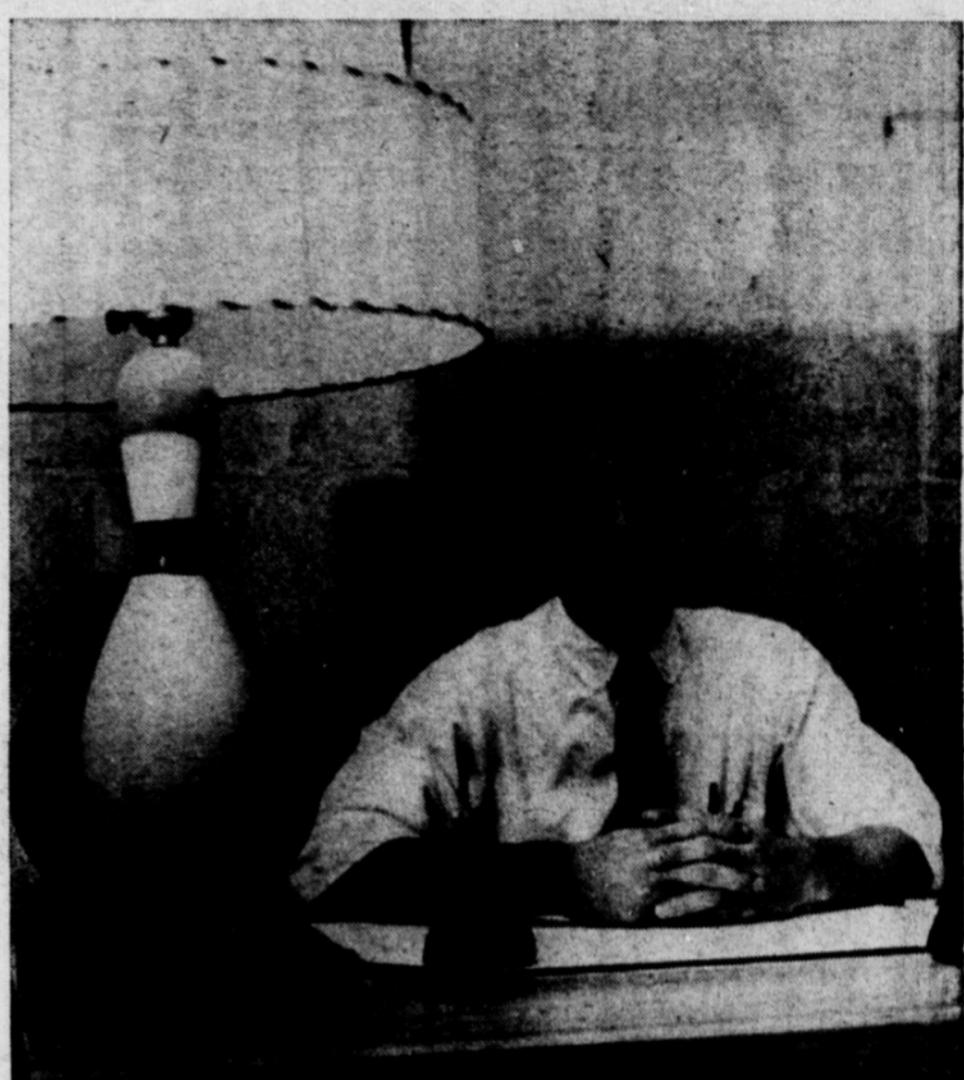

Students of K-State, returning to the campus this fall, were greeted by a number of changes at the Student Union.

Installation of a cinemascopic screen in the little theatre will give students a chance to view a wide variety of movie attractions this year. Cinema 16, a series of classical movies, will be shown on Thursday evenings. Three additional cinemascopic movies are scheduled for this semester, while approximately half of next semester's movies will be in cinemascopic.

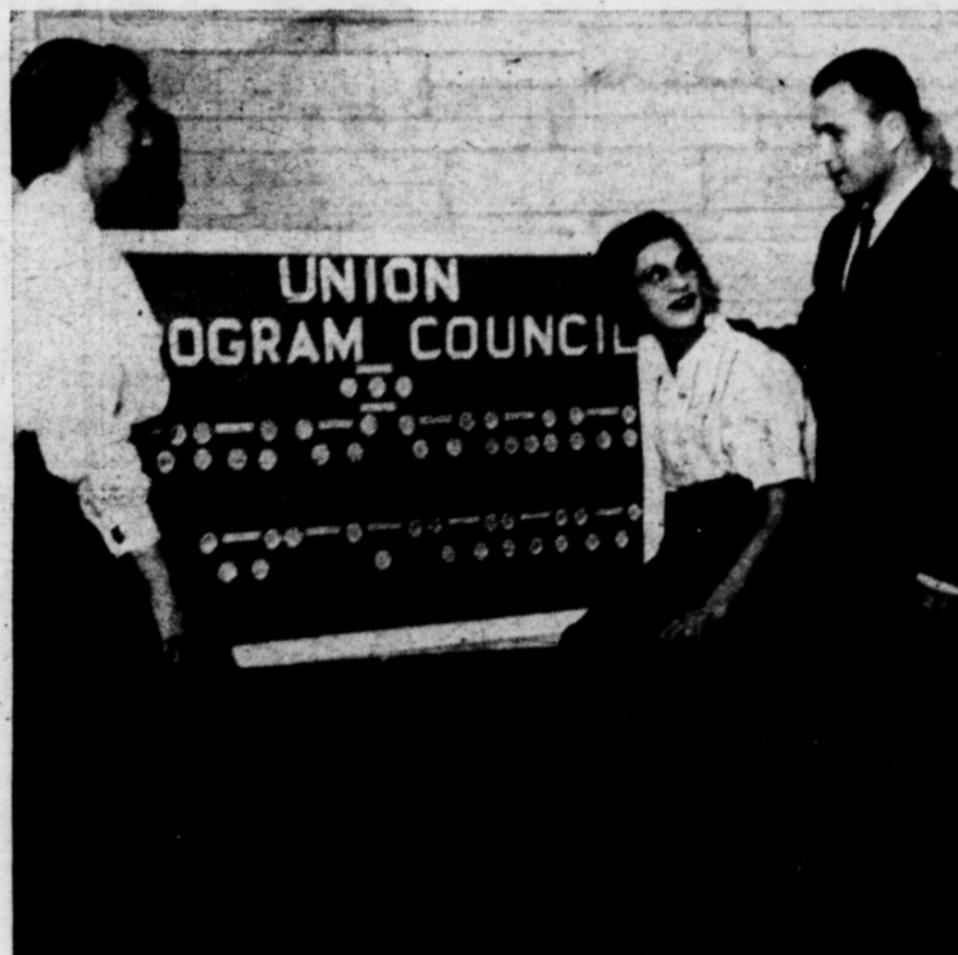

Addition of an acoustical tile ceiling plus completely refinshed floors in the bowling area have made facilities the finest in this part of the state, according to Loren Kottner, Union director.

Employment of Ollie White and Sharon Kugler on the activities staff brings the total of full time employees to three.

The games office was completed and furnished during the summer. Andy Anderson, Union games manager, built his own unique desk which resembles a miniature bowling alley.

Ninety-Two Alphas at Pinning

SEEMED AS IF the Sig Alphas would never stop coming in at the pinning of Kirsten Petersen, EEd Jr, and David Adams, AET Jr, last night. Ninety-two SAE's filled the Pi Phi living room, and sang "Violets," "Sweetheart Song," and "Marching." The Pi Phi's sang "If Her Heart Is True," and "Pi Phi Arrow." Kirsten is from Newton and David is from Maple Hill. (Ed. Note—The Collegian is starting society photo coverage of pinning on a trial basis. If you are planning a pinning and would be willing for us to photograph the event please phone or write Janice Graham, society editor, at least a week in advance. Oh, yes . . . she'll keep your secret.)

Courtroom Problem

Winton, N.C. (U.P.)—The resplendent new Hertford County courthouse in this historic old town brought commendations on its beauty and style, but its planners overlooked an item that is making officials sweat. Superior Court Judge W. H. S. Burgwyn told the grand jury that the "lack of air conditioning causes everyone's temper to be frayed, including the judge's." The grand jury immediately recommended installation of air-conditioning facilities.

KS Council Ruling Curbs Postal Plan

Students may no longer receive personal mail at the College post office and must provide stamped postcards to their residences for grades, according to a postal service plan approved yesterday by the College Administrative council.

Under the new system the 1,200 individual boxes previously rented by students will not be rented. Student living groups and student organizations previously assigned boxes may continue their use of the service providing that mail is pre-sorted and addressed to the group in one bundle. The post office will not accept unstamped mail addressed to students unless it is in care of a department.

"The previous system proved most ineffective," says Daniel Beatty, business manager of the College. "The changes were made because of the inadequate physical facilities and lack of personnel to accomplish all the postal services as the student body and faculty grow."

A sub-committee composed of M. A. Durland, dean of the School of Engineering and Architecture, chairman; Dean of Students, Herbert J. Wunderlich, and Beatty organized the plan which was revised and approved by the deans.

"With the present reconstruction in Anderson hall it seemed like a good idea to take care of the College postal service problem," Dean Wunderlich says.

The extra boxes will be taken out and the post office will be remodeled. Mailing slots will be built for each organization so that unstamped mail can be put directly in the boxes without going through the hands of the postal clerks. "We hope to do this during the school year," Beatty explains.

Interdepartmental mail will be distributed through the central College post office. Outgoing mail will still be handled by the post office and the sale of postage supplies will be continued.

Mail sent to students in care of Kansas State college will be sent back to the city post office with their Manhattan addresses added unless it becomes too big an undertaking for the College employees, stated Beatty.

In the past post office boxes could be rented for 50 cents a year which amounted to $600 annually. This loss is being taken care of by the elimination of one half-time employee under the new plan. Miss Pearl Clark is postmistress. She is assisted by three full-time employees and a part-time man who handles the mail bags.

Central High Grad Reveals Her Opinion of Race Ruckus

The attempted preventive measure by Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus (Dem) probably incited a situation which would never have occurred in the first place.

This is the opinion of Betty Emery, HT Jr, who is a graduate of Central high school in Little Rock, the hotbed of recent segregation conflict.

Betty was in Little Rock when Governor Faubus ordered the Arkansas National Guard to surround Central high on the evening of September 2. This move was made to insure peace and order as Negro students would attend the school for the first time in history.

When the colored students tried to enter the school they were stopped by the guardsmen. Interested people began gathering around the school and soon they became a mob.

Nine Negro students who had been trying to enter the school were jeered and taunted by the mob as they moved around the school grounds under National Guard escort.

Finally President Eisenhower challenged Governor Faubus' stand and U.S. soldiers are now bringing the colored students to school and the crowds have been dispersed.

Although the problem in Little Rock may soon be settled, its impact on the world will last a lot longer. "This is a lot of unfortunate publicity for the state," Betty said. "The state of Arkansas hadn't been known as a progressive one even before this."

But was all this bad publicity necessary? Betty said no. "School officials talked with Faubus earlier about the matter and Faubus stated that he did not intend to make any moves toward insuring peace."

Only local officials were on hand and the school board thought that matters could be easily handled.

Betty said city buses and railroad stations had been desegregated a few months earlier with no violence occurring. It is easy to assume that the same results would have occurred with the school integration.

But then Faubus made his fateful move. "People became curious about the act and came to see what was going on," Betty added. Finally they became a prejudiced mob.

Betty said the students themselves, colored and white, seemed to look upon the whole thing as a sort of game. "The colored kids were even having a good time, walking down the streets and talking about getting their pictures in the paper."

According to Betty, the high school girls seemed very interested in the National Guardsmen and vice versa. One guardsman art, posed for an art class on who was apparently interested in the school lawn.

SHE WAS THERE

Betty also said that the Guard was a very snappy alert unit in the morning but when afternoon came many of them were found laying on the school grass grabbing as much rest as they could.

But the fact that Guardsmen were there seemed to incite the people. "I was downtown and there seemed to be a tight feeling and high tension in the air.

"In general there were pretty good race relations in Little Rock until recently," replied Betty, when asked about such conditions in the city. Betty, who has lived in Little Rock since 1945, said that her family and their friends do not support segregation.

Asian Flu Protection Available to Staters

Asian flu vaccine is now available to the entire student body, according to Dr. Charles F. Haughey, acting director of the Student Health service.

Vaccinations are being given between the hours of 8 and 11:50 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. on week days, and from 8 until noon on Saturdays.

Students must report to the main desk of the Student Health hospital and pick up a record card before they can be vaccinated, Dr. Haughey said. "We are required to keep records on all vaccinations."

The cost of the shots is 50 cents.

According to the U.S. Public Health service, the shots will give immunity lasting four to six months. We would advise the student to return after about six months and get a second shot, Dr. Haughey said.

Apparently there are no reactions to the shots. No serious reactions have been reported since the vaccine has been put into use, so the student need not worry about a stiff writing arm, he said.

"Our facilities for administering the vaccine are limited and students can speed things up if they'll just come in get their record card and move out to get vaccinated," Haughey said.

We have only one nurse on duty to give the shots but she can give 60 shots an hour if the students will cooperate.

Shots for the faculty and staff are not available at the present time, he said.

For American Royal

Judging of the candidates will begin Sunday with a tea at 3 p.m. in the Student Union. A style review Monday in the little theatre of the Student Union at 7:30 p.m. will conclude selection festivities.

The names of the American Royal candidates:

Ag Mag Editor Gary Yeakley Learns Most in 1-Hour Course

"I HAVE PROBABLY learned more from the editorship of the Ag mag than from any course I've ever enrolled in," Gary Yeakley, AgJ Sr and editor of the Kansas Agricultural Student, said.

"I received practical experience in business, editorial, circulation, layout and advertising of the magazine," Gary said.

Gary, from Hoisington, said that he chose as his curriculum ag journalism because he wanted to be a writer. With his farm background, he felt that he could do best writing about subjects pertaining to agriculture.

Gary applied for the top position of the magazine because, "I thought I could improve the magazine by adding my own ideas, and with the help of a larger staff."

EVEN THOUGH HE RECEIVES only one hour of credit for working as editor, Gary probably spends 50 hours a week on the magazine. Some nights the lights will be burning until 2 a.m. in his office in Waters hall.

"The magazine work involves people, and how to get maximum results from jobs assigned. It involves public relations with the engraver, advertisers, and the readers," Gary said.

"Everything that is done comes back to me and it is my responsibility to see that the magazine is run smoothly."

Yeakley thinks he would like to write for a farm magazine upon graduation next spring, but fictional writing of novels and short stories is his dream.

"I THINK THE NAME CHANGE is the expected thing to do, and I do not think Kansas State college carries as much prestige as the name Kansas State university," Yeakley remarked, concerning the proposed name change.

Gary is by no means an idle student. He is president of the Plow and Pen club; vice president of the journalism honorary, Sigma Delta Chi; a member of Alpha Zeta, agriculture honorary; and editor of his fraternity's paper.

TODAY IS FRIDAY, and with a weekend coming up, you should have some time to think about things more pertinent than history, slide-rule problems, or book reviews.

Little items such as the perpetually un-filled faculty lot are possibly worthy of your consideration. This exasperating situation is driving many students to walk. At most times of the day, expressly from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., the harried K-State driver can drool over the multitude of inviting, empty stalls in the two faculty sections.

The Traffic Control board has said that a whole additional section was reserved for the faculty because trying to enforce regulations of a half faculty, half student section would be too much to ask of the under-staffed campus police. This must be the truth because we've counted as many as 10 cars on the north row closest to the Union with only one sticker on the back window.

After observing the volume of business of the two faculty lots, it would seem that a try at administering a split lot would be worth the effort.

ANOTHER OBSERVATION indicates that visitors coming onto the campus like to park as close to the Union as they can. When they see the STUDENTS AND VISITORS signs they wheel right past the FACULTY AND VISITORS lots and whip into a much-needed student stall.

Meanwhile, right behind the stickerless visitor, a student late for his 10-o'clock class sees his hope of making it to class on time smothered.

After parking in the student stall, the visitor then treats his faculty friend to a cup of coffee and lengthens the coffee line at the Union causing another student to go hungry or sleepy through his 11 o'clock class.

Should we keep all visitors out? Of course not. But restriction of visitors parking to the two or three southern-most lots where there always seems to be room for another car or two might ease the situation.

AND WHILE WE'RE being totally unfair to non-students about the parking mess, why don't we ask that employees of the college be denied faculty stickers? They're not paying to go to school and they're not teaching, so why let them use up parking space? How many businessmen downtown reserve parking space for their employees and let the customers drive until they can find a place to park? None that are still in business.—Roger Myers.

'Straight Dope' on Problem Of Parking Not So Straight

Yesterday the Collegian ran an article advertising the "straight dope on the chaos that is K-State's parking situation." Today, the Collegian wishes to straighten out the "straight dope."

There are numerous channels through which news copy flows, and somewhere along one of those channels, this story lost a word—except. "Except" made a big difference in the meaning of the article.

In a direct quote attributed to K-State's Traffic and Security officer, Roger Ward, the story should have read:

"Students are required to have parking permits to park in any campus parking area during school hours, except the lot west of the Stadium, the campus housing area, and the streets adjacent to the campus."

Now we feel better.

'Most Celebrated Tonsils' on KU Campus Jerked; Seven-Foot Wilt Finds Hospital Beds Too Short

By Sharon Totten

THE MOST celebrated tonsils on the campus of Kansas university were removed and the patient, Wilt Chamberlain, 7-foot KU basketball star, rested—not very comfortably. It seems the largest bed in the hospital was only 6 1/2 feet long.

The Oklahoma Daily has a word of encouragement for smokers. The staff received a tip about a new cigarette with a tranquilizer filter. You die of lung cancer, but you don't give a damn.

An angry spectator at an Iowa State football game stood up and yelled, "If I hear 'Go Big Red Team, Go' once more I'm gonna throttle that cheerleader personally!!!"

The Iowa State Daily commented a few days later, "It does seem a little foolish for a pep squad to take three quarters to realize that the opposing team is wearing red and Iowa State isn't."

A KANSAS UNIVERSITY professor contends that there is a difference between vulgarity and witticism. The Daily Kansan agrees. It says, "The professor is right, it all depends—on the kind of company you are in."

The Indiana Daily Student reports that men's fashions have just about gone the course. The report from Paris, according to the Student, says that next year's men's fashions will be distinguished by coats with fur trim and zebra stripes, ankle-button trousers, and hand bags in rich leathers and bright fashions.

A shiny, 1931 Buick sedan accumulated more than $100 in campus fines this week at Kansas university. The car after collecting the fines, was towed to the lot of an auto salvage company many newer cars. The owner has and placed conspicuously among made an appeal to the student court concerning payment of the fines.

A GROUP OF Indiana university women recently trounced a men's team in a football game—tag football, that is.

However, in all fairness to the men's team, each man had his feet tied making possible only a slow shuffle.

An Iowa State Daily columnist, after complaining for five paragraphs about the deplorable conditions of the Iowa State campus, says, "With things like this happening, it makes one think, 'Why come to barn-yard Tech?' A good question, I say. But where else can you act like an i-d-i-o-t for $77 a quarter and still get credit for it?"

Putnam Scholarships Go To 25 Freshmen

Twenty-five Kansas State college freshmen have been announced as recipients of Putnam scholarships by Charles A. Jacot, assistant dean of students, bringing the number of Putnam scholars on the K-State campus to 65.

The scholars, recipients of the largest scholarship program at K-State, are Losta J. Adams, Mth Fr; Janet K. Anderson, HEN Fr; Judith A. Barnaby, EEd Fr; Virginia J. Baxter, Gvt Fr; Richard A. Bayles, Eng Fr; Phil B. Bowman, ChE Fr; Mary E. Clark, HEN Fr; Laura A. Cox, TJ Fr; Leslie A. Dole, MGS Fr.

George W. Doss, ML Fr; Nancy C. Harden, HT Fr; Sarah A. Heitman, Sp Fr; Jay L. Knox, ME Fr; Jay W. McDonald, ChE Fr; Richard L. McGuire, ChE Fr; Frances R. Marvin, Phy Fr; Janet J. Nelson, BA Fr; Sheila J. Nelson, Bac Fr; Roger L. Rickard, Phy Fr; Phillip M. Rinard, PH Fr; Joyce M. Rogers, Mth Fr; Janet K. Schrock, EEd Fr; Martha J. Steps, HEJ Fr; Donna S. Stratton, HE Fr; and Eric C. Duesing, NE Fr.

The Putnam scholarship, established by Dr. L. Irene Putnam in memory of her husband, Henry J. Putnam, in 1954, is awarded to students who ranked in the top 5 per cent of their high school graduating class and show evidence of outstanding academic achievements and character. The scholars are given a series of scholastic aptitude tests to determine their ability to do scholarly work in college.

All of the Putnam scholars do not receive financial assistance. Some of the awards are termed honorary and carry no financial stipend. Of the 65 scholars on the campus now 20 hold honorary Putnam scholarships. Nine of the current winners are in this category. The others carry stipends ranging from $100 to $600.

"The scholarship is renewable each year as long as the student maintains the high standards demanded by the K-State General Scholarship committee," said Jacot. "Academically, the student is required to maintain a least a B average."

Last years' Putnam scholars made an outstanding record, announced Jacot. Of the 20 scholars 90 per cent of the students achieved an average of 2.0 or better and 73 per cent had an average of 2.5 or better. One student made a perfect 3.0 mark.

Thirty-five of the Putnam scholars are enrolled in the School of Arts and Science and 16 in the School of Engineering and Architecture. Eleven students are enrolled in the Home Economics school and three in the Agriculture school.

Whitney's Size Doesn't Hurt; Relys on Speed, Ruggedness

George Whitney, a speedy sophomore halfback, does not let his size interfere with playing rugged football.

His style of playing may force Head Football Coach Bus Mertes to make some changes in his starting backfield as the season progresses. Experience is the only factor that is not in his favor.

Mertes, fully aware of Whitney's potentiality said, "Gene Keady is the only obstacle keeping him off the starting line-up." Keady, senior halfback, happens to be the leading ground gainer in the Big Eight conference with 132 yards gained in 12 carries.

Whitney, who can run the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds, draws this comment from Herb Cormack, assistant coach—"George is little, but one of the ruggedest men we have. He makes rugged tackles and throws vicious blocks, but doesn't bruise easily."

Paul Deweese, sports publicity director, has this to say of Whitney—"In watching him in wind sprints he is the fastest man on the squad. When you combine

Influenza Hits OU; Bud Wilkinson and Six Players Bedfast

Six Oklahoma university football players, including co-captain Clendon Thomas, were bedfast today with influenza symptoms, making a total of nine who have become ill this week.

Coach Bud Wilkinson also had flu. He was at home yesterday and his doctor said it was not likely he will appear for practice today.

In addition to Thomas, others stricken were guard Bill Krisher, ends Joe Rector and Ross Coyle, lineman Ben Wells, and quarterback Bennett Watts.

Oklahoma, idle this weekend, meets Iowa State October 5.

Line coach Gomer Jones and three assistant coaches ran the practice yesterday for the third straight day. The team drilled 90 minutes against dummies, concentrating on overall polish and worked on some offense formations.

his speed with his hard-hitting style of play, it makes him one of the teams most valuable backs."

"I always had it in the back of my mind to come to K-State," said Whitney, who came here from Highland Park high school in Topeka on a full athletic scholarship. He named Verly Switzer, K-State all-American back in 1951 and a three-time all-Big Seven back as one of his favorite players. "I saw how well he did at K-State, so I came here."

Whitney, who moves with a peculiar skating motion, is rated by Mertes as one of the better defensive players on the squad. His jarring tackles illustrates his love of contact, one of the basic abilities he already had as a football player.

Last year, Whitney gave a good account of himself in the two freshman football games. In the 36 to 13 win over Kansas University he made two touchdowns, one a 70-yard run. He scored K-State's touchdown in a 15 to 7 loss to Nebraska.

While in high school, Whitney won all-State football honors.

Cats To Host BYU Cougars For Opening Home Contest

K-State meets Brigham Young university's football team in Memorial stadium to start a new inter-sectional rivalry at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

The Wildcat's hope to show improvement over their 12-7 loss to Wyoming last Saturday while BYU will be trying to get into the win column after a 14-14 tie with Arizona last week.

K-State has been working on pass defense most of the week because Wyoming hit nine of 15 passes and BYU is noted for a sharp passing game, too.

The Wildcats may pass a lot themselves. Ends Don Zadnik and Jim Luzinski and halfbacks Gene Keady and Keith Wilson are capable receivers while quarterback Dick Corbin three for 82 yards in the opener—best in the Big Eight.

In Provo this week coach Hal Kopp has been leading his Cougars through twice-daily drills aimed at putting the BYU eleven in good condition for the trip to Manhattan.

The Cougars plan to use four of their strong sophomores in the starting lineup tomorrow, in fact, the biggest man on the field will be BYU's John Kapele, 236-pound tackle.

The BYU line averages 199 pounds but K-State owns a slight edge with an average of 205. Brigham Young is admittedly deeper in reserve power though.

K-State has a one-pound edge in the backfield, 172 to 171.

Brigham Young is led by quarterback Carroll Johnston who was the top Skyline passer last year with 71 completed passes for 945 yards and eight touchdowns. With BYU's three best receivers from last year also in the lineup, fans can look for an aerial show by the Cougars.

Two flashy offenses will be displayed. BYU uses a pro-style T formation with the ends split wide to boost passing, and the Cats unveiled a winged-T against Wyoming to roll up 361 yards—275 on running plays.

Adding further color to the contest will be Band Day activities with 35 Kansas high school bands, including 2,080 members, taking part.

Petersons Chosen Honorary Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Peterson of Newton were chosen "Honorary K-State Parents" at a drawing Friday afternoon, according to Barbara Huff, Gvt Soph, chairman of the Parents' Day committee.

This year's honorary couple are parents of not one, but two K-Staters—Karen, MGS Sr, and Kirsten, EEd Jr. The Petersons also have a younger son, Larry.

"My parents were very surprised when notified that they had been chosen as honorary parents. They had planned to attend the game anyway," Kirsten said. "I was just as surprised as they were; I didn't know Karen had nominated them."

Mrs. Peterson attended Sterling college at Sterling. She now owns and operates a dress shop in Newton.

Mr. Peterson attended Washburn university at Topeka and is a graduate of Washburn Law School. At Washburn he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is now a practicing lawyer in Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will be honored at half time of the K-State-Nebraska football game on Parents' Day, Saturday.

Bubble dancers, wildcats, and cannibals ran rampant on the campus Friday as 51 initiates to Purple Pepsters were put through their paces by active members of the upperclass women's pep club.

Cries of "Beat Brigham Young" were heard everywhere as actives requested a show of spirit from initiates. To meet requirements for initiation, the 51 had to get signatures from the entire football team, Purple Pepster actives, and the cheerleaders by the end of the day. The day's program began at 6:30 a.m.

Formal initiation took place at 5 p.m. in Nichols gym.

When not in class initiates were required to be in the Union for all to see. They also sold penny candy and gum.

the Editor:
One of the major problems confronting the students of Kansas State at this time is the matter of the name change. It is apparent that one single group is needed to spearhead the KSU movement, for that reason we have formed Kansas State University association.

The function of the KSUA is to actively campaign for an affirmative vote in the coming referendum decided by Student Council to determine student opinion on the issue.

Pat Loyd, KSUA chairman, explains the purpose of the association as follows: "The only appropriate reference to this institution is as a university. It is our purpose to see to it that our position in the circles of higher education is clarified."

We are asking any group, either student or alumni, willing to help please contact Pat Loyd, chairman, 8-4489; Ed McCoy, vice chairman, 8-3108; Roberta Wray, secretary, 8-4413; or Rachel Skett, publicity co-ordinator, 428.

This group is independent of all other campus organizations and as its sole purpose the promotion of the name change.

KSUA will be available to speak any interested group or organization wishing further information.

Sincerely,
Ed McCoy, PrL Sr. ....

National Magazine Wonders Why K-State Is Called 'College' Instead of 'University'

WARREN KEEGAN, chairman of the Student Council's KSC-KSU Name Change committee, came across an interesting article this summer that could conceivably be quite significant.

It's an article from the September issue of "Compact", a nationally circulated young peoples' magazine. The piece is entitled "Handy Dictionary for Back to School".

The story lists a number of common college terms and their accepted college definitions. One of these terms is "college". Here's how "Compact" describes the word—a word which closely resembles the last word in Kansas State college:

"WHAT IS ALL THIS about colleges, schools, and universities? Well, strictly speaking, a university is a group of colleges all united and working together. This does not exactly hold true any more. Any more, the name does not really indicate the work that goes on. Kansas State college has a School of Agriculture and a School of Home Economics; they might just as well say Kansas State university has a College of Agriculture and a College of Home Economics. The difference, in short, between a college and university lies in the difference between which college and what university."

This magazine is printed in Nashville, Tenn., which is a long way back East. Is K-State such a good example of misnomer that a national magazine should single it out from the many other "colleges"? The Collegian thinks so, and we think most other K-Staters do too.

SO LISTEN to the Student Council representatives when they come to your houses to state the pros and cons of the switch. Go to the referendum the last part of October and let the Board of Regents know that K-State also offers engineering, home economics, veterinary medicine, and liberal arts, besides agriculture.—Roger Myers.

Population Expert Says Nation May Run Out of Living Space

By UNITED PRESS

Compiled By Pat Roberts

Washington—A population expert warns that Americans have been "reproducing so merrily" that the country eventually may run out of living space.

Robert C. Cook, editor of the Population Bulletin, predicts the U.S. population will hit 231 million by 1975—an increase of 60 million in only 18 years.

At current rates the population should total half a billion in about 100 years.

Cook predicted that in time a "600-mile city" will stretch along the East Coast from Maine to Virginia. Already, he said, of this 600-mile area "there are only two stretches—one of two miles and the other of 17 miles—not a part of a metropolitan area."

"Since 1945," Cook said, "our highly mobile, space-happy, prosperity-conscious people have been reproducing so merrily that the Census bureau has had to revise its population projections upward several times."

Integration Continues

Little Rock, Ark.—The second week of integrated education at Central high school began peacefully today. A reduced force of paratroopers, with bayonets removed from their rifles, stood guard as nine Negro children entered the school without incident.

The Negro children arrived at the school at 8:18 a.m. CST in an Army station wagon, escorted as usual by two jeeploads of paratroopers. One soldier, with a pistol strapped on his belt, escorted them from the car into the building. A small group of white students stood on the steps to watch their arrival, but made no demonstration.

About 200 paratroopers, less than half the number who drove back sullen crowds last Wednesday, ringed the school this morning. The naked bayonets which had been fixed on their M-1 rifles last week were conspicuously absent.

No crowds assembled on the streets near the school.

Fabius Decides Today

Little Rock, Ark.—Gov. Orval Faubus is expected to decide today whether he will call the Arkansas legislature into special session and see what it can do about Central high school.

He returned to Little Rock late last night after spending the day in the northern part of the state sounding out state representatives and senators.

A 10th Negro student is expected to enter Central high today under guard of federal troops.

Faubus thinks that Central high, integrated last Wednesday under the bayonets of 500 paratroopers from the 101st Airborne division, might be closed by withdrawing state funds from it.

Then, he thinks it might be re-opened as a private institution, which would force the federal government to withdraw the troops. Presumably, that also would envision throwing out the Negro students.

mes will be tougher after this and we will have to play better to n against Nebraska."

"The field goal at the end of the third quarter gave us a big edge," Mertes said. "They would have had to get three touchdowns to catch after that. If we would have missed the field goal we would have ill been within range of BYU's attack."

"Our line held the inside stuff real well—I think they were bothered by our shifting defense," Mertes continued, "and we ran well on the weak side opposite the flanker on offense."

K-State ran for 345 yards Saturday compared to 275 against Wyoming and passed for 91 against BYU while the week before the ts made 127 through the air.

Tackles Wally Carlson and Jack Keelan were mentioned by the ad coach as "outstanding."

BYU coach Harold Kopp said, "We didn't belong on the same field K-State, we couldn't get out of our back yard in the second half."

"While Gene Keady is a topflight runner and Les Krull a good passer, K-State's line is a lot better than the backfield," he stated. Our quarterbacks were rushed all the time."

Keady, Wildcat halfback, suffered an eye injury when he was evidently poked in the eye by a Brigham Young ball carrier in the 3rd quarter. He had a temporarily paralyzed iris and bled behind the eyeball but was released from Student Health late Saturday night d will work out with the team in practice today.

Ben Grosse was the top ground gainer for the Cats with 66 yards. Grosse dropped considerably from last week's output of 132 to 59 rds and Keith Wilson ranked third in the K-State rushing column th 57 yards.

Domnick Closest Grid Guesser

Robert Domnick, BA Jr., won this week's Pigskin Prognostication contest by edging out last week's winner, Lance Gilmore, TJ Sr.

Both men picked K-State as the victor over BYU by a 27-7 score but Domnick picked the first downs right on the button at 16 and also came closer than Gilmore in the rushing yardage. K-State gained 345 yards on the ground and Domnick guessed them at 249.

Gilmore did, however, come the closest to the passing yardage by picking 104 yards with the actual 91.

Plaque To Replace Steel Ring Trophy

A bronze plaque will go to the winner of this year's Engineers' Open House, according to LeRoy Stayton, ME Sr, Open House manager. Plans were made Friday by the Open House committee to have a plaque cast and suitably engraved. The plaque will stay with the winning department and a new one will be presented in following years.

The committee discussed the fact that there will be no trophy this year. The Mechanical Engineering department won the trophy last year for the third consecutive time and gained permanent possession of it.

The trophy has always been given by Steel Ring, honorary engineering fraternity. Steel Ring lost all rights and privileges as a recognized student organization last year when it was suspended by the Student Activities board until the fall of 1958.

There will be an Open House theme contest again this year. A prize of $10 will be given for the theme selected. Only students in the School of Engineering and Architecture are eligible to enter.

The contest will be October 16, 17, and 18.

Members of the Open House committee are: LeRoy Stayton, ME Sr, manager; Allen Hjelmfelt, CE Jr, general publicity; Gene Bennett, ME Sr, TV publicity; John Hindman, IED Sr, assistant TV publicity.

All Staters Need Injections Of Asian Flu Serum—Lafene

"Everyone, without exception, should get an injection of the Asiatic flu vaccine," according to Dr. B. W. Lafene, director of Student Health.

Dr. Lafene said an epidemic may strike the students next spring unless proper precautions are taken now. So far, no cases of Asiatic flu have been reported to Student Health.

Students presently are not receiving the recommended dosage of vaccine because of the limited supply. However, the amount being given will provide resistance to the flu for a maximum period of three months, Lafene said.

At that time students will be able to receive a second injection of the vaccine, which will provide protection for the remainder of the winter months.

Dr. Lafene said students should receive the second dosage of the vaccine sometime in December. The charge for the first injection of the vaccine is 50 cents. There is no charge for the second dosage.

"Smoking causes all people to be more susceptible to such a respiratory illness," Dr. Lafene said. He stressed the importance of eating foods with high nutritive value, getting an adequate amount of sleep, and keeping personal living standards high.

Dr. Lafene urged that all students make immediate use of the vaccine, while the present supply exists. The vaccine will be turned over to faculty members if students fail to show interest in receiving the vaccine.

Assembly

'Marriage' Teacher To Talk Thursday

Dr. Reuben Hill, widely known author and teacher on marriage and family relations, will be the speaker at an all-college assembly in the College auditorium Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

Dr. Hill's appearance is being made in conjunction with the annual conference of the Kansas Family Life association which will be held in the Student Union Thursday and Friday. The subject of his talk will be "What Holds Marriage Together."

"Dr. Hill is generally regarded by professional colleagues and laymen alike as the nation's foremost authority on marriage and family relations," said Dean A. L. Pugsley, chairman of the Assemblies and Forums committee. The Assembly committee feels that there is no program on the assembly schedule for 1957 that will be of greater interest to the students.

This fall Dr. Hill became director of family life education at Minnesota university. Prior to this he had been a professor of sociology at North Carolina university, and had also taught marriage and family relations and allied courses at Wisconsin university, South Dakota university, and Iowa State college.

Dr. Hill recently investigated the relationship of religiousness to marital success and currently is directing a five year study in Puerto Rico.

He has graduate degrees from Wisconsin university. He has also done postdoctoral study as visiting doctor of philosophy at Chicago university in research methods in marriage, and clinical work in psychiatry at Billings hospital.

Dr. Hill has led family life institutes in several states and has participated as consultant and director of workshops for teachers, researchers, and other leaders in family life.

Dr. Hill has written several books on family relations, including "Marriage and the Family," "When You Marry," and "Families Under Stress."

New Committee Plan Accepted by Council

Student Council accepted a new system for appointing Student Governing association committees at its meeting last night.

The system, submitted by the committee co-ordinating staff, is a four part resolution to:

1. Have teams of two Council members interview persons interested in the chairmanship or secretaryship of a committee.
2. Have the Student Council appoint the chairman and secretary from those interviewed.
3. Have the selected chairman and secretary, with a member of the Student Council, interview applicants for the committee.
4. Have the Student Council appoint the committee members from recommendations of the president and secretary.

Council voted to appoint all student members to student-faculty committees and to designate one member as reporter to the Council.

Susan Mechesney, EED Soph, was appointed reporter of the Traffic Control board. Other members of the board are Keith Burt, and Barbara Huff, Gvt Soph.

Council appointed Laura Langford, EED Sr, chairman, and Richard Payne, BA Sr, secretary of the Traffic Appeals board.

It was decided to increase to three the number of American students on the International Relations board. The deadline for foreign students applications has been extended until Friday at 4 p.m. American students appointed to the board last night are Gale Cross, Mary Lou Ficke, and Virginia Baxter.

Pat Loyd, BA Sr, was appointed chairman, and Betty Britton, EED Jr, was made secretary of the Student Activities board.

Council decided to have the Library Hours committee make petitions available to scholarship chairmen of organized houses and capable persons in other groups to obtain signatures in favor of extending library closing hours. The petitions are to determine the need for 10:30 or 11 p.m. library closing hours on week nights and Sundays.

The Student Health Insurance committee was empowered to study further a student group insurance plan for the K-State campus. The committee was given permission to contact Campus Industries about organizing the plan.

The traditional Tramp day will be on Friday, October 18, before homecoming.

Student Council will invite Kansas university Student Council and the editor of the KU Daily Kansan to a meeting at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, October 22. The councils will discuss the annual peace pact between the two schools.

At American Royal

Lowe To Represent K-State

Barbara Lowe, HED Sr, will represent K-State in the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show in Kansas City October 16-19.

Barbara was picked from a field of 17 candidates in a style review last night in the Student Union little theater.

Sandra Mays, BMT Soph, was second and Sandra Tenorio, Ar 03, was third in the final selection.

The selections were made by a committee consisting of five K-State instructors, one from each of the schools of education.

"I am proud to be able to represent this school and my state," said Barbara when asked how she felt about being chosen.

American Royal festivities will begin on October 16 in Kansas City. The queen and two princesses will be chosen at a coronation ball on the 18th. These three women will stay in Kansas City and reign over American Royal Week October 21-26.

It is not known how many candidates will be competing for the title this year but last year's count was 26.

Barbara wore a lavender ball gown with a cover of ruffled net and gloves to match. It was the same outfit she wore when she represented Kansas in a college queen contest at Asbury Park, N.J., in 1955.

Barbara is from Winfield and is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

The runner-up, Sandra Mays, represented Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She is from Smith Center. Sandra Tenorio, who is from Derby, represented Van Zile hall.

The other two finalists were Beverly Cloyes, SED Sr, and Barbara Starnes, DIM Sr. Beverly represented Pi Beta Phi sorority and Barbara represented Alpha Delta Pi.

The candidates were first judged at a tea Sunday in the Student Union. Last night the girls modeled formal and party dresses at the style review.

Go to Infirmary Door For Asiatic Flu Shots

Students wanting injections of Asiatic flu vaccine are asked to report to the emergency room of the infirmary at Student Health. This change has been made in order to prevent confusion in the waiting room, according to Dr. B. W. Lafene, director of Student Health.

Acting President A. D. Weber Airs His Views on KSU

(This, an excerpt from Acting President Arthur D. Weber's talk at the all-college assembly September 18, will serve to clarify his position in regard to the change of the name of Kansas State college to Kansas State university. There has been some confusion as to what Dr. Weber's position is, and this will clear it up, we're sure.—Ed.)

The land-grant colleges pioneered in agricultural teaching, research, and extension; they set the example in engineering education; they took the leadership in admitting women; they provided the first examples of military training in civilian institutions; though they did not pioneer in veterinary medicine, they now practically dominate this field; they provided a new type of education, which was science-centered; through their emphasis on "learning by doing," they initiated the movement which resulted in the highly technical laboratories, now used for instruction and research in all universities and colleges; they democratized American higher education and opened the doors of higher institutions of learning to the industrial classes.

Thus, in the words of Russell I. Thackrey, the land-grant college and university movement "... made respectable any subject to which advanced knowledge could be applied. It made research, the finding of new knowledge, a fundamental purpose of higher education. Through the development of extension services, it brought knowledge to the people who could not attend college, in forms which they could apply it to improve their standard of living and enjoyment and appreciation of the good things of life."

I should be remiss if I failed to express as my conviction that the liberal arts have an essential place in the land-grant scheme. True, in some land-grant institutions the liberal arts "have failed to find their true role in keeping with land-grant philosophy." At Kansas State college, however, there is an "increasing awareness of the role the liberal arts can play . . . in the lives of all the people."

When one reviews the development of the land-grant college movement and speculates as to the future of these institutions, as I have done, there is always the inclination to come back to current issues and problems. In any event, there is one issue about which I have been thinking recently and on which I have been pressed many times to state my position.

Let me introduce what I am about to say by telling you that on May 25, 1956, speaking as an alumnus of Kansas State college at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alumni association, I indicated my position with reference to changing the name of my Alma Mater to "university." I should like to make it crystal clear that I said then and I believe now that there is no urgency about this matter. It should be considered dispassionately, with due consideration for the views of all who have any interest at all in the implications of such a change.

I arrived at my decision long before "U" Day either at Fort Collins or at Stillwater. As an alumnus of K-State, I would vote to change the name of Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science to Kansas State university. I feel as Edward Danforth Eddy, Jr., said in his recent book, "Colleges for Our Land and Time:" "They began as colleges with limited purposes; they emerged as universities in purpose and fact. This was the evolution of the land-grant idea."

As the College approaches its 100th anniversary, signs of broadened objectives and academic maturity are evident in such things as approval of the Bachelor of Arts degree and agitation to change the name from college to university.

What all K-Staters—students, alumni, faculty, and friends—need to strive for, it seems to me are those elements of character which prompted the great organic chemist, Justus Liebig, more than 100 years ago, to say this of his joint work with Frederick Wöhler:

"Without envy and without jealousy we plodded our way. When one needed help the other was ready. Some idea of this relationship will be obtained when I mention that many of our smaller pieces of work which bear our joint names were done by one alone. They were charming little gifts which one presented to the other."

May I suggest that to achieve the broadened objectives of this institution will require a great deal of all of us. Joint effort will be needed. There are still many charming little gifts which we can present to Kansas State; and all our gifts added together will help to keep her the quality institution of which we are so proud.

Men at MU Find Walls of Gals' Dorm Real Shockers; Man from Wyoming, Flu from Asia Equals Double Dose

By Sharon Totten

SOME MISSOURI UNIVERSITY MEN who have been trying to climb the walls of a women's dormitory have been getting quite a shock. The fences are electrified.

The Missouri Maneater reports that the police picked up one determined fellow who was trying to climb the wall the other night. He had brought his own ladder, and, slightly inebriated, was attempting to anchor it on the fence. According to the Maneater, he was "just sittin' down on the sidewalk tryin' to right himself a ladder."

The Asian flu epidemic seems to be coming in handy for one Wyoming university student. In order to keep a second date one night, he convinced his first date that she had the Asian flu, and offered to deliver her to the clinic.

After a sympathetic "Get well soon!" he was off to his second engagement.

Dear Editor:

The display of our flag at the game Saturday was accomplished with an honor guard decked out in full splendor. However, noticing the manner in which the flag was so slowly hoisted (it took most of the Star Spangled Banner to hoist it), this performance was less impressive than the chrome helmets. The accepted procedure is "Unfurl, then hoist quickly to the top of the staff . . . Lower slowly with dignity."

Jim Booth, FT Soph

Dear Editor:

I have for the past year been reading in this paper

the rehashed arguments and opinions on the cleanliness of the state room.

The two biggest reasons for the untidiness have to do with the general student body. First, there are certain hours when there are no bus boys available and the waitresses are too busy behind the counter to clean tables and remove trays.

Second, if there is such a thing as an illiterate collegian, it hangs out in the state room. Time and time again the staff at the Union has posted signs and put cards on the tables reading "please deposit your paper and dishes on the bus carts as you leave." But the table tops continue to remain cluttered for the next person or persons.

During a rush hour, if a bus boy is on duty, he can wipe off a lot more tables if the patrons remove their dishes.

Cats Get 144 Scholarships To Tune of Over $120,000

By ELDON MILLER

Scholarships amounting to over $120,000 have been given to 144 K-State athletes for this school year.

These scholarships, both full-time and partial, have been set up by the Athletic council, which is composed of Chairman Dean M. A. Durland, six faculty members, two alumni, and two students.

This budget is a little higher than previous years because room and tuition is higher. "The budget was raised to make allowance for this," said Bebe Lee, director of athletics.

Scholarships are made available for five sports: baseball, basketball, football, track and wrestling.

The amount of money each of these sports receive from year to year depends upon the amount of funds available and the experience which the Athletic council has had in apportioning money during previous years.

The Athletic council establishes a maximum number of full-time scholarships for football and basketball. The present maximums are 80 for football and 25 for basketball.

At the present time there are 72 full-time football scholarships and 17 full-time basketball scholarships. In addition to these full-time recipients, approximately 12 football and 3 basketball players receive partial aid.

The other three sports are given straight sums of money with no set number of scholarships to be given. Track receives $10,000 this year while baseball and wrestling each get $4,500.

The coaches of each of these sports decide upon the number and amount of scholarships they think necessary and submit these to Lee and the General Scholarship committee for approval.

Baseball has 9 men receiving scholarships, wrestling has 15, and track has 17.

"The money for athletic scholarships comes from student fees and the gate receipts of sports events," Lee reported.

He went on to say that although K-State received less money for athletic scholarships than most of the other conference schools, the number of scholarships was adequate in both football and basketball.

"I hope that the time will come when our financial position will allow us to include additional scholarships for other sports so we can offer a better all-around program and meet Big Eight competition," Lee added. "Some other conference schools offer more money to these sports than we do."

Lee did not give any figures on athletic scholarship funds provided by other schools because the information was given to him in confidence.

The amount of assistance which any athlete can receive in a scholarship has been limited by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Big Eight conference rules. As it now stands, the maximum scholarship which can be given includes room, board, tuition, books, and $15 a month for expense money.

In order to be approved by this committee, the freshman athlete must have graduated in the upper two-thirds of his high school class or have been in the upper 50 per cent of the college aptitude test rankings.

An upperclassman can have his scholarship renewed yearly by remaining eligible for competition.

Several of the athletes receive no aid at all. This year's football squad, for instance, has sixteen men on it who are given no assistance.

Associated Women Students in Second Year at K-State

By KATHY SCHULTIS

THE FIRST PROJECT of the year for the Associated Women Students will be to host the state AWS conference October 12 in the Union. The organization is in its first year of existence at Kansas State, receiving a charter last spring.

Every woman officially enrolled as a student at Kansas State college is a member of the association. The organization is composed of three branches, legislative, executive, and judicial.

Purposes of the organization are:

- 1) to unify all Kansas State college women;
- 2) to provide leadership opportunities for more women;
- 3) to promote and co-ordinate activities primarily of concern to Kansas State women;

- 4) to legislate and administer regulations pertaining to women in a consistent manner delegated to the AWS;
- 5) to foster a spirit of cooperation and loyalty among women on campus;
- 6) to work toward the improvement of group living among women;
- 7) to work toward adequate and fair rates of pay for work done by women students in this community; and
- 8) to promote co-curricular educational opportunities for women.

THE LEGISLATIVE authority of the AWS is vested in the Women's council composed of representatives from all organized living groups. Houses are represented on the basis of one council member for each 50 residents. The council sets AWS policies and legislates regulations pertaining to women at Kansas State.

The Judicial board has jurisdiction over infractions of College standards which pertain particularly to women. It cannot infringe on the authority of the Tribunal nor is it subordinate to the Tribunal. The Judicial board may call before it any case which seems to merit its consideration and in which the board thinks it can be of service to the living group involved.

Executive authority is vested in the Executive board which will administer the affairs of AWS and assist or provide for assistance in administering regulations affecting women at K-State.

Officers of the AWS are the president; first, second, and third vice presidents; recording secretary, corresponding secretary, and treasurer. The co-ordinator of AWS committees is the person receiving the second highest number of votes in the presidential election, and the chairman of the Standards committee is the person receiving the second highest number of votes in the vice presidential race.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for election to Women's council, a candidate must have a 1.5 cumulative grade average. Representatives are elected for terms of one full year. Approximately half are elected at the beginning of the first semester; the remainder, the beginning of the spring semester, thus providing for a continuing body.

Members of the Executive board also must have 1.5 cumulative grade averages and must have served on the Women's council for one full semester prior to their election. The names of two candidates for each office are proposed by a nominating committee. The proposed slate is subject to the approval of the Executive board and the Women's council. Officers are then elected in a campus-wide election in which only women students vote. These officers serve for one full year.

Names of Judicial board members may be proposed by each representative on the Women's council. From the names proposed, the council selects eight qualified candidates. The president and vice president of the association and the associate dean of students then appoint the four members of the Judicial board from the names proposed. Board members must have cumulative grade averages of 1.5 at the time of selection. The term of office is one year.

The Executive council and Executive board meet at least every two weeks, while the Judicial board meets at least once a month.

Southern Governors Appeal for Understanding
Ike Remains Firm for 'Federal Surveillance'

Compiled from the Wires of United Press

By PAT ROBERTS

Washington—Four moderate Southern governors tried urgently today to salvage an agreement for removal of federal troops from Little Rock.

The governors made it clear they thought Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus should provide the assurances needed to save the agreement worked out yesterday with President Eisenhower.

But at the same time they appealed for "understanding" on Eisenhower's part for possible "unwitting" changes in the way Faubus worded his guarantee to prevent obstruction of court-backed integration of Little Rock's Central high school.

Eisenhower stood pat after issuing a statement last night declaring Faubus had failed to give sufficient assurances under the removal agreement.

The President said under the circumstances he had "no recourse at the present time except to maintain federal surveillance of the situation."

Negro Pupils Have 'Terrible Day'

Little Rock, Ark.—The Negro students in integrated Central high school had a "terrible day" at school yesterday, according to Mrs. Lucius C. Bates, Arkansas president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mrs. Bates said that pencils, papers and pebbles were thrown at the children. She said the girls were shown knives and were shoved.

"When they asked a guardsman about reporting the incidents he just moved away," the Negro woman said. "They (the children) got no protection."

Mrs. Margaret Jackson, vice president of the Anti-Integration "Mothers' League" of Central said "wonderful" when told of Mrs. Bates statement.

"I have no animosity in my heart for colored people but there is resentment in our hearts . . . that never was there before."

Hoffa Gains in Presidential Drive

Miami Beach—The Jimmy Hoffa bandwagon appeared today to be turning into a full-fledged steamroller in the race to succeed retiring union president Dave Beck as top man in the nation's largest union.

Hoffa's bid for the $50,000-a-year labor post seemed to gain momentum by the hour while his opponents apparently were deadlocked in the much-reported plans they were considering formation of a coalition to stop the Teamsters' Midwest boss.

Endorsements for Hoffa from several big delegations came last night shortly after Chief Justice Earl Warren removed the last legal threat to election at the Teamsters convention by refusing a plea to call off the contest. The 44-year-old Detroit labor leader added the votes of the Los Angeles joint council, the New England and the Eastern conferences as the Union's convention went into its third day.

Teamsters' executive vice-president Einar O. Mohn, previously neutral, threw his support to Hoffa at a meeting of the Los Angeles group.

Meanwhile, Hoffa's opponents said they would make another try at a coalition today. William A. Lee, Chicago vice president, won support from the National Bakery Drivers council late last night. However, he failed to show the votes necessary to back up his claim that Hoffa had been "stopped."

Confidential Trial Listed a Flop

Hollywood—One of the most sensational courtroom dramas in movieland history—the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial—was listed as a flop today after the jury failed to reach a verdict and was dismissed in the 13th day of deliberation.

The trial came to a sudden end yesterday when the much-confused jurors revealed they were "hopelessly deadlocked" 7-5 for conviction. Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker declared a mistrial and set October 10 for discussion of a possible new trial.

Whether a new trial will take place remains a big question mark. The prosecution had vowed to "fight to the end" for a conviction but the defense maintained a new trial "will be a shameful waste of the taxpayers' money."

Earth Satellites To Predict Weather

Washington—Scientists predicted today that earth-scanning satellites of the future will enable man at long last to master the mysteries of weather.

These artificial moons will, on weather patrol high above the planet, spot tornadoes and hurricanes before birth. At the same time they will detect clues to long-range climatic changes which in the past have transformed lush regions of the earth into wastelands.

The scientists also say satellites will be able to penetrate atmospheric mysteries of other planets and, presumably, resolve the riddle of whether earth's neighbors can support life of any kind.

Susan Now Steps at Side Of Baton-Twirling Sister

By CHARLENE STRAH

With the selection of twirler, Susan Mechesney, EEd Soph, the K-State band has its first sister pair leading the band. Susan will twirl with her sister Lynn Mechesney, Gvt Jr, Connie Morgan, EEd Soph, and Mary Ann Simpson, Fr.

"I've always twirled for fun, though I've never been a band twirler before," says Susan. "I got my first baton when I was six years old." She was a cheerleader two years while attending high school in Philadelphia. Both sisters admit that they have never had twirling lessons, and Lynn says she "learned with Sue's baton."

Lynn was a twirler four years in Philadelphia before becoming drum majorette of the Shawnee Mission high school band during her senior year. This will be her third year of twirling with the K-State band.

"We've always done things together, but we've never performed together except at piano recitals," Susan explained. They play the piano, and in high school Susan played the clarinet and Lynn, the tenor saxophone. They also played basketball and girls' field hockey together in Philadelphia. Both belonged to Thespians and National Honor Society at Shawnee Mission.

These sisters were separated for the first time when Lynn came to K-State as a freshman. "We were apart for the longest time last summer when Susan went East and I went West," Lynn said. Susan worked as a therapeutic dietitian clerk in a Philadelphia hospital, and Lynn was social director at Camp Cheley in Colorado for the second year.

Both are members of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Lynn is efficiency chairman, and Susan is a member of the scholarship committee. Susan is on Arts and Sciences council and in band. Lynn is a member of the Union Governing board, Chimes, band and is Student Governing association treasurer. She received Phi Kappa Phi freshman recognition and sophomore honors.

As freshmen, they each lived in Southeast hall. Lynn served as treasurer and tribunal member at the dorm, while Susan was vice-president, chairman of tribunal, and on the dorm council last year.

"We looked very much alike when we were little and dressed alike in grade school. Some people even asked Sue if she was the oldest," said Lynn. They aren't so confusing now as Susan is 5 feet 10 inches tall and has light brown hair while Lynn is 5 feet 7 inches tall and is a blonde.

K-Staters Borrow $5,000 To Pay Fall Enrollment Fees

K-State students borrowed $5,000 from the Emergency Loan fund for the purpose of paying enrollment fees during the three-day registration period, September 9, 10, and 11, according to Charles A. Jacot, assistant dean of students, and new chairman of the Student Loan committee.

"Many students anticipated paying their fees with summer pay checks, but in many cases their funds did not arrive," said Jacot. "Veteran students, who receive their first pay checks late in October, found it necessary to borrow money to pay their fees and to continue to meet expenses."

The emergency loans are made for a short term without interest. Most of the loans do not exceed the amount of resident enrollment fees and must be repaid within 30 to 60 days.

A large number of students submitted applications during the summer for loans from the Alumni Loan fund. "The student Loan committee took action on all these applications before the start of the registration period. As a result, there will be many senior students who will finish their college careers and repay their loans when they are out on a job next year," Jacot said.

Science Day Is Scheduled For Saturday

Kansas high school students interested in science will visit K-State Saturday, October 12, to gain a better understanding of what scientists do and to learn the latest developments in science.

This year for the first time, the department of bacteriology, botany, entomology, and zoology are planning displays along with the physics, chemistry, chemical engineering, milling geology, and mathematics departments.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday with a welcome from acting President Arthur D. Weber at 9:15 a.m.

Morton Smutz, head of the Department of Chemical Engineering at Iowa State college, will speak at a luncheon for high school teachers.

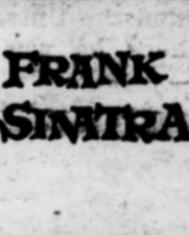

Special sessions for counseling students, conducted by Sumner Morris, head of K-State's counseling center, will attempt to find the areas where students' interests lie.

WHAT EVERY YOUNG COED SHOULD WEAR

Gather round, girls. Flip open a pack of Marlboros, light up, enjoy that fine flavor, that good filter, relax and listen while Old Dad tells you about the latest campus fashions.

The key word this year is casual. Be casual. Be slapdash. Be rakish. Improvise. Invent your own ensembles—like ski pants with a peek-a-boo blouse, like pajama bottoms with an ermine stole, like a hockey sweater with a dirndl.

(Dirndl, incidentally, is one of the truly fascinating words in the English language. The word originated on June 27, 1846, when Dusty Sigafoos, the famous scout and Indian fighter, went into the Golden Nugget Saloon in Cheyenne, Wyoming, to see Lily Langtry. Miss Langtry did her dance in pink tights. Dusty had never seen anything like that in his life and he was much impressed. He thought about her all the way home. When he got home his wife Feldspar was waiting to show him a new skirt she had made for herself. "How do you like my new skirt, Dusty?" asked Feldspar. He looked at the large, voluminous garment, then thought of the pink tights on Lily Langtry. "Your skirt is darn dull," said Dusty. "Darn dull" was later shortened to dirndl, which is how dirndls got their name.)

But I digress. We were smoking a Marlboro and talking about the latest campus styles. Casual, we agree, is the key word. But casual need not mean drab. Liven up your outfits with a touch of glamor. Even the lowly dungaree and man-shirt combination can be made exciting if you'll adorn it with a simple necklace of 120 matched diamonds. With Bermuda shorts, wear knee-cymbals. Be guided by the famous poet, Cosmo Sigafoos (whose cousin Dusty invented the dirndl), who wrote:

Sparkle, my beauty,
Shimmer and shine,
The night is young,
The air's like wine,
Cling to a leaf,
Hang on a vine,
Crawl on your belly,
It's time to dine.

(Mr. Sigafoos, it should be explained, was writing about a glowworm. Insects, as everyone knows, are among Mr. Sigafoos' favorite subjects for poetry. Who can ever forget his immortal Ode To a Boll Weevil? Or his Tumbling Along with the Tumbling Tumblebug? Or his Fly Gently, Sweet Aphid? Mr. Sigafoos has been inactive since the invention of DDT.)

But I digress. We were smoking a Marlboro and discussing fashion. Let us turn now to headwear. The motif in hats this year will be familiar American scenes. There will be models to fit every head—for example, the "Empire State Building" for tall, thin heads; the "Jefferson Memorial" for squat heads; "Niagara Falls" for dry scalps. Feature of the collection is the "Statue of Liberty," complete with a torch that actually burns. This is very handy for lighting your Marlboros, which is terribly important because no matter how good Marlboros are, they're nowhere unless you light them.

© Max Shulman, 1957

Whatever you wear, girls—and men too—you'll find the perfect accessory is Marlboro, whose makers take pleasure in bringing you this column throughout the school year.

Code of Ethics Set Up For College Placement

Due to some questionable recruiting practices brought out by the shortage of qualified engineers and scientists, the Midwest College Placement association has adopted a new statement of recruiting practices.

"There never has been an established code of ethics before," said Dr. Chester E. Peters, director of placement at K-State and treasurer of the Midwest College Placement association.

The Association was the first to adopt a new statement of recommended recruiting practices, and the Council of the American Society for Engineering Education accepted the Association's statement and directed its Ethics committee to revise it for ASEE adoption.

The bulletin prepared by a subcommittee of the College Placement Council, Inc., states, "In the best interests of students, colleges, and employers alike, the selection of careers should be made in an objective atmosphere with complete understanding of all the facts."

The bulletin stressed that the following objectives be organized and carried out by the employers, students, and college authorities: promoting a wise and responsible choice of a career by the student; strengthening a high standard of integrity; developing the student's attitude toward personal responsibility; and minimizing interference with the educational processes of the college.

The bulletin also pointed out the fact, "In his interviews, the student should recognize that he is representing his college, as well as himself, and should be thoroughly businesslike in all of his conduct."

Some of the responsibilities of the employer, as outlined in the bulletin, are contacting the Placement bureau far enough in advance and in sufficient detail so that the college can plan to accommodate employers who wish to interview; providing suitable literature to give students a true picture of the employing organization; being punctual, and making sure offers of employment are made in good faith and with sincere intention of honoring each acceptance of employment.

Among the College Placement bureau's responsibilities are informing employers concerning the number of students available for interview, and the dates of graduation. It is also responsible for distribution of employment literature, and seeing that students are acquainted with the statement of "Principles and Practices of College Recruiting."

The bulletin also outlines the responsibilities of the student, including the fact that in order to prepare for an effective interview, the applicant should read available literature and consult other sources for information about the employer. Another responsibility of the student is notifying a firm immediately should he decide not to accept an offer.

K-State Is Ranked First In Big Eight Grid Offense

After the weekend's action, the Wildcats are the leading ground gaining team with a total of 797 yards in two games. The Cats have run for 620 yards and passed for 177. Colorado is second with a 671 yard total.

In the individual departments K-State end Jim Luzinski is the top pass receiver. He has grabbed three tosses for 65 yards.

Ben Grosse, Cat halfback, is leading in the punting race. Grosse has kicked twice for 108 yards giving him an average of 54 yards a boot.

Gene Keady is trailing Colorado's Bob Stransky in the individual rushing department. The CU speedster has gained 230 yards in 42 carries while Keady has 191 yards to his credit in only 19 attempts.

Big Eight Teams Practice For Coming Football Tilts

By UNITED PRESS

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, stunned by two overwhelming defeats to Washington State and Army, today geared for the worst following scouting reports on K-State.

Scout Dick Monroe said K-State is capable of picking up yardage at any time either on the ground or in the air. He told coach Bill Jennings the Wildcats possess more speed than either Army or Washington State.

Jennings said that halfback Bennie Dillard had been advanced to the first unit, replacing Leo George.

Oklahoma continued to test 13 flu-weakened athletes including ace running back Clemon Thomas today as drills for Iowa State reached the halfway mark.

Bud Wilkinson's squad was out in full force for the first time yesterday since flu and severe colds struck the squad.

'Long Tough Grid Practices Show Up in Games'—Stinson

By DAN KERSHAW

"Our loss to Wyoming in the opener didn't hurt our spirit much and we came back and had a good spirited practice week before the Brigham Young game," said starting guard Jaydee Stinson about the team's playing now. "The long and tough practices that we went through showed up in the game we played against BYU."

Stinson said "The team has improved tremendously since the first of the season and looks better now than at the same time last year, so I'm sure we'll win more ball games this year."

The 6-1, 187-pounder from Lawrence said, "The squad is average size as far as Big Eight teams go, but small in number. Our primary assets are our fast backs."

"Jaydee is our regular right guard at the present and he certainly wouldn't be on the first string if he hadn't worked for it. He is the smallest man on the first string line and he has been able to hold the position down," Bus Mertes said.

Stinson was introduced to football by his cousin, Wade Stinson, who made All Big Seven at Kansas university in 1950 and holds several all-time KU rushing records. But after growing up in KU's backyard, Jaydee decided to come to Kansas State because "I liked the football set-up better at K-State and I wanted to play with Kansas boys."

While attending Lawrence high school, he won three letters in football, two in track and two in basketball. He played on the Kansas No. 1 high school grid team in 1952.

A junior in architectural engineering, Jaydee plans to go back to Lawrence after graduation and work for his father who is a contractor.

He said "I play as hard as possible against every team, but I put everything into it when we play Oklahoma and Kansas. Those KU games are the ones I'll never forget."

Wildcats Practice On Rushing Offense In Light Workout

K-State gridders ran through a light practice last night in preparation for their Big Eight opener with the Nebraska Cornhuskers here Saturday.

The first and second units switched backfields and worked on running offense. There was no heavy contact.

Jerry Sands, 199-pound junior, was moved from center to tackle and alternated with first unit tackle Wally Carlson.

End Don Zadnik was in pads and going full speed for the first time this week.

Three backfield men were out with injuries. Gene Keady was resting an eye injury but will practice today, and Ron Beshk and John Seimos were nursing hurt knees.

JAYDEE STINSON, 185-pound junior guard, is the smallest man on the K-State line but has a tight hold on his position.

Cross-Country Men Run for Top Positions

Kansas State distance runners are working for berths on this year's Wildcat cross-country team which opens competition October 11 against Drake University at Des Moines.

Two lettermen return from the 1956 team, Tom Rodda, Wichita junior, and Jesse Unruh, Pretty Prairie senior. Three veterans who have lettered in track but not cross country also will be running the three-mile chase for K-State. They are Rolland Elliott, Altoona senior; Arlan Stackley, El Dorado senior; and Terry Turner, Waterville senior. At least three sophomores who will add strength are Loren Ray, Wakefield; Charles Carl, Kansas City; and Duane Holman, Topeka.

Allowed five meets under Big Eight rules, the Wildcats have a schedule including three duals, a triangular, and the conference meet.

World Series Starts Today; NY Favored by 17-10 Odds

By UNITED PRESS

Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees and Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves, two of baseball's craftiest southpaws, went out after the opening, and what usually turns out to be the key game, in the World Series today.

Although Ford, hampered with arm trouble periodically during the season, won only 11 games, the Yankees were 13-10 favorites to win the first game and 17-10 choices to take the series.

Spahn, a 21-game winner and the only pitcher on the Braves staff with previous series experience, was manager Fred Haney's automatic choice. Most baseball experts were agreed that as the 36-year-old southpaw goes, so will go Milwaukee.

They figured that the underdog Braves to beat the Yankees, who are used to World Series triumphs, would have to get two, if not three, triumphs out of Spahn.

"But we have other pitchers who helped us win the pennant," Haney insisted, adding a warning "not to sell any of them short."

There appeared no doubt, however, that he was going along with the experts' opinion. With two days out for travel as the teams shift from New York to Milwaukee and then back. If sixth and seventh games are necessary—Spahn could start the fourth and seventh games, as well as the first.

Casey Stengel of the Yankees, like his rival manager, also was shooting with his ace.

"He's got his guy and I got mine," said Stengel. "His man's a wonderful man and been a 20-game winner every since he got in the league. My man's a swell pitcher, too, though, and that's all there is to say."

Ford, who will be 29 three weeks hence, has won four games while losing two, in series competition.

He has been a major factor in five of the eight pennants which Stengel has won in nine years as the manager of the Yankees. Ford has the best overall won and lost record of any pitcher in the major leagues today—91 victories against only 33 defeats.

Getting off in front is the No. 1 objective of any manager and no less than 32 teams in the 53-year world series history have gone on to the world championship after taking the opening game.

Stengel was confident he would wind up with his seventh series winner, especially after learning that two of his slugging stars, Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron, were ready to start.

The first two games are scheduled for Yankee stadium, both starting at 1 p.m. EDT.

YWCA

College women who wish to do baby sitting for faculty wives and towns people may apply in the YWCA office in Anderson hall.

The Placement bureau is referring all baby sitting jobs to the YWCA office this year, according to Miss Helen Bocker, YWCA executive director.

When employees call for a baby sitter, the office will give them names of women interested in work at the time desired. The employer is then to contact the baby sitter. The YWCA office will not make direct arrangements, Miss Bocker said.

Women who have free afternoons, or who can follow a weekly baby sitting schedule are in demand. Miss Bocker explains that many faculty wives want women to babysit during the home football games on Saturdays. A baby sitting training course, including such subjects as safety and health, emergencies, and entertainment for specific age groups, will be conducted by the YWCA service committee, headed by Lydia Chambers, HEN Soph.

NUMBER 16

Assembly Speaker Says

Marriage Becomes a Habit Which Is Hard To Break

"Marriage is a habit which is painful to break," said marriage counselor Dr. Reuben Hill at this morning's all-college assembly. People marry with the expectation of staying married. They marry because of common needs such as companionship, sex relations, and being wanted. When partners live and love together, marriage becomes a habit which strengthens a couple's relationships.

The question, "Why do people marry?" was the first part of Dr. Hill's talk. According to the marriage counselor, people marry for four reasons: to overcome the problems of loneliness, to have a home and children, to obtain social acceptance, and to handle sex hungers. Also, there are some minor reasons, such as adventure, and prestige.

"Once Married, Why Do They Stay That Way?" was the second question Dr. Hill asked and then answered. People begin to think and act as a unit, and think in terms of "we." They begin to share and think of each other. Children help to unite a family and a feeling of comradeship develops.

Dr. Hill said that "hostilities are just as real a part of marriage as affinities." Quarreling is a proper method of solving problems which cannot be solved by intellectual discussions. People must let off tensions and air their views. "Successful conflicts bind marriages," he said.

Dr. Hill also stressed that "no marriage is a good marriage until tested with serious trouble or crisis." Some marriages fail when they are confronted with a crisis, but other marriages are stronger after a crisis has occurred.

Dr. Hill emphasized his belief by reviewing the points he stressed: couples begin marriage expecting success; marriage is built around pairs; couples find satisfaction of many adult needs; marriage becomes a habit which is painful to break.

K-State Rifle Team To Host Nebraska

The K-State Army ROTC rifle team will host the riflers from Nebraska university this Saturday at 10 a.m. on the Military Science shooting range.

This is the second shooting match of the year for K-State. Last Saturday they outshot Pittsburgh State Teachers college 1,833-1,740. Kenneth Veraska, ME Sr, was the high individual scorer with 376 points. Five hundred points constitutes a perfect score.

The squad, coached by Capt. James R. Anderson, has a present membership of 21. In order to qualify for the rifle team a cadet must register a score of 330 in target practice.

The 10 men who will probably represent K-State in this Saturday's shoot are Veraska, William F. Balfanz, Thurston Banks, Walter D. Eustace, Herman T. Kamerman, Richard H. Lenhart, Paul C. Parsons, Earl W. Rand, Vail I. Sullens, and Larry D. Jefferies.

The other squad members are Bill G. Davis, ME Soph; Douglas K. Erway, Kenneth D. Essleton, Charles D. Gunn, Royce D. Kellner, Charles A. McCabe, Merrell E. Mikesell, Donald C. Potter, Donald D. Schroeder, Larry D. Thirsk, and Frank R. Tomon.

Games Manager Admits September 22 Robbery

Severt E. (Andy) Anderson, 23-year-old Student Union games manager, yesterday confessed to the September 22 night-time theft of more than $2,000 from the Union business office safe.

Dick Rogers, Riley county attorney, said a charge of grand larceny would be filed against Anderson, who broke down under a lie detector test at Topeka yesterday.

Anderson came under suspicion early as one of the three Union employees who would have been in the best position to have taken the money. He, the night manager, and the cashier were taken to Topeka Wednesday morning for the lie detector test.

Anderson told investigating officials that he returned to the Union following the Saturday night closing to pick up some of his books to study over Sunday. He stopped by the business office to check the day's receipts for the games area and said he noticed the safe, checked it, and found that the cashier had forgotten to lock it. He said he "just couldn't resist the temptation" to help himself to the three cash boxes, which Union officials later estimated contained $2,180.75. He then opened a business office window to make it appear he had left that way, hid part of the money in the Union, and buried two of the cash boxes three miles east of Manhattan. He threw the third cash box, containing checks, into the Kaw river from the Pillsbury bridge east of Manhattan.

Anderson had been an employee of the Union since it opened and games manager since the fall of 1956. Loren Kottner, Union director, said Anderson had had marital troubles and that he and his wife were divorced this summer. Kottner said he understood Anderson was rather heavily in debt, too.

Anderson told officers he had taken only a little money for himself and said that he would completely replace the missing funds.

A native of White City, Anderson graduated from White City high school in 1951. He originally enrolled at K-State in the pre-veterinary curriculum, then switched into business administration after going to work for the Union. He has taken a few courses each semester since then.

Investigation of the robbery was handled by campus traffic and security officer Roger Ward and W. F. Cowan, of the Kansas Bureau of Investigation.

'Andy' Suspected from Start Says Campus Cop Ward

"We were reasonably certain Anderson was our man the first time we questioned him," said K-State patrolman Roger Ward.

Ward and Kansas Bureau of Investigation officer W. F. Cowan conducted the inquiry that netted a confession from Severt E. (Andy) Anderson of the September 22 Student Union burglary. Anderson had been games manager at the Union since the fall of 1956.

"He had too much time to account for and he couldn't do it," Ward said. We had witnesses testify that he was one place when Anderson said he was another.

"We were pretty sure it was him all the time."

Contract To Topeka Firm For Removal of Barracks

The National Marketing company of Topeka was high bidder Monday for the removal of 19 K-State barracks apartment buildings. The bid totaled $7,732, a price of $406 a barrack.

The 19 barracks are to be removed by December 15, according to A. Thornton Edwards, director of housing, so the site can be cleared in preparation for the construction of a 600-man men's dormitory here.

Additional barracks will be removed from the area as soon as they can be cleared of occupants, Edwards said Tuesday. "While students are not being asked to move, the housing of the National Marketing company is not filling any vacancies which occur due to graduation or other reasons." He expects another 10 to 12 barracks to be moved from the site within the next year.

The barracks were moved to the camp at the close of World War II to serve as temporary housing for married veterans. Each building had been converted into four apartments. The buildings were sold, complete with hot water heaters, space heaters, ranges, and plumbing fixtures.

There were 11 bids submitted.

Topeka yesterday, came out of the interrogation room at Topeka police headquarters and told Ward and Cowan, "I did it."

"Anderson denied stealing the $2,180.75 when we talked to him Sunday evening after the burglary," Ward said, "but he was a poor liar. He was highly nervous throughout the questioning."

"Anderson's trick of opening the window to the business office was amateurish and diverted us for only an hour or so. There were no tracks in the grass outside the window so we knew it was an inside job."

"Anderson seemed genuinely sorry he had committed the robbery." The former manager has promised full restitution of all the money spent. It was his first offense.

Over $1,700 of the stolen money has been recovered, according to County Attorney Richard Rogers. "We know there is more of the loot at his home but we were unable to get in because the house was locked," Rogers said.

The sheriff's office is now searching for a magnet to recover a third money box that was thrown into the Kaw river from the viaduct east of Manhattan.

Anderson will be charged with grand larceny. He is being held in the Riley county jail.

Sylvia Gaddie a Home Ec Leader at KS

By SYLVIA DARROW

"The only regret I have in graduating is that I'll not be here to go to class in the new home economics building," said Sylvia Gaddie, TxC Sr and Home Economics council president from Bazaar. "But my little sister will be here in four years to enjoy it for me."

"I think one of the biggest thrills of my college career was the ground-breaking ceremony for the new building. That day, a dream became a reality," she said.

Sylvia plans to be an educational representative for a pattern company. She explained that the duties of the representative are planning style shows and exhibits to introduce new patterns and materials to the public.

This year, Sylvia is president of the Kansas State Home Economics council. As president, Miss Gaddie oversees the various council committee chairmen and helps them with their problems.

She is also first vice-president of the college club section of the American Home Economics Association. In June, Sylvia was installed at the national meeting in St. Louis, Mo.

"It was really a nice week. We went sight-seeing, took a boat ride, and went to see displays of the various home product producers such as General Mills. I've never seen so many exhibits, and each one offered a free sample. By the time I got to the hotel, I had a shopping bag full of samples." Next year she will go to Philadelphia, Pa., for the meeting.

Sylvia's other college activities this year are Mortar Board, and scholarship chairman of Kappa Kappa Gamma, her social sorority.

Last year she was Chimes secretary, a member of the SGA election committee, and Union Movies committee, Home Economics council vice-president, Snowball Dance chairman, Hospitality Days Style show chairman, assistant efficiency chairman and a member of the Homecoming Decorations committee for Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Showing cattle in fairs is one of Sylvia's hobbies. She was raised on a farm and belonged to 4-H. When she was a freshman, she exhibited a baby beef in the American Royal.

Sylvia came to Kansas State because she "just wanted to come here, and then too, my father came to Kansas State."

Ike's Position Stays Firm Federal Troops Remain

Compiled from the Wires of United Press

By PAT ROBERTS

Washington—President Eisenhower said today that federal troops will have to remain in Little Rock unless Gov. Orval E. Faubus changes his stand on school integration and gives satisfactory and unequivocal assurance that law and order will be maintained.

There also must be assurance, the President said, that federal court orders on integration are not obstructed.

The president said that for the time being he sees no possibility of assuring continued attendance of Negro students at Little Rock's Central high school without keeping federal troops there.

He said he thought Faubus was mistaken in what he was doing. He said Faubus was committing a disservice to the city of Little Rock and the state of Arkansas.

Eisenhower expressed his views at his first news conference since the Little Rock crisis developed.

He deplored having to send federal troops to Little Rock in the first place. He said the use of such tactics was not good for the locality, not good for the troops, and certainly not representative of America except in the most extreme cases where force was absolutely necessary to uphold the orders of a court.

To permit unchecked defiance of a court order, Eisenhower said, would be to invite chaos and anarchy.

He counseled a display of patience and tolerance on both sides of the integration issue and he called on citizens to remember America as well as their own private prejudices.

The President made his statements at about the same time that nine Negro students were being escorted into Little Rock's Central high school under the heaviest armed guard used since the first day of integration there. Paratroopers from the 101st Airborne division were back on the job reinforcing troops from the federalized National Guard.

Teamsters All for Hoffa

Miami Beach—Teamsters union delegates appeared certain today to defy AFL-CIO cleanup orders and elect James R. Hoffa their new president.

The vote, which will put the parent AFL-CIO on the spot to make good its ouster threats, could come today but may be delayed by other business.

The final roadblock to Hoffa's overwhelming election to succeed Dave Beck was brushed aside last night when the defiant convention voted to toss in the wastebasket corruption charges by the AFL-CIO's ethical practices committee. Also voted down was a move to make the ballot secret which would have helped anti-Hoffa forces and an AFL-CIO recommendation that officers' terms be limited to four years.

The lopsided vote to ignore accusations in a report by the Labor Ethical Practices committee of the parent union almost insured that the AFL-CIO would boot out the Teamsters in December. The Teamsters defiance to the AFL-CIO is certain to bring action at the federation's Atlantic City, N.J., convention then.

On the first test of strength at the convention here, Hoffa backers outnumbered their opponents by a five-to-one margin. The delegates listened to the report, a blistering indictment of Hoffa, outgoing president Dave Beck, and other top officials, for more than two hours. They seemed bored by it all.

Then in rapid fire action, they thundered a mighty "no" to suggestions that the union investigate the charges. An overwhelming "aye" wiped the report from the convention record moments later.

White Walkout Fails

Tough paratroopers of the 101st Airborne division were back on the job, reinforcing members of the federalized Arkansas National Guard.

The sharp step-up in troop strength in and around the school reflected the concern of military commanders over efforts by teenage white agitators to stir violence against the Negro students inside the school.

Some of the white students said they would participate in a "mass walkout" from the school about 9 a.m. today.

A crowd of about 100 students, who did not go to school today, stood on the sidewalks across from the school yelling "come on out chickens."

Several students came to the steps, hesitated, and returned inside. One boy walked out and was promptly grabbed by an adult woman, apparently his mother, who marched him back into the building.

Union Investigation Revealed

Washington—President Eisenhower disclosed today that the Justice department for some months has been investigating charges of corruption in labor unions. So far, he said, the department has not made a report.

Eisenhower made the statement at his news conference when asked whether the government planned any further steps to curb labor corruption or collusion in the labor-management field. The questioner said he referred particularly to the Teamsters union and the trucking industry.

The president replied that he began conferring with his top labor and legal aides when the corruption charges were first made. He said the object was to determine whether the government could take any further steps.

Absence Reporting Procedure Set Up

A new procedure for reporting absence excuses has been set up by the Administrative council and is effective this fall, according to Albert L. Pugsley, dean of academic administration.

All excuses for illness are to be issued by the Student Health service. This will include students confined or treated at Student Health and students who missed classes because of illness, but who did not report for treatment at the Student Health center.

Students, housemothers, and dormitory supervisors should report directly to the Student Health service any absence from a class or classes because of illness. When the student returns to classes, he should go to the Student Health office to pick up excuses covering his absences.

One copy of the excused absence will be given to the student and a carbon copy will be sent to the student's dean. The student shows his copy to each instructor concerned and leaves it with the Military Science department if he is enrolled in any classes there.

Excuses for any other absences are to be issued by the student's dean. Each student excused by the dean's office will be furnished a copy of the excuse to show to each of his instructors and to file with the ROTC department, if necessary.

Any absence or sequence of absences not excused within two weeks will remain on the records as unexcused.

Future Looks Bright For Qualified Grads

"Good engineers, scientists, and nontechnical graduates will be recruited just as diligently as a year ago, but less qualified graduates may have to campaign more intensively to get the same paying level jobs that they got last year," according to Dr. Chester E. Peters, director of placement.

Dr. Peters recently returned from the Midwest College Placement association conference which met September 8-10 in Detroit, Mich.

He said that salaries of technical and nontechnical graduates will remain stable with the possibility of a 3 to 5 percent increase over last year's starting salaries. Last year engineers were paid an average starting salary of $475 a month. Accounting and business graduates received $390 and $370 respectively.

Selectivity, he said, will be given greater emphasis this year, reflecting the increasing requirement for highly qualified graduates in a more technical society. Top graduates, therefore, might expect to receive somewhat increased salaries.

Dr. Peters anticipates approximately 500 recruiting visits this year from industrial and business concerns. This estimate reflects an increase of 20 visits over last year.

Luzinski Leads Big Eight As Pass Receiving End

The leading pass receiver in the Big Eight conference after two weeks of play is Jim Luzinski, 6-3, 211-pound K-State junior end, who has caught three passes for 65 yards.

Luzinski caught a 36-yard pass against Brigham Young university last Saturday and moved past Brian Dennis, Iowa State end who has caught four passes for 58 yards, and Charlie McCue, Kansas university halfback, who has snagged three passes for 65 yards.

"Gifted with natural ability, Jim has the size and strength needed in major college competition," Pat Naughton, assistant football coach, said. Naughton, who was responsible for Luzinski coming to K-State, is a friend of Tommy O'Brien, Luzinski's high school coach and through him got Luzinski to come here. When Luzinski was a freshman in high school, Naughton was the line coach at that same school.

"Jim is a fine defensive player with a good pair of hands, and has been working exceptionally hard this year," Bus Mertes said. "He has been hampered by injuries, but we expect him to show even more improvement this year."

Last year he was hampered by an ankle injury. In spring football drills he saw limited duty because of the bad ankle.

"I'm glad we won," Luzinski said about last Saturday's game. "The team deserved to win after losing the game with Wyoming. I expect a hard game against Nebraska Saturday."

Luzinski's play was an important factor in K-State's 10-7 win over Nebraska last year. He caught two passes, one which kept a drive going that ended in a touchdown and another which kept a drive alive that resulted in Ben Grosse's game-winning field goal.

"I have no comment about the coming Oklahoma game, but I'm looking forward to the game with Kansas university. This is the only time when you really see a lot of school spirit. KU will be at a definite disadvantage without the services of their ace quarterback, Bob Marshall."

Luzinski, came to K-State on a full athletic scholarship, from DePaul Academy in Chicago, where he was an all-State football player. He has a brother, a special mention all-Stater last year, who is a senior in high school.

JIM LUZINSKI, 6-3, 211-pound junior end, will enter Saturday's game with Nebraska leading the Big Eight in pass catching. He has caught three passes for 65 yards.

Freshmen First Eleven Named by Cavanaugh

Freshman football Coach Ed Cavanaugh has announced a probable starting unit for the Kansas State-Kansas university football game October 26 at Lawrence.

The game has been postponed from the originally scheduled date of October 25.

Named as possible starters are Harlan Leuseler, LE; James Hyman, LT; Ronald Praglowski, LG; John De Caprio, C; Dave Noblitt, RG; Arthur Grob, RT; Cedric Price, RE; Lyle Dragoo, LH; Ray Kovar, FB; Billy Rich, RH; and Dale Evans, QB.

Cavanaugh says he has reports saying the KU squad is a tough one. Last year the Wildcat frosh beat the Jayhawks 36-13.

Commenting on his own squad, he says the line is big and fairly fast. In the backfield the quarterback slot shows more depth than in previous year. He has been alternating Evans, Ronnie Blaylock, and Terry Leek.

Coach Cavanaugh has been stressing fundamentals and conditioning in practice. Also, he says the squad is suffering from a lot of minor injuries, which have hampered scrimmage drills.

Ford Outhurls Spahn As NY Wins Opener

Whitey Ford, a brilliant "young pro," outpitched "old pro" Warren Spahn today to score the fifth World Series victory of his career and give the New York Yankees a 3-1 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves in the 1957 opener.

New York was never behind as Elston Howard broke the scoreless tie by scoring for the Yankees in the fifth inning. New York pushed across two more runs in the sixth and held Milwaukee to a single run in the seventh as they went to a 1-0 lead in the seven game series.

Jerry Coleman was the top New York hitter, getting two for three. Mickey Mantle had two for four. Wes Covington lead the Baves with two hits in four trips to the plate.

Wildcat Gridders Work on Defense

Defense against Nebraska's T-formation was the main project for K-State's gridders yesterday.

Coach Bus Mertes continued to mix his lineups, using the first-unit backs with the second string line and the second string backfield behind the varsity line.

The team's top rusher, half-back Gene Keady, ran at full speed for the first time since the BYU contest.

Pittsburgh Area Generous To Wildcat Football Roster

By ELDON MILLER

If the out-of-state towns were to be rated as to being the most generous to the K-State football situation, Pittsburgh would finish near the top.

K-State seems to hold some magic for many of the fine high school football players which come from the Pittsburgh area.

Ron Marciniak, one of the finest linemen to graduate from K-State, also came from Pittsburgh. Marciniak, who received his diploma in 1955, was an all-conference guard and is now playing professional ball.

A look at this year's Wildcat roster will show three players hailing from the Pitt area; Jack Keelan, Ralph Peluso, and Bob Potoski.

K-State's present gem from the coal mining area is Jack Keelan. Jack is a first string tackle and the biggest man on the Cat squad, standing 6-3 and weighing 224 pounds. "Keelan didn't gain a starting berth until midway through last season, but since that time he has developed into a very fine tackle," said coach Bus Mertes.

Mertes pointed out Keelan's performance in the Michigan State game last year as being outstanding. He also indicated that Jack seems to be getting off to a good start this season. "He played a real fine game against Wyoming," Mertes added, "and was one of the boys that kept us in there."

Another asset from Pittsburgh is Ralph Peluso, a 5-10, 205-pound sophomore. Ralph has worked himself up to a second unit guard spot and has been tabbed by Mertes as a very good prospect. Peluso, incidentally, was encouraged to attend K-State by Marciniak.

Bob Potoski rounds out the trio of football performers from Pittsburgh. He has been serving as a reserve center for the Wildcats thus far in the season.

Mertes said that recruiting in the Pittsburgh area wasn't carried on any more extensively than anywhere else.

Bus is undoubtedly a lot happier with the Pittsburgh area than a lot of others as far as furnishing K-State with football talent goes though.

Ten Huskers On Hurt List

Nebraska coach Bill Jennings conceded today that his football team's role of seven-point underdog in the K-State game Saturday "is about right."

Jennings pointed out that 10 players are on the injury list and five of them definitely will be out of the Big Eight opener.

Those who won't make the trip are backs Larry Naviaux, Doug Thomas and Carroll Zaruba and ends Bill Tuning and Ray Engel.

Art Klein and Don Kampe, both guards, were named as co-captains for the game.

Trumpets, Drums, Torches Hail KS Greek Olympiad

By KATHY SCHULTIS

Flaming torches, flowing togas, blaring trumpets, and beating drums will greet Pi Kappa Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon members and dates as their annual Greek Olympiad begins this evening.

Dinner at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house at 6 p.m. will officially begin the three-day affair. Olympiad queen candidates will be introduced and judged at the dinner. The queen will be selected by a Manhattan alumni from each fraternity and Robert Wallerstedt, president of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce.

Immediately after dinner, members of both fraternities will decorate Pottorff hall in preparation for the Manhattan Duad Friday evening. The Duad will be the first formal of the school year and is scheduled at Pottorff hall from 9 to 12 p.m. The queen will be crowned by Sue Downer Hindman, HEE Sr., last year's Olympiad queen, a member of Alpha Delta Pi. Jim Langford and his band from Manhattan will provide music for the dance.

Saturday festivities will begin at 1 p.m. when "Pikes,"

"Eps," and their dates meet at the tennis courts decked in Greek togas and sandals. Pi Kappa Alpha, Lowell "Buns" Miller, AA Sr., will reign as Caesar. Caesar and the queen will be carried on a Greek litter to the Kansas State-Nebraska football game where they will be royally welcomed by beating drums and blaring trumpets. The entire group will sit in a special section in the stadium.

At the conclusion of the football game, the group will march to the empty PiKA house lot west of Quivera Acres. Two torch bearers will run from the Sig Ep house to the chosen spot, thus announcing the beginning of the Olympic games. Contests between the two fraternities include a tug of war across a mud ditch, "grab the flag" atop a greased pole, and a three-man race.

At 9 p.m. Saturday Sig Ep's PiKA's and dates will return to Pottorff hall for a party, the Greek orgy. The hall will be decorated Greek style and music from Quo Vadis will add the finishing touch. The affair will begin at 9 p.m. and all party-goers will wear Greek togas and sandals.

Entertainment, Greek style, will be provided by members of the two participating fraternities. At 12 p.m. a trumpet will sound ending the Olympiad for another year.

New Kedzie Addition Is in Planning Stage

Wichita architects, Thomas, Harris, Calvin, and Associates, have been appointed by State architect to prepare plans and specifications for the $375,000 addition to Kedzie hall, K-State journalism building, according to Ralph R. Lashbrook, head of the Journalism department.

The proposed new wing, 60 by 120 feet and three stories high, for which money was appropriated by the 1957 legislature, is to be connected to Kedzie hall by ramps similar to those used in connecting the old and new portions of Waters hall, Engineering hall, and other campus buildings.

When the addition is ready for occupancy, the equipment and the personnel of the College Press will be moved into the first level of the new wing. Rooms which will be vacated by the superintendent's office, accounting office and supply sales counter, and the composing room will be used by Student Publications, according to Lashbrook.

The only equipment to remain in the basement of old Kedzie probably will be the newspaper press and the old Babcock Optimus press. Most of the basement of the old building will be used for paper storage.

The main and top floors of the new wing will include a large reading room and display room, departmental office, faculty offices, a lecture room, classrooms, a seminar room, and laboratories for reporting, typography, and news photography. Some classrooms will be equipped for use of audio-visual aids. Other laboratories and activities will remain in old Kedzie.

"The Campus Development committee has recommended that the old portion of Kedzie be remodeled after the addition has been completed," said Lashbrook. It has been estimated that $162,000 would be necessary to remodel old Kedzie. This has not been appropriated. "If the remodeling recommendation is carried through, the Journalism department will have excellent facilities," he said.

The campaign to get a new Journalism building at K-State was started more than 20 years ago by Charles E. Rogers, who was then head of the department. The effort was continued under Russel Thackrey during the three years he was head of the department from 1940 to 1943.

Efforts to get a new building were intensified during the last ten years because of the rapid growth of the College and the great expansion of the facilities of the College Press. The work of the College Press has more than tripled in the last 10 years.
